Observe Good Friday Throughout World

(International News Service)

Special religious services were held in every part of the civilized world today in observance of Good Friday, the day of the crucifixion nearly 2,000 years ago.

In the Vatican City Pope Pius XI led the ceremonies.

Businesses were closed in many places out of respect for the occasion.

In New York the stock exchange was closed for the day as were many other businesses.

No newspapers were published in London and business in general was at a standstill. Good Friday traditionally is part of a four-day holiday ending with Easter Sunday in that city.

Annual Maundy Thursday Program Takes Place In Cathedral Last Evening

DR. MacLENNAN GIVES ADDRESS

Honor was paid the memory of departed members of New Castle Chapter, Rose Croix, at the annual solemn ceremonial Feast of the Paschal Lamb, which took place last evening in The Cathedral, with Dr. A. Gordon MacLennan, orator of Gourgas Lodge of Perfection, Pittsburgh, and pastor of the Shadyside United Presbyterian church, as the speaker.

Seventy-five members of the Rose Croix Chapter have passed away during the past year, the ceremony of extinguishing the lights in their memory revealed. As the Mystic Roll was called, a candle, burning on the platform, was extinguished and a flower was placed on a cross in their memory. In addition to the members of the local chapter, tribute was also paid to the memory of Ill. John J. Carton, 33, Deputy for the State of Michigan, and Frank P. Filer, 33, of the Valley of New Castle, who died at his home in Mercer last summer. W. Charles Sankey, grand secretary, acted for the Supreme Council, with Ira S. Sahli, orator of New Castle chapter, for the chapter.

Traces History

Dr. MacLennan traced the history of the passover from the time of its inception, just before the exodus from Egypt, down to the crucifixion, when Christ gave a new meaning

Fawcett Seeking Sum Of $4,221.57

Another Attorney Hands Bruno Richard Hauptmann Bill For His Services

(International News Service)

TRENTON, N. J., April 19.—Bruno Richard Hauptmann, convicted slayer of the Lindbergh baby, had one more trouble to worry him today. James M. Fawcett, Hauptmann's original attorney, is making active efforts to collect $4,221.57 from Hauptmann, which he claims is due him for services in the Bronx carpenter's behalf before Edward J. Reilly assumed charge of his defense.

Reilly, who defended Hauptmann at his trial in Flemington, served an order on the New Jersey Bar association yesterday asking that the conduct of his erstwhile assistant and new chief counsel, C. Lloyd Fisher, be investigated.

Pope Pius Leads Vatican Service For Good Friday

(International News Service)

VATICAN CITY, April 19.—Pope Pius led Good Friday celebrations at the Vatican today, alternating rites between the Sistine and Pauline chapels.

The Pontiff first heard mass in the bare-walled Sistine chapel. Then there was held there an impressive ceremony of adoration of the crucifix.

The crucifix was taken out of the altar and laid on a carpet on the floor, where the Pope, Cardinals, Bishops, and lower members of the clergy knelt three times. Then then kissed the crucifix.

Following this the group went in procession to the Pauline chapel, and there the Pope took the holy host out and carried it back to the Sistine chapel, where mass was concluded.

Roosevelt Sees Better Business

President Sends Message To Publishers New York Sessions

ASKS COOPERATION OF NATION'S PRESS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, April 19.—Asking continued co-operation of the nation's press and welcoming constructive criticism of the administration, President Franklin D. Roosevelt today sent his best wishes to the American Newspaper Publishers' association which will hold its annual meeting here next week.

In a letter to editor and publisher, the president predicted improved business in the next year. He said:

"We have passed another milestone in the life of the fourth estate. The press associations, publishers, editors and advertisers are preparing to reassemble for their annual business meetings. The Editor and Publisher, as in the past several years, again offers me the opportunity of extending best wishes to those attending these meetings. This I do, gladly and sincerely.

"In the past year, the press as a whole has benefitted materially, due to improved conditions. Additional benefits within the next year are confidently expected.

"That these benefits may be broadly expanded until they encompass other interests and people by and large, I ask the continued cooperation of the press. I welcome constructive criticism of us in government and urge that we, together, continue the battle against depression until there is a real national recovery on all fronts.

"Very sincerely yours,

"FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT."

Will Extend Improvement Of Rural Ave.

Heartily pleased at the vast improvement made with RWD labor and city bought material in Rural Avenue, Councilmen Alexander, Davies and Hoyland today stated the road will be further improved as soon as federal funds for labor is available.

Council plans to widen the new road from where the new paving now ends to Park Avenue. The only spot which will not be widened is beneath the Boyles avenue bridge.

The light at the junction of old Rural avenue and The Narrows will be removed during the next few days and placed at the bend of the new road.

RAINS IN TEXAS GIVE DUST RELIEF

(International News Service)

AMARILLO, Tex., April 19.—Rains yesterday and last night over much of the Texas Panhandle today brought relief from the dust storms that have scourged Texas. The heaviest rainfall was at Childress, where more than two inches fell.

Plenty Of Work Is Needed Here In Repair Line

District Director And Other Officials Of Housing Administration Here

FEUCHTWANGER GIVES RESULTS OF SURVEY

Advertising Is Stressed As One Of The Best Business Getting Plans

With a survey of New Castle's housing needs almost completed, and a check up of country districts well under way, the groundwork has been laid for a busy season for mechanics. This was the conclusion reached following reports of local housing officials, contractors and material men, held in city hall last night.

The meeting was attended by Federal Housing director for this district, Edward B. Lee, of Pittsburgh; Oakley W. Hesselbarth, chief underwriter, Fred L. Aiken, financial director, and J. K. Glessner, sales representative also of Pittsburgh.

J. W. Pattison, general chairman of the local housing committee, in opening the meeting, gave a brief outline of the work done in New Castle since its organization last September. He said that the committee had been fortunate in securing RWD workers to make a survey of the building and repair needs of the city. This work, he said had been done under the able direction of Marcus Feuchtwanger. The cost to the RWD had been about $20,000 and around $1500 had been raised from local subscribers to meet general expenses.

What Survey Shows

Marcus Feuchtwanger, general head of the survey, stated that in the city it has been eighty-three per cent completed. The survey developed 3,505 potential repair and reconditioning prospects. In the country districts the survey has been about thirty-two per cent completed. So far 1,322 homes needing improvements and repairs have been listed. This makes a total of 4,827 prospects.

From a financial standpoint, Mr. Feuchtwanger estimated that if all

Reed Warns U. S. To Remain Aloof

Stay Out Of European Troubles, Says D. A. Reed On Return From Abroad

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, April 19.—Former United States Senator David A. Reed of Pennsylvania, was in New York today after a European trip with a warning to the United States to remain aloof from any European troubles.

Reed, who was one of the American delegates to the London Naval conference in 1930, said:

"It is more than ever important that we be scrupulously neutral and refrain from any sort of an alliance, whether formal or informal. Past partnerships always proved expensive to us, and I don't think we can afford any more."

Alluding to current governmental tactics, Reed declared, "they don't discuss the New Deal abroad. They just laugh."

JURY SAYS GUILTY

Stella Talbot

Mrs. Stella Riddell Talbot, star actress in the days of the silent films, was found guilty by a jury in St. Louis on a charge of manslaughter, growing out of the fatal shooting of her close friend, Albert Frankenstein. Mrs. Talbot, 35-year-old divorcee, testified Frankenstein was shot while they were struggling for possession of a pistol with which Frankenstein threatened to kill her.

Easter Parade At Hollywood

Some Inkling Of What Movie Beauties Will Wear Sunday

PRINTS TO PREVAIL AS MODE OF STARS

By SALLY FRANK MOORE

HOLLYWOOD, April 19—"Hollywood on parade!"

Not a moving picture, this time, but filmdom's most ravishing blondes, most exotic brunettes, and most scintillating Titian-haired beauties in person, staging the greatest impromptu fashion show in the world—that's Easter morning in Hollywood.

Prints in every conceivable color and fabric—but prints, that's the outsanding mode of the stars for their Easter morning appearance at church.

Later in the day, when groups of the cinema's brightest lights gather for teas, cocktail hours and dinners, there's greater variety in clothes discernable.

Expect House To Pass Economic Security Bill By Large Majority Vote

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 19.—President Roosevelt's economic security program was rushed toward passage in the house today.

After beating off the most dangerous threats to the bill, the leaders said it will pass by an overwhelming majority by nightfall.

Roosevelt forces are in complete command of the huge Democratic majortiy, as leaders made loyalty to the president the issue on the far-reaching program.

No. 1 Bill of Session

Carrying old-age pensions, unemployment insurance and other social provisions the measure is regarded by President Roosevelt as the No. 1 bill of the session.

Riding rough-shod over all radical schemes of old-age pension and unemployment insurance, the house approved the voluntary old-age pension system and the compulsory old-age insurance plan devised by the administration.

Adoption of unemployment insurance, approval of grants to states for dependent mothers, children and health work are yet to be acted upon.

Because the tax features are separated from other parts of the measures, a bi-partisan coalition is to have an opportunity to fight the 9 per cent payroll taxes carried in the measure.

The provisions approved are:

Federal grants up to $15 per month for state old-age pension systems for persons over 65 years of age, with state matching required.

Await Hitler's Reply To League's Rebuke

(International News Service)

LONDON, April 19.—"It's still Hitler's move."

This was the reaction of the British government, as expressed by one official today, to Germany's protest against British support of the League of Nations in condemning German re-armament.

The protest, delivered verbally in Berlin to the British ambassador, was answered on the spot, it was said, by the envoy himself, Sir Eric Phipps. No further reply is deemed necessary by the British government, it was said.

London still awaited an announcement by Hitler, expected tomorrow, on what he intends to do as a result of the league council's rebuke. A strong counter-blast was looked for.

Tariff Showdown Slated Next Week

Powerful Drive Starts For Congressional Probe Of Threat Of Foreign Imports

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 19.—A powerful drive for a congressional investigation of the threat of foreign imports on American industry was under way today.

The movement, supported by Democrats and Republicans, centered in the house ways and means committee, which initiates all tariff legislation. A showdown was slated for next week, with administration spokesmen resisting proposals for holding of hearings on the entire subject of importations from Japan and other nations.

All Industries.

While the plight of the cotton textile industry is the spearhead of the movement, the proposed inquiry will cover all affected American industries. Reps. McCormack (D) of Masssachusetts, Bacharach (R) of New Jersey and Treadway (R) of Massachusetts, will again urge action at the committee's next session.

Appointment of a sub-committee to investigate the situation through public hearings is possible, although the committee declined to immediately open hearings.

Believe Social Matron Is Dead

Police Believe Prominent Ann Booth Gordon, 25, Has Died Of Exposure

INTENSIVE HUNT BEING RESUMED

(International News Service)

FARMINGTON, Conn., April 19.—Possibility that Ann Booth Gordon, 25-year-old social matron missing for nine days, may have succumbed to exposure, was admitted reluctantly by search leaders today.

Militia, cavalry and volunteer searching parties continued their hunt but it was recalled that rain and snow swept the countryside the night the young mother disappeared and that inclement weather prevailed for several successive days thereafter.

Mrs. Gordon, after returning home April 10 following treatment for a nervous disorder, vanished from her home later the same day.

Execution Occurs In Public View

(International News Service)

SMITHLAND, Ky., April 19.—More than 1,500 persons attended the public execution of Willie Deboe, 22, convicted rapist, today and heard the condemned man make a long speech and then saw him go to his death on the hangman's noose.

Deboe was the first white man to die under Kentucky's law which makes rape an offense punishable by hanging.

Deboe was placed on a platform surrounded by an 8-foot fence. The platform was high enough to insure the spectators a full view of the condemned man.

Coach Rescues Student Flier

Coach Ed Leader, Of Yale, Plunges Into River And Pulls Young Flier Out

(International News Service)

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 19.—A young Cleveland law student at Yale University owed his life today to Ed Leader, famed crew coach of the Elis, after plunging into the Housatonic river with his wrecked airplane.

John Sherman, 25, the student and an amateur flyer, became so absorbed Thursday afternoon watching the Yale varsity crew practicing below him on the river near Derby that he allowed his plane to crash into high tension electrical wires.

A mass of flames enveloped the airplane, a wing fell off and Sherman and the wreckage plunged into the river.

Coach Ed Leader saw the accident from his position on the crew training launch and immediately dove into the icy water and swam to Sherman's rescue. Leader found Sherman bobbing about and aided him to shore.

Snake Lily On Display At News

One of Nature's oddities, a Snake Lily or Devil's Tongue is on display in the lobby of the New Castle News today. It is the property of Fred L. Rentz, president of The News and was raised by him from a bulb.

In appearance it looks a giant Jack-In-The-Pulpit. The bloom rises from a long fibrous stalk which is about an inch thick. The bell or pulpit is eight inches across and the stamen or tongue is 21 inches long. The height of the bloom including the stalk is 3 feet 8 inches.

The plant is a native of Africa. Some years ago Prof. C. G. Lindner presented Mr. Rentz with several bulbs but this is the first one to come to full bloom. In color the bloom ranges from a magenta to a maroon and in appearance it is one of the oddest plants one can imagine. It will be on display in the News lobby for several days.

Relief Crisis Met For State Until May 15

Expect To Approve Long-Tern Relief Program By That Time

STATE TO TRANSFER $5,000,000 TO FUND

Federal Administration Will Allocate $15,000,000 To Run For Month

By G. EVERETT DOYING
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, April 19.—Given a respite from the immediate relief crisis, Republican and Democratic legislative conferees returned today to efforts to solve differences over a long-term fiscal policy involving heavy new taxes.

Few developments were expected over the week-end, although both factions in the dispute were scheduled to confer at length separately during the interlude. The Republican senate majority will caucus again Monday night, paving the way for resumption of compromise conferences with Gov. George H. Earle.

There was some foundation in the belief that the G. O. P. on Monday will look with favor on the administration's offer to accept $60,000,000 budgeted for relief for the biennium to be spent in one year if necessary. Such an agreement would mean the $60,000,000 would be spent in one year because of federal demands the state ante $5,000,000 monthly.

Legislature In Recess

Both senate and house were in recess for the holiday week-end today. They adjourned after quickly passing necessary legislative pronouncements late yesterday to provide funds for relief until May 15.

The house adopted a resolution offered by Democratic Floor Leader Frank W. Ruth, Berks, pledging

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., April 19.—That was a great flight the Pan-American made. They will do some great work out there. I have often wondered why the army and navy don't make the flight almost regularly.

A night or so ago I went to listen to Amelia Earhart tell of making it. Don't miss it. Her personality equals her flying skill.

Huey has the greatest chance he has had, now. The government is spending too much. A state, if it had the will and the leadership, could work itself out. So, if he refused any money, pitched in and did it, then he would prove something. It could be done.

From Portland west to Portland, from Mexico to Maine, the thoughts of girls run parallel, their ideas are the same. They all are fondly hoping for Easter morning sun, for all of them by now no doubt have got their shopping done. They'll all trek out to service, garbed in their Easter clothes, and on their shoulder you will see an orchid or a rose. For ladies must have flowers, to match their Easter gowns, blues and greens and coral hued, and pinks and whites and browns. So all them are hoping an Easter sun to see, to let them show their finery, the weather's sixty-three.

COLLEGE LIBRARY FUND GROWING

Students Fund Drive Progresses

Dr. Chas. Freeman, Of Faculty, Formally Inaugurates Drive At School

HOPE TO START BUILDING SOON

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., April 19.—Gifts by students at Westminster College are swelling the fund for the proposed new library building, and the enthusiasm and interest of the student body is expected to put the project over. This week has been devoted to the student drive with indications that every student will contribute.

Dr. Charles Freeman, head of the chemistry department and a member of the faculty since 1894, started the drive with a chapel speech Tuesday. Chapel services each morning have devoted some time to the project. Members of the faculty of the college plan to contribute to the project early next week, and many townspeople are planning to contribute.

New Wilmington residents are interested in the library project since 35 per cent of the book withdrawals are for local residents and high school use. This fact and the fact that the townspeople will continue to have free use of the new library means much.

Following the campaign among students, faculty, and townspeople, many alumni, former students, and friends of the college will contribute to the library fund. In this way officials hope to be able to start actual construction of the new building within a short time.

KNIGHTS ROSE CROIX OBSERVE EASTER SEASON

to the ceremony, with his words, "Do this in remembrance of Me. Show the Lord's death until he come again."

The ceremony of the Passover serves a three-fold purpose, he stated. It is a service of remembrance, of exhibition, and of hope. Remembrance of the suffering which Christ endured; of exhibition of the love of God, for if God so loved us, we ought to love one another; and of hope in the Resurrection, to show forth God's love until he comes again.

He said that we cannot measure the love of the cross by earthly standards, and that he who believeth in him shall not perish, but have everlasting life.

The Mystic banquet was observed following the reading of the Mystic Roll, concluding with the Extinguishing of the Lights on the platform by the officers of the lodge.

Prior to the service, Albert A. Taylor, organist of the Chapter, rendered an organ prelude on the big Cathedral organ, and music during the services was rendered by the Consistory Choir, under the direction of William W. Campbell, director.

The ushering was in charge of the Service Division and Legion of Honor members.

List Deceased

Members of the Chapter who have passed away during the past year, and whose memory was honored on this occasion, were the following:

EXPECT HOUSE TO PASS ECONOMIC SECURITY BILL

ance system, under which employers and workers contribute equally to a fund in the treasury expected to reach the enormous sum of $50,000,000,000 in 50 years.

For this federal system, provisions in the bill yet to be acted upon, impose equal taxes on workers and employers, beginning in 1937 at a combined rate of 2 per cent and rising to 6 per cent by 1949, when the tax is estimated to yield $1,706,300,000 a year.

Townsendites Defeated.

Backers of the program of Dr. F. E. Townsend, the California physician, who proposed old-age pensions of $200 a month, conceded defeat for the present session of congress. After the house had buried the revised plan by a vote of 204 to 56, they saw no hope of action in the senate.

The house also decisively rejected the Lundeen "workers employment insurance plan," backed by left-wing labor organizations and the communist party.

Republicans made a futile effort to raise the $15 a month old-age pension grant to $20 and others tried to hike it more. A southern states bloc failed in their effort to temporarily put virtually the whole burden of old-age pensions on the federal government.

A final Republican effort to raise the old-age grant was to be made just before the bill reaches passage.

Washington, April 19.—With administration forces again dominant the house today continued piecemeal approval of the administration's big economic security bill.

Without opposition the house tacitly approved provisions for federal aid to states in establishment of uuemployment insurance systems.

While unemployment insurance was to be subjected to another fight with consideration of the payroll taxes, the first test revealed comparatively little opposition to the system.

itself to approve bills involved in a senate Republican plan to transfer $5,000,000 from special funds. The bills were reported from committee and given first reading under suspension of the rules. They will be up for final passage Tuesday.

Governor Earle, in a special message sent late in the day to the legislature which had been held in session since morning, recommended this procedure after Federal Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins agreed to accept the stop-gap plan as the state's share of relief for a month and promised to allocate an additional $15,000,000 to last until May 15.

Reversal Of Stand

This agreement was a reversal of the stand previously taken by both Governor Earle and Hopkins. The executive and Hopkins previously had rejected the transfer plan as inadequate to meet federal demands that the state provide for relief for a two-year period, and the bills were bottled up in the house.

Decision to avert complete breakdown of relief next month by accepting the plan came when it was apparent no agreement could be reached this week on a long-term program.

Hopkins Is Dictatorial

Washington, April 19.—Pennsylvania, whose "dilatory" relief efforts give Administrator Harry L. Hopkins a "pain in the neck," today faced the federal relief head's stern ultimatum that it must put up $5,000,000 in cash each month for continued federal aid.

Although Gov. George H. Earle capitulated to Republican opponents in Harrisburg and accepted transfer of $5,000,000 from other funds to extend federal help to May 15, Hopkins plainly indicated he would not back down "one inch." The same amount must be forthcoming "every month."

Pointing to Pennsylvania's industrial wealth and ability "to bear the relief cost figure," the government dispenser of relief monies stated:

"Pennsylvania gives me a pain in the neck."

Impatient over the Keystone state's delays in meeting the relief crisis, Hopkins flatly asserted:

"I want $5,000,000 a month. When I get it I will again throw in federal funds. Until that is done, not one cent of federal money will be advanced.

"I do not care how they arrange to collect it, nor do I care if they arrange only for a month, or for six months, or a year or two years, they have got to put it up every month."

the repair work outlined above were done, it would mean the expenditure of around $1,698,000. It is not expected that all of it can be done, but it there is only a fair percentage of the amount indicated, it will mean a decrease in unemployment and better business for the entire county. With regard to the banks furnishing money with which to make repairs, Mr. Feuchtwanger said that he had found them willing to co-operate to the fullest extent. The banks are ready and willing to make loans upon reasonable security. One of the chief requirements is that the man who desires to get a loan have a job and be of good character.

Mortgage Loans

Norman E. Clark of the New Castle Mutual Building and Loan Association spoke on mortgage loans under title two of the present state laws of Pennsylvania. He said that he had found some conflict betwixt the state law, the building and loan laws, and the Federal Housing act. He believed that this conflict would eventually be straightened out.

He also called attention to the future of mortgage loans, which under the insured plan of the Federal housing administration, are almost liquid. Heretofore there has been a large amount of money loaned by individuals. Mr. Clark was of the opinion that the days of individual lending are about over. People will prefer to place their money in good building and loans, and other financial institutions, and have it loaned out on insured mortgages.

Sales Discussed

J. K. Glessner of Pittsburgh, sales manager of the American Radiator and Sanitary Company, gave an interesting sales talk. He said that after surveys have been completed and the lists of properties needing repairs have been made available to contractors and material men, the real work for the latter begins. Those who make the surveys cannot do the selling. It is up to those who want the business to go after it. Surveys show that there are 16,000,000 buildings in the United States needing repairs. Of this number 13,000,000 are residences. There is a field for real recovery in the potentialities of the situation.

Mr. Glessner said the contractor or material man who wants business should go after it personally and by advertising. The speaker believed that the best way to advertise, was for material men to take full page advertisements in local papers, dividing up the space. The full page attracts more attention than smaller ads, and will be found to be a great help in securing business.

For rent and for sale signs furnish a good business lead. The reason many houses are for rent, he said, is that they are in need of repairs. Glessner said that the women should not be overlooked in seeking new business. They generally want their houses looking well.

Figures were presented showing that the fire loss for the past few years has been far in excess of new construction. In 1934 it was $275,000,000. Only 20,000 houses were constructed in the United States that year.

Loans Explained

Fred L. Aiken, who contacts banks for the Housing administration, said that the banks are full of money. They are anxious to make loans. In some cities they have solicitors out seeking loans. But banks cannot make loans to irresponsible people, or people who have no prospects of paying back the loans. Banks handle other peoples' money and must be careful.

He counseled contractors not to take a prospect to a bank expecting to get a loan, if the contractor himself, would not make the loan had he the money to do so. The banks loan largely on character and ability to pay. The man of good character, with a yearly income of five times the loan desired, will have no trouble in getting it.

Stands As Model

District Director E. B. Lee, of the Federal Housing Administration, opened his remarks by paying a high compliment to the efficient manner in which Marcus Feuchtwanger, has handled the local situation. He said that former Gov. Eberhardt, a traveling speaker for the administration, had told him that in 38 states, he had found no better survey set up than in New Castle. It has also been taken as a model at Washington.

Mr. Lee said that the survey provides a golden opportunity for contractors and material men, to get first hand information of properties needing repairs. As a rule the owners will keep putting off the work, but if the advantages of keeping their properties in repair are pointed out to them, they will often embark on work that might otherwise not be done. Better housing is one way of turning the relief rolls into pay rolls.

Mr. Lee also touched upon the financial situation. He pointed out that interest rates are lowest in history, and that banks are bulging with money, simply because they cannot find responsible borrowers. He felt sure that any person with good reputation and regular earning power, will have no difficulty financing either repairs or a new home.

Insured Mortgages

Oakley W. Hesselbarth discussed Mutual Mortgage Insurance. Under this plan a mortgage either for new construction or for refunding an old one can be insured up to eighty per cent. This makes the mortgage liquid for the institution taking it, as it has a loan value of ninety per cent at a Home Loan Bank.

The mortgage is repayable over a term of years, extending up to twenty. Interest is at five per cent. The borrowers pays certain monthly installments which cover interest, taxes, insurance and principal. Mr. Hesselbarth also answered a number of questions asked by persons in the audience.

Schultz' Rise To Power Is Outlined

Telephone Company Official Draws Picture Of Schultz' Domain

(International News Service)

SYRACUSE, N. Y., April 19—How Arthur (Dutch Schultz) Flegenheimer, rose to the heights as baron of beerdom in the Bronx until the government came along to knock the props from under him and he became a hunted man, was described today to a federal jury in his income tax evasion trial.

A telephone company official, Charles F. Poeppe, traced out on a huge map the Schultz domain, from his headquarters on East 149th St. to the widely-flung beer sub-stations, listed as "garages" where the vassals of Dutch served him.

Court Adjourned

At the conclusion of Poeppe's testimony Judge Frederick H. Bryant recessed court in observance of good Friday.

Telephones were installed in all of the places controlled by the Schultz beer running mob and they linked the beer empire with myriad wires, Poeppe testified.

An idea of the magnitude of the Schultz operations was given the jury when Prosecutor John H. McEvers introduced telephone company records revealing that during the year of 1930 to June 22, 1931, a total of 18,839 excess calls was made by Schultz's aides.

The STAMP ALBUM

STAMPS to be issued this year by Great Britain and the colonies commemorating the 25th year of the reign of King George and Queen Mary make the Canadian issue of 1908, marking the 300th anniversary of the city of Quebec, of considerable comparative interest. In that year portraits of England's present king and queen, then the Prince and Princess of Wales, decorated a half-cent stamp.

The rarest stamp in existence is the one-cent magenta issued by British Guiana in 1856. The late Arthur Hind bought this stamp for $32,500. It was recently insured for $50,000.

If you give your property to the poor, that is generosity. If you give other people's property, that is politics.

Deaths of the Day

Mrs. Kiester Funeral

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Nancy M. Kiester were conducted April 12 from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Jay R. Stunkard, Slippery Rock, R. D. 4. J. Harvey McCormick, of the United Presbyterian church of Slippery Rock, of which Mrs. Kiester had been almost a lifelong member, was in charge.

Mrs. Kiester was born in Worth township, Butler county, December 30, 1865. She was a daughter of William and Martha Donaghy Gill. After her marriage to John B. Kiester she was a resident of Keister, Butler county. Her husband preceded her in death 19 years ago.

Interment was made in St. Mary's cemetery.

Funeral For Infant

Funeral services for John Robert Hurn, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. John David Hurn of 1312½ Pennsylvania avenue, were conducted on Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, in the residence, with Rev. Charles Warren Johnstone, pastor of the Central Christian church, in charge.

During the services Mrs. Blanche Smith and Mrs. Anna Cowmeadow beautifully rendered the hymn, "Safe in the Arms of Jesus."

Interment was made in Oak Park cemetery.

Funeral Of Mrs. Green

At 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon the last rites were conducted for Mrs. May Green, wife of George C. Green, of Court street, in the Book-Leyde mortuary. Dr. C. K. McGeorge, pastor of the Second United Presbyterian church, was in charge.

Pallbearers were the Messrs. Patterson, Howard, Ashton, Anderson, Louis Caizza and James Durant.

Interment was made in Graceland cemetery.

Mr. Kennedy Funeral

Funeral services were conducted at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon in the Rose Point Reformed Presbyterian church for the late John C. Kennedy, of 106 North Scott street. The pastor of the church, Rev. McCracken, was in charge.

Pallbearers were nephews of the deceased. Interment was made in the Rose Point cemetery.

Louis Peccardo

Louis Peccardo, aged 18 years,of 424 Galbreath avenue, died in the New Castle hospital, at 1:40 a. m. today.

The youth was a well known resident, with many friends, and a member of the House of Savoia.

He leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guerino Peccardo: four brothers, Joseph, Domenick, Leopold and Guerino: and three sisters, Josephine, Mary and Mrs. Welty Susi, all of this city.

Funeral mass will be celbrated at 9 o'clock Monday morning in St. Vitus church and interment will be made in St. Vitus cemetery.

Mrs. A. F. Cameron

Mrs. Jennie Harnish Cameron, aged 78 years, wife of A. F. Cameron, of New Castle, R. D. 4, died at her home at 9:45 o'clock Thursday night, after three months' of illness.

Mrs. Cameron was born in Rimersburg, Clarion county, July 6, 1856, the daughter of John and Nancy McElhatten Harnish.

She was a member of the Croton Methodist Episcopal church of New Castle. For 60 years she had been married to Mr. Cameron, who survives. They celebrated their wedding anniversary last October 22. Mrs. Cameron was a woman of fine Christian character and was loved and honored by all who knew her.

Surviving, in addition to her husband, are the following daughters and sons: Mrs. C. C. Cunningham, of Van Nuys, Cal.; Mrs. C. E. Hunt, of Portersville, Pa.; Mrs. Lillian Pizor, of Grove City, Pa.; Mrs. J. Scott Munnell, of New Castle, R. D. 4; Mrs. L. L. Sterrett, Akron, O.; Claribel Cameron, at home; Harnish Cameron, New Castle R. D. 4; Donald L. Cameron, Pulaski, Pa.; Joseph Oliver Cameron, New Castle R. D. 4; James W. Cameron, Sewickley, Pa., and F. Willard Cameron, Alexandria, Pa.

The time and place of the funeral has not been arranged as yet. Interment will be made in Mt. Herman cemetery.

Mrs. Novilla Dorissa Stoner

Mrs. Novilla Dorissa Stoner, aged 85 years, died at her home in Scott township at 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon. She was the widow of Samuel Stoner, who preceded her in death in the year 1892.

Mrs. Stoner was born in Butler county on April 9, 1850. Her parents were pioneer residents, William and Mariah Cooper Glass. For the past 42 years Mrs. Stoner had resided in Scott township and was very well known and highly respected. She was a member of the Neshannock United Presbyterian church.

She leaves one sister, Lucy W. Glass, of Harrisburg.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the Neshannock United Presbyterian church, with the pastor, Rev. James M. Guthrie, in charge. Interment will be made in Greenwood cemetery.

Christopher F. Schoenfeld.

Followed a protracted illness, Christopher F. Schoenfeld, 73, of 1716 East Washington street died at eleven o'clock today in the Jameson Memorial hospital. For the past fourteen weeks he had grown continually worse and his death had been expected.

Mr. Schoenfeld was born October 27, 1862, in Girard, Ohio, the son of Christopher and Wilhelmina Schoenfeld. In 1881 he came to New Castle and engaged in his trade as a tinner and roofer. For many years he was connected with such firms as Horton and Whitten and the New Castle Hardware Company. In 1891 he was married to Elizabeth Vogan who survives him.

As a young man Mr. Schoenfeld became interested in the Volunteer Firemen's organization and was one of the oldest men in the Volunteers here in point of service. In 1883 he joined the Vigilant Hook and Ladder Company and during the active years of his life he devoted much of his time and energy to the organization. For many years he was a regular attendant at the conventions of the organization. He was president of the Vigilant Hook and Ladder and had occupied this position for a long time.

He was of a quiet disposition and he preferred the intimacy of a small circle of friends rather than the spotlight of public life. He was a true friend and those who knew him best will mourn his passing. For many years he had been an active member of the Third United Presbyterian church.

Surviving him are his widow, one son, William H. Schoenfeld, two grandsons, William H. Schoenfeld, Jr., and David L. Vogan, all of New Castle. In addition he is survived by two sisters, Mrs. L. R. Mateer, of Girard, O., and Mrs. Tillie Keefer, of Cleveland, O. One brother and three sisters preceded him in death.

Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon, April 22, from his late home at 1716 East Washington street. Interment will be in Oak Park.

Government Will Take Over Relief Work In Georgia

Georgia Governor Lets Loose New Blast At New Deal

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 19.—The federal government will take over the administration of all relief in Georgia, Harry L. Hopkins, relief administrator, announced today.

All federal funds for direct relief, Hopkins said, will be discontinued not later than June 1.

Atlanta, Ga., April 19.—Governor Eugene Talmadge (D), of Georgia, persistent critic of the New Deal, unleashed a new blast today in his controversy with the federal government, defying the administration to keep Georgia from getting its share of the $4,800,000,000 work relief fund and refusing to retract his reflections on President Roosevelt which yesterday caused a sensation.

The governor said:

"I have no fear that Georgia will not get its part of the $4,800,000,000 fund. We have an able delegation in congress who will be able to take care of our rights in the matter."

SHOWER AT McCARTNEY HOME HONORS BRIDE

One of the loveliest parties of the Easter season, was the shower given Thursday evening by Mrs. R. G. McCartney at her Mt. Jackson home, honoring her sister, Mrs. Ted Kerr, whose marriage was announced recently.

The affair interested five tables of bridge players, who were secretly ushered into the McCartney living room and surrounded the honored one in a most unexpected fashion. She was taken by complete surprise, and at this time, a collection of attractively wrapped packages, were given her. When opened, she found an array of beautiful miscellaneous gifts.

Card playing followed, and at the close of the contests, prizes were awarded to Mrs. Ted Kerr, Mrs. Elizabeth Andrews, Mrs. Guy Lewis and Mrs. Evelyn Hoyland.

A dainty color scheme of yellow and white combined with Easter novelities, were used in the rearranging of the small tables where a delicious lunch was later served. The hostess was assisted by her mother, Mrs. William Anderson and Miss Margaret Pieffer. Bouquets of snapdragons and yellow roses, were used as centerpieces.

Miss Mildred Romigh of Rochester, Pa., was an out of town guest, who shared.

Theta-Nu Club Entertained.

Sewing and chat provided amusement for members of the Theta-Nu club Thursday evening in the home of Hazel Steinbrink, Cunningham avenue. As a special guest they had Mrs. F. C. Druschel of Warren, O., the house guest of Mrs. R. E. McGaffic, Pearson street.

Mrs. Genevieve Johns assisted the hostess in serving a dainty menu of refreshments at the close of the evening.

Owing to the fact the date of their next regular meeting falls on Memorial Day, May 30, definite announcement will be made later regarding the next gathering.

ELECTION AND TALK FEATURE ART MEETING

Mrs. S. D. Pearson opened her home on Moody avenue Thursday afternoon for the meeting of the Art club, at which officers were elected for the ensuing year. Mrs. G. W. Short was re-elected president; Mrs. J. A. McNeill, first vice; Mrs. Roy F. Conway, second vice; Mrs. C. Lee Mellinger, secretary; Mrs. C. G. Snyder, treasurer.

The program following was featured with a most interesting talk on the subject of "Silver" by Francis Keating of Pittsburgh, who told of early history and growth of values up to the present day. Mr. Keating illustrated his discourse with an exhibit of rare pieces.

A change has been made in the date for the May meeting. It will be held on the 23rd, at the home of Mrs. H. R. McCulloch at Walmo.

MANY WILL ATTEND FIELD CLUB EVENT

It is evident that many out of town guests as well as a large number from the immediate vicinity, will be present at the Field Club on Monday evening, to share the annual Easter frolic arranged by the club social committee.

Also, adding further interest, all indications show that the young college students home for the holiday period, will make the Field Club their mecca on this date. An excellent orchestra has been engaged for the occasion, and the ballroom will have a festive air with its spring decoration.

T. M. T. Club

Members of the T. M. T. club were charmingly entertained by Miss Lucille Lombardo, of Harrison street, last evening. The pastimes of the evening included music and a discussion of popular topics of the day. The hostess served dainty refreshments during the course of the evening.

JUNIOR CLUB HEARS OF PROFESSIONAL WOMEN

Professional Women was the theme of Thursday evening's meeting of Junior Women's club in the home of Miss Elizabeth Wallace, at Parkstown Corners, several classifications being discussed in interesting papers.

Miss Elma Robinson arranged the program, with Miss Marjorie Wettich telling about the Teaching Profession: Miss Belle Offutt, Nursing; Miss Helen Lapish, Secretaries. As both the president, Miss Ruth Sample, and the vice president, Mrs. Dale Andrews, were absent last evening, the secretary, Miss Marjorie Wettich was in the chair for the business session.

The next meeting will take place May 2, at the home of Miss Belle Offutt, North Mercer street, with Miss Esther Levine arranging the program.

WHITE SHRINE MEMBERS HAVE INFORMAL PARTY

Following the regular meeting of White Shrine members Thursday evening in the Cathedral lodge room, an informal social event took place, that proved most enjoyable.

The occasion was in the form of a bingo entertainment, with numerous prizes being awarded to winners. At conclusion of this feature, an appetizing lunch consisting of sandwiches of many varieties, and coffee, were served.

Mrs. Alice Steen was chairman of the evenings contests, and those in charge of the refreshments, included Mrs. Edna Crain, Mrs. Prudence Bailey and Mrs. Estelle Weddell.

Their next meeting, will take place Thursday, May 2, at the Cathedral.

YOUNG GIRLS FORM SHIRLEY TEMPLE CLUB

To be strictly up-to-date, a group of young girls on the East Side have organized a new social group which they have decided to call the Shirley Temple club.

During the Easter holidays they are meeting for organization and Thursday they will gather in the home of Thelma Moon, on Temple avenue for a pleasure period of games and music, with dainty refreshments later. Next Monday they will be guests of Ilene Kelly, of Maryland avenue, when they will decide upon a regular day of meeting after school.

In the club so far are Ilene Kelly, June Syling, Sylvia Lee Vaughn, Cynthia Lyons, Martha Mockel and Thelma Moon.

De-La-Kard-Klub

Last evening Dorothy Boughter of East Washington street entertained the De-La-Kard-Klub associates, and two guests, Dorothy Daugherty and Mary Elizabeth Norris. The latter was winner of the bridge prize, which held their attention during the early hours.

A tasty repast served by the hostess at a table prettily appointed in Easter suggestions, concluded activities. She was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Boughter, with the menu.

In two weeks Ruth Carr of the Youngstown road will entertain.

VETS AUXILIARY PLANS ACTIVITIES

Plans for coming activities of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Harry L. McBride Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, were outlined at the meeting in the Legion Home last evening.

Reports were also received from recent events, the card party being reported on by Mrs. Reba LaRue, who also outlined the plans for the Mother's Day banquet on May 8, in honor of the mothers of members of the post and auxiliary and gold star mothers.

The obligation was given Mrs. Anna Linsey Gorst, Gold Star mother.

Reports on hospitalization were given by Mrs. Betty Stoner(hospitalization chairlady. President Ruth Conner, gave a report on the recent Tri-County Council meeting.

Plans for the Americanization program, which are virtually complete, were announced by Mrs. Maude Nolan, Americanization chairlady. This program will take place Wednesday evening, April 24. Practice for the program will be held Monday evening at 8 o'clock, at the Legion Home.

The meeting closed without ceremony so that members might go to the home of Jesse Kennedy, of Richelieu avenue, to pay respect to the memory of William J. McCune former member of Harry L. McBride post, who was killed in an automobile accident at Castlewood early this week.

The auxiliary received a communication from Margaret Armstrong department legislative chairman, urging that the auxiliary stand back of the post, in supporting the Patman Bill for payment of the Adjusted Compensation.

READING CIRCLE '06 NAMES NEW OFFICERS

New officers were named at the meeting of the Reading Circle of '06 Thursday afternoon, in the home of Mrs. L. T. Moore, on Morton St. Mrs. J. A. Wilson will be president: Mrs. Sherman Kitson, first vice: Mrs. E. C. Morrow, second vice: Mrs. Mrs. L. T. Moore, recording secretary: Mrs. P. K. Fike, corresponding secretary: Mrs. M. P. Book, treasurer.

Favorite recipes were given in answer to roll call and a most interesting paper entitled "Do You Know Your Evergreens" was read by Mrs. Kitson. Miss Martha Axe delighted the group with piano selections. Concluding the program, the hostess served light refreshments, daintily appointed in Easter colors.

On May 2, the next meeting will be with Mrs. G. G. Orr, of Hillcrest avenue.

FAREWELL HONOR FOR MRS. TONER

Mrs. R. W. Brehm, of Englewood avenue, entertained in her home last evening, as a courtesy to Mrs. W. J. Toner, of Fairfield avenue, who is leaving with her husband soon for Beaver, Pa., where they will make their future home.

Two tables of bridge were in play, Mrs. Clarence Davis receiving the high score award. Mrs. Toner was presented with the guest gift.

Later in the evening, the guests were invited to the dining room, where a delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Brehm, assisted by Mrs. Charles Moore and Miss Mary Moore.

Polish Talcons

The Komisya Sokolic of the Polish Falcons, Nest 146, met Wednesday evening for their regular business and social session, in Falcon Hall. Vice president Stella Cwynar, presided over routine work. The entertainment was in charge of Agnes Golis. Elizabeth Golis and Ida Kurdupska, hostesses, who served a delicious menu of refreshments.

A cordial welcome was given their guest of honor, Josephine Biedka, who recently returned from Rochester, N. Y., where she has been visiting the past seven months.

Games and various amusements, occupied the remaining hours.

On Wednesday, May 1, the group will meet again. Hostesses for this date, will be Mrs. Bertha Augustin, Jennie Biedka and Martha Boron.

Reunited Ladies League.

Mrs. Mary Wyman, Maryland avenue, was hostess to Reunited Ladies League associates last night. A business period was conducted when plans for a bingo party were completed, the event to be held on Wednesday evening, April 24, at the residence of Mrs. Belle Clark, Neshannock avenue.

Diversion was found in a bingo contest, prizes falling to Mrs. Elsie Phillips, Mrs. Orville VanHorn and Mrs. Freda Brickner.

Lunch was served at a late hour, the hostess being assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Elsie Phillips.

In two weeks, Mrs. Margaret Hartman of 206 Crawford avenue will entertain.

Jolly Twelve Club

Mrs. D. T. Andrews of Round street, pleasantly received members of the Jolly Twelve club in her home last evening, marking their regular session. A short business discussion was conducted, with an enjoyable social time following. Cards featured, and lovely prizes were carried off by Mrs. George Jones and Mrs. Frank Meyers.

In serving a dainty menu of refreshments, the hostess used an attractive color scheme of yellow and green, suggestive of the Easter holidays. Cut flowers formed the table centerpiece.

In two weeks, Mrs. Charles Rincy of Superior street, will have the women at her residence.

To Present "Children's Hour"

Members of the Woman's club who were privileged to meet Mrs. Howard H. Parker of Carrick, Monday, when she accompanied Mrs. John M. Phillips ,state Federation president, to this city, will be interested to know that she is one of the three prominent members of the Mothers' club of Carrick (of which she is a former president) who collaborated in writing the continuity for a "Children's Hour" which will be presented Friday evening in the Carrick high school, as a prominent feature of a big benefit affair, stressing the idea of boosting the home town.

CLUB CHANGES NAME AND HONORS MEMBERS

Associates of the F. O. F. club, assembled in the home of Mrs. Chester Johnson, Madison avenue, last evening for an informal social time. They decided to change the name of the organization, and from now on they will be identified as the T. J. N. club members.

Special guests were Mrs. Wendell McClurg and Mrs. Merle Adams.

After an informal period of fancy work and chat, the hostess served a delicious lunch. A bouquet of cut flowers, combined with a color scheme of yellow and white, made an attractive table. During this time, two members, Mrs. Anna Johnson and Mrs. Ralph Taylor were each presented with a lovely gift, in remembrance of their birthday anniversaries.

Mrs. J. Yates and Mrs. Mary Miller were aides to the hostess throughout the evening.

On Thursday, May 16, the club will meet with Mrs. Harvey Mollenkofph of Mt. Jackson.

Queen Sewing Circle

Mrs. William Crowe of Dewey avenue, entertained as guests in her home Thursday afternoon, members of the Queen Sewing Circle. A jovial time was spent informally with fancywork, chat and music. A short business discussion ensued.

A tempting lunch was served, the hostess having for her aide, Mrs. Mildred Crowe.

Their next gathering in two weeks, will be with Mrs. C. J. Kenehan, 1120 Federal street.

RETURN HOME FROM SOUTHERN TOUR

After a six weeks motor trip through the far west and Mexico, Miss May Emma Hoyt and Frank S. Hoyt, of East Winter Avenue, have returned home. At San Antonio, Texas, they made arrangements to have their car sent on and took the train.

While they did not get into much of the dust storm area they saw evidence of it in New Mexico. In the Sierra mountains they encountered snow and saw the flooded areas of Arkansas and Mississippi.

The desert is a beautiful sight at this time of year. Desert blooms are out and the spectacle is an entrancing one. While they were in Southern California they motored on down into old Mexico. Returning they took the southern route home.

Returning From South

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wood, formerly of Fairfield avenue, are expected to return to New Castle Saturday, from a several months sojourn in St. Petersburg, Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Clements, of Winter avenue, who have also been in St. Petersburg for some time will be home in a day or so.

Pittsburgh Guest

Mrs. Clifford A. Lake, of Pittsburgh, nee Betty Hudson, formerly of this city, was the guest Thursday of Miss Ruth Woodworth, of East North street.

S. O. B. Kensington

Mrs. Olive Hoover of Hemlock street entertained the S. O. B. kensington Thursday, at an all-day session. A tasty tureen dinner was served at noon, and the hours that followed were carried on with the usual amount of quilting and chat.

Hostess to Classmates

Miss Mary Ellen Campbell proved a charming hostess Thursday to her associates in the economic class of senior high school when she entertained at her residence, 125 Adams street, at an Easter party.

The hours were pleasantly whiled away informally, and at an appropriate time the hostess served a dainty menu. Easter colors prevailed in all the appointments used in the menu and table decorations.

Taking Motor Trip

Dr. Mary J. Baker, of South Mill street, and Miss Helen Wilson, of East Lincoln avenue, are taking advantage of the Easter holidays for a motor trip through Virginia.

Saturday

Daughters 1812, Mrs. W. H. Luikart, Meyer avenue.

Kupple Kard Klub, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Kemp, Castlewood.

MISS DOROTHY BOYLES HOSTESS TO SIN-MAR

Mrs. Lloyd Keely and Miss Barbara Bratschie were special guests of the Sin-Mar-Bridge Club members Thursday evening, at a lovely party given by Miss Dorothy Boyles. The occasion took place at a downtown tea room, and the leisure hours were enjoyably spent in playing bridge. Mrs. Keely was the fortunate winner of the high score prize.

A tasty lunch was served at tables nicely arranged, which brought the evening to a close. Plans for their next gathering will be announced at a later date.

Moonlight 500 Club

Members of the Moonlight 500 club postponed their meeting scheduled for Thursday evening until a later date, which will be announced.

Current Events Class.

Current Events class will have the regular meeting Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Carmi Glover, 309 East Falls street.

NOTICE

On and after May 1st. 1935, the number of Silver Dust box tops needed to get Silver Dust stockings and dish towels will be as follows: One pair of sheer silk, full-fashioned hose for 30 Silver Dust box tops. One fast drying dish towel for six Silver Dust box tops. Until May 1st, the present liberal offer still holds good. Mail tops to Silver Dust, 88 Lexington Avenue, New York City.

TO HAWAII IN LESS THAN 18 HOURS

FOR the first time in aviation history a great plane has landed mail in Hawaii. Six previous successful flights were significant in that they were daring experiments of a pioneer nature. But the Pan-American ship of the air that has covered the distance of 2400 miles between California and Honolulu in less than 18 hours carried with it the promise of a regular service that is to be extended across the Pacific to China.

Pan-American is no stranger to the high seas. The company long ago linked Florida with certain islands of the Caribbean and South American ports. It is now extending its operations to the Pacific. For four years it has been experimenting. Without fuss or feathers, but merely as the ordinary work of a day, its crew has shown what private enterprise can accomplish when given a fair opportunity.

Wonderful progress has been made since Lindbergh fired the imagination by his solo flight from New York to Paris. That was to be expected in construction. But it is the inventive genius that has wrought marvels. It was the Navy Department that first tested flying blind through fog to a landing field guided by the radio or directional compass. It is private enterprise that has improved upon it, and it has been left for the Pan-American Clipper to utilize a new radio compass which brought the ship to its destination as truly as a homing pigeon returns to its loft.

Only a day or two ago a steamship put ashore an engineering party at the Midway Islands to prepare a landing field. Other fields at Wake Island, Guam and Manila will bridge the space to China. The jump to Honolulu is the longest. Presently, therefore, we shall be reading of successful flights clear across the Pacific. The age of aviation wonders has scarcely begun.

STILL A MIGHTY HITTER

For the time being we will pass hastily over the news from Stresa and Geneva, Berlin and Paris, London and Washington and the other scenes of events of international importance, and centre our attention upon the tidings from Boston, where momentous happenings are reported.

Mr. Ruth, vice president of the Braves, the hollow shell of a once-mighty frame, the wraith of a wonder man, has been up to his old tricks. In the first game of the season he has knocked his first home run of the season, also a single which sent in another run, and all this has been accomplished against the great Carl Hubbell.

This is the best of news and sends a glow of warmth through the sympathetic soul. Also, it holds out the hope that this will be a pleasant summer, even though certain changes make it necessary to transfer our attentions from the Yankee Stadium in New York to Boston, the new home of an old idol.

WHAT IS INTRASTATE?

Early determination by the supreme court of the constitutionality of the national recovery act is presaged by the granting of the writ of certiorari asked for in the Schechter poultry case of Brooklyn. It should settle once and for all the validity of many phases of the recovery program. Particularly is this true of the fundamental question of whether manufacturing so affects interstate commerce as to come within the power of the federal government to regulate it.

According to the decision of the circuit court of appeals in the Schechter case, manufacturing is solely an intrastate function and therefore not embraced by the commerce clause of the constitution. That was the view also held by the courts of original jurisdiction in the Belcher lumber case and the Weirton steel case.

Taking its place alongside these recent lower court decisions is that of Federal District Court Judge Dawson of Kentucky holding unconstitutional the Kerr-Smith law to control tobacco production by resort to taxation. Inferentially the reasoning he applied was that if manufacturing and mining were intrastate, then so was the cultivation of products from the soil.

Whether the main prop of both the NRA and the AAA shall stand or fall depends upon the final answer to the question of what is intrastate and what is interstate. That answer, against the body of supreme court opinion through the years, would appear to hang upon the implication that the highest tribunal may give to the declaratory clause of an existing emergency.

BE WARY ON HITCH HIKERS

With the number of hitch hikers steadily increasing as warm weather nears motorists are warned by the Pennsylvania Motor Federation to use caution in giving rides to strangers.

Many of those soliciting rides are traveling from place to place seeking employment, the federation says, but among these are certain of the criminal element who take advantage of this practice to carry out their depredations.

The federation points out that ride soliciting by pedestrians on Pennsylvania highways is illegal under an act passed by the legislature in 1931.

While the motorist naturally wants to do all he can to help along the worthy individual, he must safeguard himself against the criminal. It usually is difficult, however, to know where to draw the line. Many firms operating trucks have forbidden drivers to give rides to anyone, and commercial travelers frequently are warned by their companies to beware of the hitch hiker.

In view of the unusually large number of people traveling from place to place these days the railroads are patrolling their lines more carefully than ever, and thereby give less opportunity to 'ride the rods'. This has driven many undesirables to the highways, and has added to the dangers of giving lifts to the wayside traveler.

Attention is called to the fact that in Pennsylvania the motorist is held liable for any injury to guests in his car, and that this applies to the hitch hiker in case of an accident. All of this should be taken into consideration before stopping along street or highway to pick up a stranger. Because of existing economic conditions the law banning ride soliciting is not being rigidly enforced in Pennsylvania and motorists must judge for themselves when confronted by the hitch hiker.

I...I...I...

Had a $2 bill the other day and noticed that all four corners had been torn off. . . . By men who believe you take the curse off a $2 bill by mutilating it. . . . I feel superior to all those superstitious fellows—because that's not MY superstition.

I have an idea women don't do that sort of thing. . . . Their weakness is fortune tellers.

I saw a man looking in a mirror and I could always hear him thinking, "What a fine-looking fellow I am!" . . . It must be pleasant to be handsome like that. But how sad when the lines come and the face sags and young women pay no more attention than they do to the rest of us.

I look in street mirrors, too, but of course you understand it is just to see if my tie is crooked again—and it is!

How fortunate for men that all women do not think alike. . . . Most of them do not like dapper men and prefer a touch of sloppishness in the other sex. (So I am told.)

I've noticed this: Whenever a man comes into a woman's store on an errand for his wife, the young women behind the counters are always very kind to him. They know how he feels. Not exactly embarrassed, but not exactly at home, either.

I don't blame the traffic officers for having that grim look. What a lot of nonsense, guff, palaver and prevarication comes their way.

When I loaf I'm ashamed of myself and then I'm ashamed of being ashamed of myself.

When I am asked for advice I am flattered, but I find it difficult to remember that perhaps the other fellow can also be flattered in the same way.

POLITICS IN JERUSALEM

And when he (Pilate) knew He was of Herod's jurisdiction he sent Him unto Herod.—Luke.

Herod had wanted to see Him; all through his reign he had heard
Of the man who turned water into wine and insisted on preaching God's word.
'Twas of Him John the Baptist had spoken, the John who'd offended the wife
Of his brother whom Herod had taken. John paid for his word with his life.
Through the years men had told him of Jesus, yet never he'd looked on His face
Until Pilate, afraid of the tumult, saw a way to get rid of the case.

So he sent Him to Herod for trial.
"Of your jurisdiction!" said he.
"And since you're in the city at present 'tis right that His judge you should be.
I find no great fault in the fellow. There are some who insist He is mad."
And thus Jesus was taken to Herod—and Herod to see Him was glad.
"Do me a miracle, Jesus!" said Herod. "Turn water to wine!"
But Jesus would answer him nothing to prove that His birth was divine.

Then Herod returned Him to Pilate, in gorgeous apparel arrayed.
For deep in his heart, though he mocked Him, of Him was he strangely afraid.
For this Babe of the Bethlehem stable his father had frightened before,
And the Baptist had told of His coming—the King that should reign evermore.
"Now let Pilate condemn Him," said Herod. "I am glad I have looked at His face.
Just say I am pleased to have seen Him, but care not to handle the case."

WHAT DO YOU EXPECT IN RETURN FOR BENEVOLENT ACTS?

Isn't it true that you expect much commendation for the meritorious things you do?

You want to be gushed over and praised out of all proportion to your accomplishment.

If you do a charitable act, you are dissatisfied until it becomes known

If it is something creditable in public performance, you cannot rest till you have heard in detail all the complimentary things possible.

In fact, most of your good acts are prompted by the expectation of applause and you are disappointed if you don't get plenty.

You may be surprised to learn that you are missing real satisfaction.

The deepest feeling of gratification comes from appreciation of something done without any thought of remuneration or acclaim.

The deed prompted by goodness of heart carries its own reward.

To know that you have given pleasure or service to another should be all the recompense desired.

To feel that it is known only to the one benefited should bring the greatest joy, if you have the right spirit behind your benevolence.

Prison Reform Comes.
Penitentiary Strike.
Cannot Stop Crime.

Central Press
New York Bureau
235 East 45th street

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, April 19.—A step forward, ever so slight, has been made in penal reform. It has been brought on by the prisoners themselves in what once was one of the worst prisons in America.

Prisoners in the Ohio state penitentiary, in Columbus, struck in opposition to the state's parole policy.

A few months ago there would have been terrible punishment meted out to the prisoners. Today, representatives of the men are permitted to state their cause. The prison management has changed.

Said the representatives of the prisoners in this century-old, overcrowded prison:

"The parole board has only two systems. If a man comes before it with a bad record, it says you cannot be let out, prison is the place for you.

"If he has a good record, the board says you can behave in prison, but apparently cannot on the outside, so you had better stay in prison a while. The prisoner doesn't have a chance.

"Some prisoners have had as many as ten continuances by the board.

"The parole board is violating the spirit and the intent of the indeterminate law, which gives the board the power to parole prisoners at almost any time.

"There is one man in here sent up for chicken stealing and given a one-to-twenty-year term. He already has done 14 years. But a man who committed criminal assault was released after 10 months."

* * *

TERRIFIC SENTENCES

Penologists and criminologists are in despair over prosecutors and judges.

Because a man is a lawyer is no reason that he knows humanity or the mental ills of man any better than his fellow men. On the contrary, the law is a class profession, a profession which rarely rubs up against life, other than political life, which is largely corrupt.

Judges have no qualities to fit them to judge man's ills. They are, chiefly, politicians who have achieved office through no elevating means.

Such men pass judgment — and pass sentence.

Our prisons are filled with men, in the main young men, sentenced for long periods. And our streets are filled with criminals who have political pull. They are the ones who do obtain parole, or who never are convicted in the first place.

Penologists plead for a clinic to pass on all persons up for sentence. They urge the fitting of the reform to the man. They demand a stop to this man-destroying system of locking persons in foul places, shutting them off from normal life, forcing upon them abnormal conditions and the contaminating companionship of lost souls, and feeding them on a diet that adds the wreck of their bodies to the wreck of their minds and the loss of their souls.

THE EASY VIEW

A radio news commentator spoke freely and easily of the Ohio strike the other day.

Said he, here is what comes of having prison workshops, of treating prisoners "soft", of permitting them to think of themselves other than prisoners.

Shut them tight in their cells—perhaps without food — until they realize they are not free to demand anything.

But penologists say:

It is easy for us on the outside to hark back to the middle ages in our views. We thus dismiss the problem from our minds and ease our consciences.

Crime, however, in spite of all the repressive measures used, continues to increase, not only in the United States but elsewhere in the world.

Hard times, environment, lack of work, lack of opportunity, inability because of economic reasons to effect normal marriages, all are bringing about crime increase.

Crime is committed largely by youth—youth that could be reclaimed. Instead, we stuff those boys into overcrowded prisons, take away all hope of redemption and deprive them of normal social relationships, until maddened by such abnormalities, the boys become ferocious men.

Only man could devise such treatment against his own kind.

* * *

WARDENS

Prisons and prison camps, in the majority of states, still are ruled by political appointees, for the most part ignorant and cruel.

They turn out only bitter, resentful or broken men.

No reclamation is possible under such regime.

As this is written a Texas legislative investigating committee hears from the physician at a state prison farm that 11 prisoners had mutilated themselves since Jan. 1 to escape further cruelties by guards.

GOOD FRIDAY, APRIL 19

Today's Yesterdays—This date is the anniversary of the first battle of the Revolution; the first bloodshed of the War Between the States; of the first conflict between U. S. and German forces in the World War. (And the other major conflict in U. S. history started on April 2, the war with Spain.)

Wed. April 19, 1775—By the dawn's early light, Maj. John Pitcairn, 35, leading 800 British troops, saw 70 unwavering men commanded by Capt Jonas Parker, drawn up in the town square at Lexington.

Parker and his company held their ground, and Pitcairn had to give the order that sounded the doom of his king's rule in the 13 colonies. British rifles spurted flame which killed eight Massachusetts men and lighted the fires of revolt which destroyed monarchy in America.

* * *

Apr. 19, 1861—Five regiments of Massachusetts infantry and a battery of artillery reached Baltimore on their way to Washington in response to the President's call. In a street, an armed mob of southern sympathizers beset them and offered battle. Union casualties; 24; mob: 9 It was the first bloodshed of the War Between the States.

You're Wrong If You Believe—That there is no accredited instance of a man having undergone Jonah's experience with the whale.

Actually, we are told by Sir Francis Fox's Sixty-three Years of Engineering, Scientific and Social Work, James Bartley, a man who fell overboard during a whale hunt near the Falkland Islands, was found in the stomach of a captured whale after it had been hoisted on deck and cut open, an hour or two later. For two weeks after he was revived he was a raving lunatic. His skin where it had been exposed to gastric juices was bleached white. When normal again, Bartley said he lost his senses from fright and heat and not from want of air.

More "Wrongs" will be righted in succeeding issues.

GLITTERING MONUMENT

"No, he didn't. But I'm his executor, and he left $500 for a memorial stone to be put up to him. This is it."

CRUEL FATE

"There goes the only woman I have ever loved," commented the doctor, who was chatting with the drug store man.

"Why don't you marry her?" the drug man inquired.

"Mother," explained little Jane, "They're going to teach us domestic science at school now."

"Do you mean domestic science?" asked her mother.

Startling Facts Are Produced At Alienation Suit

Husband Relates Beatings And Indignities at Hands Of Wife No. 1

(International News Service)

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., April 19—Infidelity and persecution, at once subtle and violent, was the lot of Grant Carveth Wells at the hands of Wife No. 1, he pleaded in court, with a promise of infinite detail when he takes the stand Tuesday.

Wells, who appeared as a witness for Wife No. 2 in an alienation of affections action—the price was set at $50,000 by Wife No. 1—told this story of his first wife's life.

"My wife, upon rejoining me at Ypsilanti, Mich., after several months' absence, was transformed.

"I never in my life had seen such a change in a woman.

Looked Younger

"She looked years younger and more lovely than I had even seen her. She confided in me. She told me that she had been carrying on an affair with an aviator in Arizona. She said she had learned about love from him."

Wells was a debonnaire witness, his voice throbbed with indignation as he related.

"I came into the Hotel Sherman in Chicago early in March, 1926. It was night. I found my wife hysterical and crying. I asked her what was the matter.

"She told me she had picked up a man and spent that afternoon with him in his room. We talked it over and decided to forgive and forget. The next day we had another marriage service, 16 years after our first marriage to reaffirm our vows to each other."

Wells told of beatings his wife had given him with a riding crop in New York and Riverside, Cal.

STRANGE POLITICIAN

(International News Service)

BOSTON—City Councilor Robert G. Wilson thinks the city council should be reduced from 22 members to nine. He's such a good salesman that he has won the support of seven others to a petition for the abolition of their jobs.

To Standardize Relief Records

All files and records of the relief offices here and in the other offices of the area will be reorganized under a professional project which will start within the immediate future, W. Leslie Wilson, acting director of the RWD announced today.

Typists will be employed to type the new standard state relief cards and establish the SERB files. The work will require a number of weeks to complete.

Financing Plans Will Be Outlined

Secretary Morgenthau To Announce Financing Of $1,933,000,000 In Bonds

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 19.—Announcement of the treasury's last important financing prior to June 15 is expected to be made by Secretary Morgenthau Monday in announcing a long term issue in exchange for the called $1,933,000,000 in first Liberty bonds.

Morgenthau had said there would be no financing announced prior to Easter. He expected the call for the remaining $1,300,000,000 in fourth Liberty bonds which will be retired not later than October 15. The first Liberties will be wiped out on or before June 15.

These two operations will complete the refinancing of all of the outstanding bonds issued during or immediately after the war.

End Picketing Late Thursday

Picketing of the Emergency Relief offices which started Wednesday afternoon and continued through Thursday was discontinued Thursday afternoon. The men involved in the picketing held a conference with James W. Moorhead, executive director of the Emergency Relief and the picketing stopped shortly after that.

Keller Teacher Near Blindness

Unless operation shortly to be performed is successful, Mrs. Anne Sullivan Macy, world famous teacher of blind Helen Keller, will herself be plunged into total blindness. SAVE 'TOTHER HALF

When only half a lemon is required in a recipe, don't throw out the other half: they are too expensive. Place it on a dish, cut side down, and put it in the refrigerator for further use. A cut grapefruit may be treated in the same manner should a half be left over.

Pardon Board Members Study Appeals Today

Many Seek Pardons In State, "Man Without Country" Asks For Release

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 19.—The state board of pardons today studied a plea for a pardon for Stanley Bednas, of Scranton, described by his attorney, Frank M. Lario, Scranton, as a "man without a country."

Lario told the board Bednas has been in danger of deportation to a country where he has no friends or relatives since his parole for robbery in 1925. The little town in Polish Austria from which he was brought to this country in infancy was destroyed in the war. Lario said, rendering Bednas liable to return to some unknown country.

The board was asked by Attorney John J. Hibbard to grant a pardon to Joseph Isaacs, Luzerne county, because his partner in a robbery in 1931 has been released.

Thomas Whalen, Jr., Erie, serving a five to ten year robbery term, sought release on parole.

Flames Rage Through Three Floors Of Laundry Today, Families Forced Out

(International News Service)

BLAIRSVILLE, Pa., April 19.—Flames roared through three floors of the Blairsville Laundry here today, gutting one of the town's oldest landmarks and forcing at least one family to flee for their lives.

When firemen ceased pouring water into the shell of blackened walls, almost six hours after the blaze began, damage was estimated at approximately $20,000. The building was formerly occupied by the McNaulty hotel.

Driven To Street.

The family of Loretto Mancini, occupants of part of the second floor of the building, were driven to the street as flames ate into their rooms.

An adjoining filling station, operated by Elmer Salseiver, also was reported damaged. Although the flames are known to have started in the rear of the first floor, the exact cause of the fire has not yet been determined, according to Fire Chief P. H. Snyder.

Letter Reminds Of Jamboree Deadline

Boy Scouts Here Urged To Make Reservations; May 1 Closing Date

Reminding Boy Scout troop leaders of Lawrence county that May 1 is the deadline on council reservations for the National Scout Jamboree in Washington D. C., in August, a letter today was mailed to all troop leaders by the four council leaders who are handling jamboree arrangements here.

The letter follows:

"The council's deadline for all reservations of delegates to the National Jamboree at Washington, D. C., closes on May 1, 1935.

"There are still nine vacancies on the Lawrence county council quota. Any troop that may have one or more additional eligible scouts who want to go, will be considered by the committee provided their application of intention is returned at once, and not later than April 27 at 12 o'clock noon, to the scout office.

"All fees of $25.00 for all scouts and scout leaders going to the jamboree as representatives must be deposited, without exception, in the scout office, not later than 5 p. m. on April 30, 1935.

"The jamboree committee will meet on Tuesday, April 30, at 5 p. m., to pass final judgment on all applications and authorize the forwarding of all deposit fees to the national office. After that date, all unfilled quotas are out of our council's and the jamboree committee's hands.

"This is the final notice and last call for reservations to the National Jamboree representation."

Senses Doom Of Big Businesses

Hartford Electric Head Says Wheel-Rayburn Bill Is Entering Wedge

(International News Service)

HARTFORD, Conn., April 19.—President Roosevelt's first step in his anticipated campaign to "Smash big business" is the Wheeler-Rayburn bill abolishing public utility holding companies in the opinion of Samuel Ferguson, chairman of directors of Hartford Electric Light Company who recently testified against the bill at Washington.

"The administration is following the views of those who think big business has failed and must be broken up," Ferguson told a gathering of electric engineers here.

"The Wheeler-Rayburn bill is its opening wedge to break down all big business into small units."

NRA Respects Johnson Opinion

Mimograph Hundred Page Transcript Of Former Head In Senate Inquiry

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 19.—The NRA may be "dead as a dodo" but Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, once its boss, is not dead as a dodo around NRA headquarters though he has been out of the job for several months.

NRA officials admitted today they had had mimeographed and were distributing about 10,000 copies of the 100-page transcript of the testimony the former cavalry officer offered before the senate NRA investigating committee yesterday.

It will be quite a tidy bill for the NRA.

GOVERNOR EARLE SIGNS MASON BILL

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 19.— Gov. George H. Earle today signed the Mason bill requiring real estate assessors to furnish written or printed notices to property owners of their triennial assessments. The provision affects only third class counties. It was sponsored by Rep. J. Gordon Mason, Luzerne.

Student Held For Writing Of Ransom Notes

Chicago School Boy Confesses Writing Ransom Notes To Abducted Boy's Father

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, April 19—Captured when he retrieved a dummy package of money, Leo Magnus, 17 year old high school student, today confessed writing two ransom notes to the father of the missing 4 year old Richard Max Perrot, demanding $150 for the child's return.

"I just wrote the letters for a thrill," young Magnus told detectives and federal agents, "but I don't know anything about the little boy."

Police and the Perrot boy's parents fear, that a "tall, thin man" with whom Richard was last seen more than two weeks ago kidnaped the youngster.

HOLD MAN FOR BREAKING DISHES

George Lash, colored, was intoxicated and in a fighting mood at 6:30 p. m. yesterday, visited a home at 406 West Lincoln avenue, got into a fight and broke many dishes. Today in police court he was ordered held as people at that address said they would charge him with malicious mischief.

After Lash had been placed in a cell he escaped from the cell through several bars which had been spread apart. Before he could flee from the cell room police discovered him in the corridor and he was locked in a cell where the bars had not been spread apart.

Local Women Attend Valley Presbyterial

In addition to local women named yesterday who attended the U. P. presbyterial of the Beaver Valley, at Beaver Falls Friday, there were the following representatives of the First U. P. and Highland churches in attendance: Mrs. R. R. McGeorge, Mrs. C. H. Fischer, Mrs. T. A. Gilkey, Miss Jane Aiken, Mrs. Elizabeth Richards, Mrs. O. V. Wilson, Mrs. W. J. Michael Mrs. J. B. Love, Mrs. Ivah Beadel, Mrs. W. S. Johnson Mrs. R. F. Conway, Mrs. Walker Balentine, Mrs. Thomas Elliott, Mrs. Gail Blim, Mrs. Harry Miles, Mrs. Carpenter, Misses Jean McGeorge, Charlotte Withers.

Mrs. W. C. Wallace, Mrs. Fred Sontum, Mrs. C. M. McNickle, Mrs. Edward McBride, Miss Dell Davidson, Mrs. Margaret Hanna, Miss Rebekah Brown, Mrs. H. C. Dinsmore, Mrs. J. C. Gilfillan, her mother, Mrs. D. M. Sloan, of Bellevue, Mrs. James H. Gilfillan, Mrs. Roly Dickey, Mrs. George Morrow, Mrs. T. C. Davis, Mrs. Robert Newell, Mrs. Kline Braden, Mrs. M. E. Miller.

Sessions were held all day in the First U. P. church. At noon, the women enjoyed luncheon which they had provided and after the business session in the afternoon, a short playlet was presented.

Theft Reports Reach Police

Attempts Made To Enter Stores—Some Minor Robberies Reported

Police have been bothered during the past week by thefts; which continued last night; and indications are that the squad of detectives will soon have taken into custody some of the perpetrators.

Several nights ago an attempt to enter Cripps Hardware was made and last night an attempt was made to enter the Sport Goods store. Entry was attempted through rear windows.

A service station at Croton avenue and Martin street was robbed of $5.00 and three cartons of cigarettes. According to reports the theft used a key to unlock a door.

Tony Acesto, 910 South Mercer street, parked his auto in a South Croton avenue parking lot. All the wires and spark plugs were stolen. On a previous occasion recently the car was jacked up and a tire and rim stolen.

In addition to these thefts someone stole the car owned by Joseph Sheldon, West Washington street, which was parked yesterday in that thoroughfare. It was found at 1:30 a. m. today along The Narrows.

Paul Martin, 414 Fairmont avenue, also told police that he had an electric motor stolen from a garage on the rear of his lot. The thieves took an emery wheel, he added.

Trainmen Held Under Charges

Enginemen Held For Fatal Crash At Rockville, Md., Fatal To Fourteen

(International News Service)

ROCKVILLE, Md., April 19.—The enginemen of the Baltimore and Ohio flyer which plowed into a school bus at a crossing here last week, killing 14 Williamsport (Md.) high school children, were cited on technical charges of manslaughter and released under bond today pending a hearing Tuesday. Percy Line of Hagerstown, chauffeur of the bus, was also charged with manslaughter.

James A. Shrewbridge was the engineer and W. N. Bussey the fireman.

Ask Permission To Operate Playgrounds

Emergency Educational Council Willing To Take Over Operations

City council met in the municipal building today and received from Elmer R. Patterson a communication in which he stated the Emergency Education council of the State Emergency Relief board had approved a recreational program set up by the state. He requested permission to operate city and school playgrounds and to use the available equipment. Council agreed to the request, providing the Emergency Educational council will sign a release which will release the city from responsibility for accidents.

Slayer Of Wife Executed Today

Texas Man Dies In Electric Chair For Beating And Stabbing Wife To Death

(International News Service)

HUNTSVILLE, Tex., April 19.—Declaring that he loved the wife he had slain, Doye Arnold, 28, went to death in the electric chair here today.

Arnold was given the death penalty for the killing of his wife in 1932. Evidence at his trial showed that he stabbed and beat the woman when she told him she had obtained a divorce while he was serving a prison term.

APPLIES FOR U. S. CITIZENSHIP

One of Europe's best known women flyers, Fraulein Antoine Strassmann, has taken out her first papers to become an American citizen. She began her career in the air as a free-ballonist, having been taught by her brother, but after a few flights she turned to heavier-than-air craft and has flown into every corner of the continent.

Mellon Case Is Recessed Today

Easter Week-end Brings Recess To Mellon's Income Tax Battle

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 19 —While opposing counsel worked over exhibits to shorten testimony, Andrew W. Mellon's three million dollar income tax battle before the U. S. board of tax appeals today was in recess for the Easter week end.

It was the ninth and probably the last week end adjournment for the Pittsburgh phase of the case. Government Counsel Fred R. Shearer expects to close his case here next week following testimony by Eugene G. Grace and Robert E. McMath, president and vice president, respectively, of the Bethlehem Steel corporation.

Shift To Washington

Immediately thereafter the financier's appeal from a $3,089,261 deficiency and penalty assessment will shift to Washington for further expert testimony. When it concludes sometime late in May or June Mellon hopes he will have proved his right to a $139,045 refund on his 1931 income.

Arguments are to be heard when the final week opens Monday on the admissibility of documents and letters relating to the merger of Mellon's-McClintic-Marshall corporation with Bethlehem steel in 1931. Frank J. Hogan, chief Mellon attorney, objected to admitting any correspondence on the transaction save that directed to Mellon himself.

Italian Minister Is Coming To City

Evangelist Will Be At Italian Christian Church, Arriving On April 23

The congregation of the Italian Christian church, Taylor street, is looking forward to the coming of an interesting Italian evangelist, E. M. Schisa, of Syracuse, N. Y., on Tuesday, April 23. His campaign will open on the same evening, at 7:30, and will continue nightly with the exception of Monday and Saturday, for an extended time.

Rev. Schisa is a very impressive speaker.

He has a stirring and convicting message and many are led to a deeper faith and consecration with Jesus. He has made a splendid evangelistic campaign in many states and recently in Youngstown, Ohio, for two weeks, during which 28 persons were baptized.

Rev. Frank A. Maruso is the pastor of the church.

STAMP CLUB MEETS TONIGHT

The New Castle Stamp club is holding their regular meeting tonight at 8 o'clock.

The meeting place has been changed to the Chamber of Commerce rooms in the Greer Building on North Mercer street. Room 314. The club has decided to hold the meetings on the first and third Fridays instead of the second and fourth Mondays of each month.

Members have been requested to bring all of their duplicates to the meeting tonight in order to trade with the other members of the club

The tailored influence is extending even to the cocktail dress which is being shown in a strictly shirtmaker style with a pinch back belted jacket. One particular model is made of navy lace and is street length.

Date Is Set For Statewide Test

Competitive Examinations For Scholarships Will Occur May 3

WILL DISTRIBUTE 80 SCHOLARSHIPS

HARRISBURG, April 19.—Competitive examinations for high school seniors to determine winners of Pennsylvania State scholarships will be held at the various county seats on Friday, May 3, Dr. James N. Rule, superintendent of Public Instruction, announced today.

The State Council of Education awards eighty scholarships each year on the basis of these competitive examinations which are conducted by the county superintendent of schools. The scholarships are valued at $100 a year for four years, or a total of $400 toward payment of expenses at an approved Pennsylvania college, university, or a four-year course at a State Teachers' College. One scholarship is awarded to the highest ranking examinee in each county or where there is more than one entire senatorial district in a county, one for each senatorial district.

At present there are 300 students in colleges of the state holding these scholarships. Dr. Rule reports that all of them have been certified by the college authorities as doing satisfactory work. Last year 2,523 seniors from almost 600 high schools took these examinations. Robert Streeter, a graduate of the Williamsport high school, had the highest grade in the state. He made 267 points out of a possible 300. He is now attending Bucknell University.

Those eligible for the examinations on May 3 include any student who graduated at mid-year or who will be graduated in June from a four-year course in any accredited public, private or parochial high school in Pennsylvania. High school principals are required to submit lists of all applicants in advance of the examination.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. April 18, five arrests on charges as follows: Exceeding parking limit 4 and drunkenness 1.

As soon as the federal government allots money for relief to the state the plans under which the city can put through projects with RWD labor will become known. The allocation of funds will probably be made by the federal government as soon as the state's tax plan for relief is definitely decided. Today Glenn Throop, city engineer, stated that the city engineering force is ready to proceed with paving of a score or more streets as soon as the allocation of money is made and RWD officials at Harrisburg gives the word to start.

Superintendent of the collection of garbage and tin cans Howard Phillips today stated that an average of 12 loads of tin cans daily are disposed of by the truck in service. The truck has been in constant service since April 1. Last year the tin can truck was not put in operation until May 15. The only time the tin can truck is removed from service is when a garbage truck becomes disabled and tin can truck is converted into a garbage truck. The garbage trucks operate rain or shine, Phillips declared.

Shoplifters are not having much success in New Castls and practically all the shoplifters arrested here recently are residents from other cities. Two were from Grove City, three from Akron, two from Beaver Falls and two from Butler. Under a system inaugurated recently the shoplifter is given a fine and compelled to pay for the articles stolen. In most shoplifting cases women are the culprits, although in the case of the three Akronites, one of them was a man. He operated the truck. An oddity among the women shoplifters is that generally they are attracted to the lingerie and children's departments. It is seldom that they take articles, excepting hose, that go with a man's attire.

Talking about finger-prints, Willis McMullen, chief of detectives pointed to an oddity. While there are many John Smiths in the world not one man with that name has been finger-printed here He has taken approximately 2,000 finger-prints. He also stated that in one or two cases all of the members of one family have their finger-prints on record.

THIS OUGHT TO HELP PHILBIN REMEMBER

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 19—Michael Philbin is going to be very careful in the future about returning books he borrowrs from the public library on time.

In the first conviction here under the new state statute, Philbin, accused of being a delinquent book borrower by Carnegie library officials, was fined $10 and costs. The statute makes it unlawful to retain a public library book more than 30 days after its return has been demanded.

Laughs In Court Draws $10 Fine

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, April 19—John Walsh, 24, will think twice before he laughs in court again.

While listening to testimony in court a bit of humor was injected into a case before Judge Otto R. Heiligman. Walsh laughed heartily and loud—too loud, in fact, to please the court.

Walsh's laughter died abruptly when he was ordered before the bar and fined $10 for contempt of court.

Bankers Will Hear FHA Financial Man

MUSICAL "PRODIGY" IS THREE YEARS OLD

CHARLEROI, Pa., April 19.—Performing on a specially-built violin, three year old Grace Sutherland is being hailed as a musical prodigy by musicians of this district, who foresee a bright future for the little girl.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sutherland the lass is studying at Pittsburgh and in the music department at California State Teachers' College, California, Pa. The instrument she uses is one-eighth the size of the standard violin.

WILL PLAY COLLEGE CHIMES ON EASTER

Westminster To Have Service

New Chimes Will Peal Forth For First Time Early Sunday Morning

BELLS ARE GIFT OF COLLEGE FRIEND

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa. April 19—Westminster college's new chimes, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Duff, Pittsburgh, will be played for the first time Sunday morning at 6:30 when the Christian Associations of the college sponsor their annual sunrise service on the South Terrace of the college campus.

The chimes will be played by Andrew E. Meneely, president of the Meneely Co., Watervliet, N. Y., who has been at Westminster this week to superintend the installation of the chimes.

Sunrise Service

Thomas Rogers, New Wilmington, a member of the junior class, will be the leader of the sunrise service. Dr. John Orr, head of the Bible department will deliver the sermon. Congregational singing and music, and special music will be provided on the new chimes.

The largest of the 12 bells, weighing 1,000 pounds, is inscribed "These bells are given to Westminster College, New Wilmington, Pennsylvania in the name of Charlotte McGill Duff and Letitia Prenter Duff by their parents, William M. and Mary P. Duff, Easter, 1935."

The chimes will be played from a key board installed in the tower room of the college. Levers control each chime. The present set of bells was designed and cast under Mr. Meneely's direction so that 11 more may be added at some future rate to make a complete set of 23.

Install Bells

Installation of the bells started on Monday, and Mrs. Meneely expects that they will be ready for use by Saturday. An electric clock attachment which will strike each hour of the day on the chimes will probably not be ready for use until next week. All 12 bells, from the smallest weighing 90 lb., to the largest weighing 1,000 lbs., were hauled through a tower window. In order to get the largest bell to the second landing in the tower, it was necessary to remove part of the spiral stairway.

The old college bell, salvaged from the Old Main fire and recast, has been placed above the chime set. This will continue to be operated by a rope.

Civic Orchestra In Plaingrove

Before an audience from Plaingrove Township, the New Castle Civic Orchestra presented a concert in the Plaingrove high school on Thursday night. A program of varied numbers was presented with Anthony Casberre preseting several violin solos. Miss Nelly Brady appeared in a dance presentation.

On April 23 a concert will be presented in New Bedford by the orchestra and on April 25 they will play in Princeton.

Alleged Train Wreckers Will Soon Know Fate

Case Against Robert Edwards And Alfred Van Shuren Will Reach Jury Today

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 19.—Fate of Robert Edwards, 43, and Alfred Van Shuren, 21, on trial for murder in connection with the Sturgeon train wreck of last October, was expected to be placed in the hands of a criminal court jury by noon today.

Visiting Judge J. Frank Graff of Armstrong county expected to charge the jury immediately after the state concluded its final argument. Both defendants are charged with maliciously tampering with tracks between McDonald and Sturgeon the night of October 21, causing the wreck which brought death of Engineer Robert Black, Carnegie.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

GREATER THAN the government's income have been the profits of organized crime, bootlegging, racketeering.

You realize that crime has been made "a business" when the United States government proves to you that "Dutch Schultz", formerly known as Arthur Flegenheimer, made a profit of about two million dollars a year on bootlegging and similar activities.

IF ONE energetic beer runner in New York could take in as much as two million dollars a year and have bank accounts under various names, what do you suppose the total "intake" of organized crime has been since prohibition came to lift crime from the gutter into big banks?

UNCLE SAM is excited, because he never got any income tax from "Dutch Schultz".

Americans will endure racketeering, kidnaping, violation of laws of mnay kinds, quite patiently, but they get excited when criminals fail to divide profits with the government.

THE NEW veterans' bonus bill, introduced by Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, would not give the veterans any money now, but would give them "three per cent negotiable bonds."

The veterans would rather have PLAIN MONEY. The government could perfectly well print and distribute plain new money. That would not be inflation and anybody but an extreme idiot knows it. To pay your debts with good money is not inflation.

But, somewhere in the government, there is a pawnbroker complex that makes it absolutely necessary to tack interest payments on to every transaction.

IF THE government distributes among the soldiers two billion dollars of three per cent negotiable bonds, and the bonds remain outstanding ten years, as they would, and probably WILL, that would mean foolish, unnecessary payment of sixty million dollars every year, or a total in ten years of six hundred million dollars taken from taxpayers and prosperity needlessly.

OCCASIONAL long flights, of the "stunt" order, are important indications of what is to come.

News that a "Pan-American clipper ship," in the regular course of commercial income-producing business, has made a flight from California to Honolulu, two thousand four hundred miles, in eighteen hours and thirty-one minutes, breaking all records for that "hop", means that real flying is here.

THIS FLIGHT means that big airships, of great carrying capacity, can NOW fly from the United States to Asia or to Europe with ease. And, what is most important is the fact that, with equal ease hostile airships could fly from Europe or Asia to the United States.

WHEN A DOG bites a man, or pulls his drowning master out of the water, or saves the lives of a sleeping family by waking everybody up, as fire starts, that is not news. You know it.

The conduct of a police dog in New York City is news. The dog was lying fast asleep at the feet of Mrs. Rosa Larsen, aged 55; Miss Mary Canzal, aged 32, and Mr. Robert Morales when fire engines passed roaring through the night by the house.

Much excited, the dog jumped through the open window, ran all the way around the block, came back and savagely bit the two ladies. Both were removed to the hospital to be treated for bites in the ears, arms, shoulders.

Before confiding absolutely in the protection of the so-called police dog, close relation of the wolf, it might be well to have the animal psychoanalyzed, especially if you happen to have young children about.

THE LEAGUE of Nations unanimously condemns Germany, and Germany, almost unanimously, pays little attention. The league council at Geneva is busy "storing up penalties for the future," but dictators do not worry about things that ever happen in the future.

Hitler has proved, not for the first time in history, that treaties are made largely to be broken, especially such treaties as that made at Versailles.

When the French, in the revolution, were getting rid of monarchy, and laying the foundations of the present republic, Danton warned his associates that their success would depend on "audacity, more audacity, always audacity."

Hitler seems to have read that.

A NEWSPAPER representing Chancellor Hitler says:

"The time has passed when Germany has bowed to dictation."

Such times pass, and sometimes return.

France bowed to dictation when tall Bismarck sat in the palace at Versailles, in the room of many mirrors, and dictated a treaty of peace.

Nearly fifty years later came Germany's turn, and she bowed to the latest Versailles treaty.

Whose turn will come next, history will tell.

P. L. GASSAWAY, a genuine cowboy, now representing the Fourth District of Oklahoma in Congress, has not yet learned to use the language of statesmanship, which means the language of a clothing store dummy. He writes:

"With this old age pension, and the soldiers bonus, Lemke's bill, Huey Long's, ain't life a hell of a mess? I am really sorry I ever went into the movies."

Calling Congress "the movies" is a new appellation.

Sees Menace To Pymatuning

"Pickling" Of Fund Bill By Senate Committee Is Scored By Morse

PITTSBURGH, April 19.—Pymatuning lake, planned as a recreational area for millions of city-dwelling western Pennsylvanians, will be "grown up in weeds and blackberry bushes" within two years because of a senate committee's "pickling" of revenue legislation, E. K. Morse, engineer member of the water and power resources board, charged yesterday.

House legislation which restores to the Pymatuning project revenues diverted into the general fund is being held up in the senate committee on state government with the result "that there are not sufficient funds to police the lake," Morris said.

Under House Bill 665, Morse states, "thousands of dollars which were collected from the leasing of farms and the large acreage of the Pymatuning Dam which was not flooded" would be used to put the lake in "presentable condition when dedicated on July 1, 1937," instead of being sent to the general fund where "not one dollar of these moneys is ever used for improvements of the Pymatuning".

"The Pymatuning lake can be made the most attractive week-end resort in western Pennsylvania. If the senate committee will release bill 665, improvements can be made even this year and the necessary shelters built for the multitudes who visit the lake," Morse said.

Canal Backers Seeking Funds

Delegation From District Starts Drive For Funds To Construct Project

MONEY IS SOUGHT FROM RELIEF FUND

Alfred W. Chilton, secretary of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce with Sam Rice, of the Crescent Portland Cement Company at Wampum, are in Washington with a group of backers of the proposed Beaver-Mahoning rivers improvement, seeking funds to build the proposed canal.

All legislation providing for the construction of the waterways has been passed, and all that is now necessary to start actual work on the project is the allocation of funds. It is the hope of the group now in Washington, that money for this purpose will be allocated from the four billion dollar works fund, which has been set up by Congress.

In addition to those from the county, the group has been joined by many others from the district, and from waterways groups over the country.

Boy Scouts Will Vie In First Aid

Mahoning-Shenango Engineers To Sponsor County Meet On April 26

Boy Scouts of Lawrence county will compete in a first aid meet to be sponsored by the Mahoning-Shenango Valley Engineers' society in the Senior High School gymnasium on Friday evening, April 26, Scout Commissioner Ralph F. Davis announced today.

All troops in the county council will have teams participating, Davis said.

With elaborate arrangements on the part of the sponsors now completed, the competition of that night is expected to surpass all other first aid meets for rivalry. Coached by trained leaders, many troop teams have been preparing for the event for weeks.

Mr. Davis reported that the awards to be given to winning teams are the most handsome ever to be offered here. Under the direction of the engineers, the trophies are being manufactured in various New Castle plants. They were nearing the completion stage today.

Judges for the competition will be provided this year, as in the past, by the Western Pennsylvania Safety Council.

"Any competing team," it was explained, "that makes the grade of 80 percent will be adjudged a standard troop and become eligible to compete in the now-famed Western Pennsylvania First Aid meet which is held in Pittsburgh each June."

C. H. Leis is president of the engineers' organization.

STORE ANTITOXINS IN FEWER PLACES

HARRISBURG, April 19.—S. G. Purvis, chief of the State Health Department's biological division, today announced that the number of distributors of biologicals in this commonwealth recently has been reduced from 759 to 430. Greater accessibility to the stations due to the marked improvement of roads throughout the state is given as one of the reasons for the change.

The efficiency of toxoid, tetanus, and diptheria antitoxin depends on adequate refrigerating equipment, and was a factor in the reduction.

"TOOK ALL KINDS OF PILLS, THEN CEREAL BROUGHT RELIEF"

Constipation, Due to Insufficient "Bulk," Relieved by Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

A fine letter from Mrs. Snyder:

"I have had trouble* with my bowels for years, taking all kinds of pills and drugs, with no relief.

"One year ago, I saw Kellogg's ALL-BRAN and bought a package. I have good movements every day. I am 73 years old. I am telling my friends what bran has done for me."—Mrs. Sallie Snyder, 918 N. Craft Ave., Hollywood, Cal.

*Constipation due to insufficient "bulk" in meals.

Research shows that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN furnishes "bulk" to exercise the intestines. ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamin B, as well as iron, an element of the blood.

Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient to correct common constipation. With each meal, in serious cases. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN resists digestion better than the "bulk" in leafy vegetables. How much better to use this food in place of patent medicines.

At all grocers in the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Miss Gay Anderson Is Hostess At Her Home On Madison Avenue

Gay Anderson was a charming hostess to the members of her bridge club Wednesday evening at her home on Madison avenue.

Two tables of bridge were in session during the evening. Prizes being awarded to Narissa Thompson and Henrietta Emerick.

At a later hour a very delicious lunch was served by the hostess. June Anderson was a special guest of the club for the evening.

The next meeting will be in two weeks at the home of Mae Turk, on Liberty street.

BIBLE CLASS MEETS ON THURSDAY NIGHT

Mrs. A. R. Mornes, of West Clayton street, had as her guests on Thursday evening, 22 members of the S. C. W. Bible class of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church.

A business meeting, with a very pleasant social period following was conducted and a number of plans for raising money were talked over.

Mrs. Mornes had as her aides in serving a tasty repast, Mrs. J. J. Cunningham and Mrs. Frank Wilkinson.

RAVEN PATROL MEETING

The Raven Patrol held its weekly meeting Wednesday at the regular out-door meeting place. The boys gathered wood for the fire and at 7:00 o'clock the meeting began. Robert Walters, patrol leader told the boys of his plans for the future. A hike was planned for this Saturday, and will be for the boys ready for their second class fire-building and cooking tests.

A "snipe" hunt followed which proved great fun. The patrol then gathered around the fire in a semi-circle. Dues were collected and the attendance checked. Stories and jokes were told until the fire died out.

The meeting was closed by singing "Till We Meet Again."

Patrol Scribe, Freddie Marcella.

Sees Cousin First Time In Many Years

Local Man Receives Visit From Cousin Who Left District Fifty Years Ago

When Mrs. C. W. Powell, of Waterloo, Ia., dropped into his home yesterday afternoon for a visit, it was the first time in his life that John E. Miller, of Dewey avenue, local street car operator, had seen her.

Mrs. Powell lived here with her parents fifty years ago, but the family moved west, and she had never visited her relatives in this section of the country since then. Their reunion was a happy one.

Former Local Man Tells Of Dust Storms

James Leslie Hunter, who as a small boy attended the Highland avenue school and resided with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Hunter on East Garfield avenue, and who is now general manager of the El Paso Industrial Finance Co. of El Paso, Texas, sent the following letter to his father, in reference to the terrible dust storms which have been sweeping over the southwest:

Dear Dad:—

Several days ago we thought spring had arrived but today awoke to find a blanket of dust had enveloped the city and the weather much colder. This is the third repetition of the pall of dust which has been carried over at high altitude from the middle west and settles down like a London fog. So far I have read nothing of California experiencing any of it.

It is not like our regular dust storms as the peculiar part of it is that no wind accompanies it. The sun is obscured all day, visibility is very low and a sort of hushed strangeness prevails as though something weird were about to transpire. It is the dominant topic of discussion. Tonight the air seems to be clearing, the moon is visible but the mountains are still wrapped in a haze. Today's accounts in the press indicate that in Oklahoma, Kansas and Colorado it is the worst yet experienced. You have no doubt been reading considerable about it yourself. Some cataclysmic change likely beginning to manifest itself. The dawn of a new age which may sweep the plains as clean as a hound's tooth, bury other portions of the earth's surface under tons of dust suffocating every living thing, devastating the countryside, obliterating the works of man and leaving civilization to atrophy on the sand dunes of desolation. It incites the imagination and commands much speculation. On the other hand I see where your Pacific coast has been inundated under torrential rains. So you can choose dust or rain or both and have mud pies.

Give my regards to Norman and tell him that if I am not buried alive I will write to him soon. Hoping this finds you both well I am

Affectionately yours,
JIMMY.

State Seizes Ownerless Land

Over Thousand Acres Of Ground Taken Over By State

HARRISBURG, April 19.—An addition of 1236 acres to the Pennsylvania State Forests, raising the total area to 1,649,325 acres, has been announced by Secretary Ralph M. Bashore of the Department of Forests and Waters.

The new addition consists of unappropriated or vacant land in Bedford county, title to which was held by the commonwealth because a warrant to survey it had never been asked.

Land surveyors of the Department of Forests and Waters discovered that the land was unappropriated while making boundary surveys of adjoining forest holdings.

Under an act of 1909 if vacant land is declared suitable for forestry purposes, title to it is granted to the Department of Forests and Waters. In this case after an investigation of records in the Department of Internal Affairs, it was found that no warrant to survey the land had ever been granted.

Such a warrant was granted to the department. The survey was accepted and a patent issued for the land.

The area is located in Southampton township, Bedford county, and is part of the Buchanan State Forest, which also includes land in Franklin and Fulton counties. This state forest now comprises 56,200 acres.

Itching Burning Feet?

If so, you're probably just another of over 10 million adults suffering with Athlete's Foot which unchecked quickly spreads to sides and bottom of feet—itching becomes intense, blisters break and there's a wet oozing surface which usually forms scabs.

You can check the contagious and unbearable misery today with Moone's Emerald Oil, a powerfully penetrating and healing antiseptic which Eckerd's Drug Store and all druggists dispense. Itching instantly stops. After 2 weeks feet in healthy condition again or money back.

Graham Contributes Number Of Articles

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., April 19.—Five articles have been contributed to five different publications recently by Professor Robert X. Graham, in charge of journalism classes at Westminster College.

An article on "Readings for the College Journalist" will appear in the forthcoming issue of The Collegiate Publisher. Another article, "A Pattern for the Collegiate Colyum," will appear in an early issue of The College Publisher.

Professor Graham has also contributed articles by request to the Spalding Football Guide, 1935 edition, and to the Spalding Basketball Guide, 1936 edition. An article for the special educational number of the United Presbyterian written by Graham will appear next week.

In addition to these writings, Graham is also editor of Ink Slings, official monthly organ of the American College Publicity Association, and is editor of the Westminster Alumni News, quarterly magazine for graduates.

Skeletons Of 21 Indians Are Found

Beads From Bones And Ear Bangle From Human Tooth Included In Find

(International News Service)

MONONGAHELA, Pa., April 19.—Skeletons of 21 Indians interred in a single pit were found recently by George S. Fisher Findleyville archaeologist.

Fisher's find in Allegheny County, near Washington County line, included a nine-foot string of beads rivaling that unearthed in 1908 near Athens, O., by two archaelogists.

Fashioned out of rabbit, turkey and pheasant bones, and treated with fire to produce a high polish, the beads, coiled about the waist of a skeleton, served as a belt, Fisher believes.

An ear bangle carved from a human tooth, another from a fox tooth, used as ear bobs, and a pipe stem of catlinite also were unearthed from the pit. Fisher explained catlinite is ideal pipe stem material because of its flexibility.

World Traveler Gives Good Advice TO FAT FOLKS

John Lethaby of Portland, Oreg., writes: "Have known Kruschen Salts for years in England, Africa, Brazil. I weighed 190, chest 40, waist 42. After 6 weeks with Kruschen am 165, chest 42, waist 36. It gives me pep and vigor and has kept me young."

Mr. Lethaby got rid of ugly fat safely with Kruschen—so have thousands of others. YOU can, too, if you'll only have a will of your own and not listen to gossipers who tell you silly untruths because they don't want you to become youthfully slender.

Kruschen can't harm you—it's a health treatment—let one jar (lasts 4 weeks and costs but a trifle) take 12 lbs. off you or money back. Just take a half teaspoonful in a glass of hot water every morning (tastes fine with juice of half lemon added.) New Castle Drug Company, Eckerd's Drug Store.

Dog Control Is Duty Of Police

Pennsylvania Dog Law Places Responsibility On Them, State Official Says

CITY OFFICIALS RECEIVE WARNING

HARRISBURG, April 19.—Each spring thousands of complaints are received by the dog law enforcement officials of the state bureau of animal industry, from property owners in cities and boroughs about damage caused by dogs running at large.

In reply to those complaints, the officials explain that the Pennsylvania dog law clearly and specifically charges local police officials with the duty to take action when uncontrolled dogs damage lawns and ornamental planting.

In a letter addressed to all mayors and burgesses in the commonwealth, Dr. T. E. Munce, director of the bureau of animal industry, stresses the fact that there is nothing in the state dog law to prevent city or borough councils from passing ordinances covering the control of dogs when local conditions warrant it.

"Please issue orders to your police to carry out their duties under the dog law," Dr. Munce wrote. "This is especially urgent now since stray dogs seem to be increasing and reports indicate considerable damage being caused to lawns and gardens and a large number of persons being bitten by such dogs."

Local officials are reminded in the letter that the majority of citizens will appreciate and support any action by the local government in the interest of better control of dogs for the protection of life and property.

Lawrence's Ashes Returning To U. S.

(International News Service)

TAOS, N. M.,The ashes af the late D. H. Lawrence, British novelist, whose "Lady Chatterton's Lover" won the praises of the literati and the condemnation of the Puritans, are to be brought to New Mexico and placed in a small chapel at San Cristobal.

Thymus Extract Aids Children To Get Growth

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., April 19.—Science's latest development, a thymus extract now ready for clinical experimentation, may make possible the elimination of physically and mentally backward children.

This was revealed here Thursday at the opening session of the [illegible]-day meeting on the American Philosophical Society, when Dr. Leonard G. Rowntree, director of the Philadelphia Institute of Medical Research, explained his "Precocity Extract."

Tested and retested on white rats during the past two years, the extract, prepared from the thymus gland of the calf has stimulated growth and development, Dr. Rowntree disclosed.

Although he refused to claim the extract would make normal babies grow at abnormal rates, Dr. Rowntree said he hoped it would be effective in helping retarded children.

Mountain Snowfall Is 12 To 30 Inches

(International News Service)

DENVER, April 19.—Snow from 12 to 30 inches deep covered the mountain area of Colorado Thursday, many sections being blanketed for the first time this winter.

It came in a storm that swept the state yesterday, bringing rain to lower altitudes.

John Erickson, amateur wrestling champion of the Baltimore, Md., Y. M. C. A., was reported missing on the slopes of Pikes Peak. He had started up the mountain with 12 other members of the Baltimore Association. When his champions turned back, Erickson said he would go on to the top. The storm struck later.

JACKSTONE COSTS 'JACK'

(International News Service)

DENVER—Five operations were necessary before a jackstone swallowed by Howard McCoid, two-year-old son of Mrs. Wesley McCoid, of Lead, S. D., was removed. It was nearly a month after the plaything slipped down his throat that he was able to return to his home. The first operation, performed in a Lead hospital, was unsuccessful. The others were performed in a Denver hospital.

HERE'S YOUR Easter Dinner

Cudahy's NU-PROCESS PURITAN HAM

COOK IT THIS NEW WAY!

FOR a triumphant Easter Dinner, plan to serve one of Cudahy's Nu-Process Puritan Hams. And we mean just that! The rare blend of just-right seasonings, the long, slow curing, the Nu-Process steamed through and through hickory smoking—all combine to give Cudahy's Puritan Hams the tempting, completely satisfying, perfect flavor of a perfect ham. Then here is a new way, a perfect way of cooking the ham.

PINEAPPLE GLAZED—PURITAN BAKED HAM

One 10-12 pound Cudahy's Nu-Process Puritan Ham
2 cups light brown sugar
1 cup pineapple juice

Select a 10-12 pound Puritan Ham. Wipe with damp cloth and place, fat side up, on rack in roasting pan. Add no water. Cover and roast slowly in low oven (300°).

Allow 25 minutes per pound.

Just before serving, remove skin, if a ham with skin has been roasted. Score fat and top with sugar and pineapple juice, well mixed. Dot with cloves and return to oven. Continue baking until ham is glazed—about 15 minutes.

DRESS IT UP THIS NEW WAY

Sauté pineapple rings. Dot with cloves. Place around ham.

WHY NOT AN "OPEN HOUSE" EASTER SUPPER?

Why not plan an Easter Supper Open House? What day could be more fitting to build new friendships? What day could be more fitting to renew the old?

U. S. Prepares To Battle Dust Havoc

Dust Storm "Laboratory" Is Established In Wind-swept Texas

BATTLE GROUND FOR "DUST STORM" WAR

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1935, By International News Service)

DALHART, Texas, April 19.—Uncle Sam has a 26,000-acre dust storm "laboratory" here in the wind-swept Texas Panhandle, one of the most afflicted areas in the country.

A quiet, unassuming government scientist, H. H. Finnell, and a corps of agricultural specialists are doing pioneer work in striking at the basic causes of the devastating dust storms which are sweeping across large portions of the United States at intervals.

Forty farmers and stock raisers, owners of the land which comprise the "laboratory", are cooperating with Finnell in what they regard as a common cause.

This project is really the first "battle ground" in the war on dust storms. It is the first of its kind ever undertaken in America and promises to be the example for the entire western plains region, including such states as New Mexico, Colorado, Kansas, Nebraska and the Dakotas.

Day after day, you find farmers—greatly perturbed over the dust storm situation—coming in and asking Finnell for technical information. Delegations of county agricultural agents, business men, bankers and every type seen in a rural community find their way to his offices.

The International News Service correspondent, after interviewing Finnell, was taken by automobile over the 26,000-acre tract by B. W. McGinnis, soil erosion specialist and practical farmer.

Inspection of the project revealed that the land was badly damaged by recent storms and still showed the effect of storms that had occurred in 1933 and 1934.

The bottoms of fence posts were literally polished by friction of swirling sand. At the various farm houses, huge drifts of sand had half buried agricultural machinery, barns and shelter buildings.

A visitor could readily see what Uncle Sam, as represented by Finnell and his men, are doing for the farmers. These occupants of land in the Texas Panhandle are confronted with the problem of producing crops under the condition of the minimum rainfall and a high and recurring wind velocity.

The land is now being cultivated in a manner to conserve all the water that falls on it. This is being accomplished by ploughing the ground cross-wise of the slope to prevent run-off. Implements used leave the ground ridged and corrugated, much in the same manner as a washboard.

B. And O. Shows New Freight Cars

Stream-lined Freight Cars Are Displayed In Washington This Week

Showing recent improvements in freight car construction, the Baltimore and Ohio railroad displayed the first streamlined freight cars yet built, as well as others of the latest light-weight design, on Track 32, lower-level of the Washington Terminal, Washington, D. C., Thursday, April 18.

There are eight of the new types of freight cars, each one different in some parts of its construction and exemplifying what the freight car of the future will be. Into their construction have been put many labor and time saving devises, corrosion-resisting metals and shock absorbing appliances. All of the cars are constructed of the recently discovered light-weight alloy, double-strength metals and most of them are of the self-clearing type. Some were rebuilt from older models that have seen their best days of rolling on the rails.

MEETINGS TONIGHT AND SATURDAY NIGHT AT SALVATION ARMY

The special Passion Week services being held at the Salvation Army hall, 133 Water street, this week, are of a very interesting nature.

Last night Ensign Fred Goddard spoke on the theme, "Christ Before Pilate,' and Mrs. Avery Rigby and Mrs. John Wink of the Christian and Missionary Alliance church sang three beautiful numbers.

The subject tonight at 7:45 o'clock will be "Christ on the Cross." Mrs. Harris and Mrs. Stoner will sing.

Fred Goddard, Jr., son of the ensign, of Ambridge, Pa., will render a cornet solo, "The Old Rugged cross."

Tomorrow night at 7:45 o'clock the subject will be "Christ in the Grave," of "What Might Have Been."

Card Of Thanks

We wish to thank our friends, neighbors and relatives for the kindness and sympathy extended us during our recent bereavement, also, for floral tributes and cars donated.

Two Of Coast Triplets Dead

Girl And Boy Member Of Carranza Triplets Dead, Third Triplet Fights Death

YOUNG MOTHER IS REPORTED BETTER

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, April 19.—Two of the tiny triplets born to 17-year-old Mrs. Joe Carranza at General hospital were dead today.

The smallest of three children, a girl, was the first to succumb, and then the boy, designed as No. 2, also died shortly before midnight. The third triplet, a girl, was said to be "in fair condition" but hospital attaches said it also might succumb despite special oxygen treatment administered in an incubator.

Mrs. Carranza, said to be the youngest woman in the United States to bear triplets, was said to be in good condition.

EASIER PASSPORT VISAS

(International News Service)

BUDAPEST—Some of the stringent passport regulations of Europe are being eased as tourist stimulators. The Hungarian government allows visitors to the national agricultural exhibition and fair to enter the country with visas and receive them within the country at a reduced rate. Railroad fares were reduced 50% for foreign visitors.

Kiser Triplets Week Old Today

"Poverty Babies" Are Doing Fine, Gifts Continue To Pour In

(International News Service)

SOMERSET, Pa., April 19.—Lusty gurglings from a trio of throats today signalized an event of significance high in the Allegheny mountains near here—the Kiser triplets were celebrating the anniversary of their first week of life.

Born a week ago today, Jim, Joe and John Kiser, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kiser, were reported in fine condition as they observed their anniversary with the air of old timers at the business of celebrating birthdays. Joe had recovered from a slight attack of jaundice and his mother, ill for the past few days, was also improved.

Gifts for the Pennsylvania triplets continued to pile up in the Kiser home in an abandoned school house. The mother too was remembered—with the first silk nightgown she has ever had.

WHEAT CROP

HARRISBURG—Out of the total wheat crop of 14,759,000 bushels in Pennsylvania last year, 1,820,000 bushels were used for seed, 5,166,000 bushels were fed to livestock, 1,036,000 bushels were consumed in homes on farms where produced, and 6,737,000 bushels were sold for an estimated cash income of $6,333,000.

PAYS BACK RELIEF

(International News Service)

VICTORIA, B. C.,—British Columbia relief agents were shocked here when they opened a letter and discovered a check from a Qualicum resident returning relief payments he received at intervals money and a life pension which cleared the clouds from his financial horizon and allowed him to repay the government.

Lawrence County Farms And Farmers

By H. R. McCulloch, County Agent

USE ONLY GOOD PLANTS FOR SETTING IN GARDEN

Cabbage, cauliflower, lettuce and onion plants are set in the garden during April in the southern counties and in May in the northern counties. Tomatoes, peppers and eggplants are set out in May in the southern counties and in June in the northern counties.

The best cabbage and cauliflower plants are transplanted ones with well-developed root systems, six inches tall, stems stocky and fairly stiff, and dark green, bluish, reddish, or purplish in color which shows that they are properly hardened to outdoor conditions.

Tomatoes, peppers and eggplants should also be transplanted once and sometimes twice before planting into the garden. They should be eight inches tall and have a stocky, pliable stem which is purple in color. The leaves should have a dark green color instead of light green and tomatoes should have a reddish tinge on the under side of the leaves.

When plants are purchased the development of the root system is probably more important than the top. A well-developed root system contains many fibrous small roots imbedded in a ball of earth.

In planting make the holes larger than necessary, place the plant in the hole somewhat deeper than it stood in the plant bed and cover the roots with soil. Water at this point so that the soil will settle well around the roots and drive out the air spaces. Finish the planting operation by drawing loose soil around the plant.

FEED HUNGRY BEES

Bees are still dying for lack of food. It will probably be some time before a dependable supply of food will be available from the flowers.

For this reason the keeper of the bees should continue to feed. A quart of sugar syrup a week will be of considerable help in building up the weaker colonies and will give them greater strength to take advantage of the honey flow when it comes.

The syrup can be made by dissolving 1½ parts of granulated sugar in 1 part of water. The syrup should be fed in late afternoon.

Now is on ideal time to clip off half of one wing on each queen. Care should be exercised not to injure the queen in the process.

START PREPARTION OF THE LAMB CROP EARLY

Thousands of dollars are lost every year by farmers who produce buck lambs for market.

Mist of the terminal markets after the middle of July discount the buck lamb $1 per hundred pounds. Aside from the monetary loss, these ram lambs do not produce the type of carcass considered desirable from the standpoint of the retailer. Any male animal develops a heavy head and shoulder. These compose the cheap portion of the lamb's carcass.

All male lambs not kept for breeding purposes should be castratedd when they are 10 days to four weeks old. It is always advisable to place fresh straw in the pens before the operation is performed, so that all the surroundings will be clean and sanitary. There is no excuse for losing lambs through this operation.

A good system to follow is that of docking all lambs at one week to 10 days of age and castrating the male lambs when the dock has healed.

Sheepmen are urged to remember that lamb carcasses have many competitors for the consumer's dollar. Therefore, the more attractive the product the more sales they can expect.

PRESERVE LOW-PRICED EGGS FOR USE AT HOME

There are fewer laying birds in the country this year than for several years. Scarcity of feed has forced many farmers to sell off either part or all of their laying flock. As a result, fresh eggs may not be so plentiful next summer and fall as they have been the past few years.

Spring is the natural season for heavy egg production so eggs are cheaper then than at any other time in the year. Why not preserve some of these low-priced eggs for next summer and fall. If fine quality eggs are preserved properly they can be used satisfactorily 6 to 10 months later. If eggs are preserved by the water glass or lime method, a small hole should be made in the shell with a pin at the air cell and before boiling to allow the air in the egg to escape when heated and thus to prevent the shell from cracking.

Infertile eggs, produced from flocks without males, are most satisfactory for preserving purposes. Soiled eggs or washed eggs should not be used. These eggs may spoil and affect the rest of the eggs in the preserving fluid. Thoroughly clean and scald the stone or earthenware crocks before using them for preserving eggs.

CHEMICAL WILL KILL DENDELIONS IN LAWN

When you attempt to dig the dandelion out of your lawn, be careful that you do not actually encourage the pest. A single plant cut just below the surface of the soil will produce several strong, healthy plants.

If you must dig them, follow up the operation with a pinch of sodium chlorate dropped right into the hole on the cut end of the root. Mr. Dande Lion will disappear and the surrounding grass will not suffer.

A quicker operation is to tie a small sponge on the end of a stick, dip it into a 10 to 12 per cent solution (1 pound to 1 gallon) of sodium chlorate, press it into the crown of the plant, and watch the results. Be careful not to get any of the solution on the clothes or in contact with wood or other inflammable material since when dry, it forms an explosive combination. This necessitates extreme care in handling this material.

CHEESE ADDS FLAVOR AND FOOD TO MEALS

American Cheddar cheese, Cheddar cheese, or plain American cheese, as it is commonly known, is a concentrated food. It makes a good main dish by itself or it can be used to add flavor and food value to any other part of the meal, in soup, meat, vegetables, salad, or dessert, says Miss Eleanor Drury, home economics extension representative.

American Cheddar is made of whole milk; cottage cheese, or skimmed milk. Both are rich in protein for building muscles, phosphorus and lime for strong bones and teeth, an a vitamin A to help protect against colds and infections, Miss Drury points out.

Cheese fondue, made with a cup of cheese, a cup of milk, and a cup of bread crumbs plus two eggs, can be served as an inexpensive main dish for the family dinner. Cheese crackers, made by grating cheese on crackers and toasting them under the oven flame, can be used with vegetable or fruit salads for the Sunday supper. Tomato rarebit, Welsh rarebit, cheese with tomatoes and rice, cheese souffle, cheese with macaroni and tomatoes, cheese foudue, cheese scalloped with cabbage and spaghetti, cheese with potatoes, with corn, with hominy or hominy grits, cheese in rice croquettes, cheese sliced or made into a spread for sandwiches, cheese with anything almost, will add both to the flavor and food value of the meal according to Miss Drury.

When eaten at a rational place in the meal and thoroughly chewed, cheese is usually well digested, but the method of cooking the cheese has much to do with its digestibility. Grate or flake or shave the cheese, or cut it into small pieces, and distribute these through the other ingredients of the cheese dish, the bread crumbs, the spaghetti, the vegetable, or the case may be, and cook at a very moderate temperature. Then the cheese has no chance to form the leathery mass which is so slow to digest, Miss Drury explains.

MANY MEASLES CASES PLACARDED

HARRISBURG, April 19.—Members of the State Health Department's nursing force during the last two weeks quarantined 642 homes for communicable diseases. Of this number the placard applied to 1143 cases of measles.

This health officer work on the part of nurses is supplemental to their regular duties which involve follow-up work in the homes and activities in the tuberculosis, genitourinary, well-baby and other clinics.

Liquor Control Faces New Probe

Republican Senate Will More Than Likely Start Liquor Control Investigations

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 19.—The state liquor control system, under investigation the past two months by a committee from the Democratic house, today faced another investigation by the Republican senate.

Reported from committee, the resolution authorizing the second investigation, was in place for adoption Monday night. It provides for the appointment of a special committee of five senators to make an "immediate, diligent and thorough" inquiry of the liquor system "for the benefit of the senate in considering proposed legislation."

The state liquor control board has recommended 43 changes in the present act to increase sales at the stores and combat the bootlegger. The investigation revealed that legislators and politicians often sought to persuade the board to favor their clients in the purchase of liquors.

Myers May Get Government Post

Treasurer Of Democratic State Committee May Get U. S. Attorney Appointment

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 19.—Robert L. Myers, Jr., Camp Hill, treasurer of the Democratic state committee and deputy attorney general, is being prominently mentioned as successor to Frank J. McDonnell who resigned as United States Attorney for the middle Pennsylvania district, it was learned today.

High Democratic spokesmen said Myers "can have the job if he will take it."

Husband Claims Body Of Suicide

George Yersall Claims Body Of Woman Who Killed Self In Jealous Rage

(International News Service)

DERRY, Pa., April 19.—George Yersall, of New Alexandria, today claimed the body of his wife, a 25-year-old waitress who committed suicide after a lover's quarrel with the operator of a beer garden Wednesday night.

Yersall told authorities he married the woman, previously identified as Mrs. Gladys Pell Petratos, formerly of Blairsville, last February 12. The woman's two children are being cared for in Meadville.

Police said the young woman shot herself in the heart after quarreling with Clarence Robbins over the attention he paid to women patrons of his beer garden.

Thousands In Relief Classes

Enrollment In Emergency Education Classes Continues To Grow Weekly

LIST MANY TYPES OF INSTRUCTION

HARRISBURG, April 19.—Emergency education class enrollments are increasing weekly, according to reports compiled by the Department of Public Instruction. This Federal-State emergency relief activity recently approached a new high enrollment of almost 200,000. At the same time several hundred teachers have been released as the winter program nears completion in sixty-three counties. Steps are under way in the various communities to outline a summer program to be started as soon as funds are released for the purpose.

Public demand indicates a large need for this type of service, according to Dr. James N. Rule, superintendent of Public Instruction. He called attention to a recent report which showed an employment decrease of approximately one per cent for a given week, while for the same period there was a corresponding increase in emergency education class enrollments. More men than women are requesting instruction in these classes.

The types of instruction vary from the elementary academic subjects to all types of vocational training. Subjects now being offered in emergency education classes also include the following: Home classes for foreign-born mothers, instruction in art, literary, citizenship, guidance, woodworking, leather craft, basketry, music, parent education and nursery schools, various social science classes, home economics, agriculture, commercial, workers' education, health and nutrition, library counseling, and various recreational instruction including such branches as physical, social, music and drama, nature study, handicrafts and playgrounds.

"Thrift Gardens" To Feature Spring Work

Free Seeds Will Be Furnished To Large Number Who Are On Relief Rolls

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 19.—Pennsylvania's tillers of the soil this spring are being augmented by nearly a half million amateur farmers who won't, however, compete with the commercial markets.

The new agriculturists are beginning work in "thrift gardens," projects designed by the state emergency relief board in which the needy unemployed raise fresh vegetables for their own consumption.

Between 200,000 and 250,000 garden plots are expected to be planted. Seeds including 15 different varieties of vegetables are being distributed. Only persons on relief rolls are eligible to raise "thrift gardens."

Last year 179,801 such gardens were planted and cultivated by more than 375,000 persons. Gardening activities are expected to be greater this year as the result of heavier relief lists.

"Thrift gardens" last year averaged a return of $25.32 per family. The cost per family for the distribution of seeds was $1.67.

Produce grown in these gardens by relief recipients will not affect the amount of aid they receive from the relief administration. Commercial markets will not be threatened by the projects, it was pointed out, since the gardeners raise and consume vegetables which they could not otherwise buy.

In addition to the individual plots, large tracts of land near the metropolitan areas have been set aside for community gardens to be taken care of by residents of cities who have insufficient land or none at all. These areas have been subdivided into gardens of 2,500 and 5,000 square feet. A parcel of ground will be allotted to any family on direct relief according to their needs and ability to care for gardens.

"HOLY SMOKES, MA! THEY STAY CRISP!"

BLENDED FOR CRISPNESS

RECENTLY, you received a free sample of the new Kellogg's Wheat Krispies. As soon as you taste this new cereal, you know why the Kellogg Company selected samples to introduce this unusual product.

A sample is better than any words to describe the new blended wheat cereal.

Just pour milk or cream on Kellogg's Wheat Krispies. And taste them! They actually keep their crackling crispness—right down to the last delicious spoonful!

It's never been done before

That's a brand-new feature. For years the vast Kellogg kitchens have experimented with whole wheat in various forms.

Just recently, came the BLENDING idea. As coffee is blended from berries that grow in different parts of the world—so a ready-to-eat cereal was blended. Different combinations of grain were tried until, finally, this new cereal was created with surpassing crispness and flavor.

Just enough rice is blended with whole wheat to make a marvelous difference in crunchy goodness. Wheat Krispies have something that no wheat cereal ever had before. Buy a big package from your grocer. Enjoy them often for nourishment. For flavor. For new lasting crispness. Always oven-fresh.

GUARANTEE

Senate Confused Over NRA Surveys

Brookings Institution Survey And One By General Johnson Studied

INDUSTRY HAS BEEN HINDERED

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 19.—Two directly conflicting analyses of NRA faced senate finance committee members today as they met behind closed doors to begin framing a measure for extension of the recovery unit's life.

One was a carefully studied conclusion of the Brookings Institution that the Blue Eagle's activities have substantially retarded economic recovery.

Johnson Reports

The other was a blunt and fiery survey by former NRA head General Hugh S. Johnson, predicting chaos if the eagle is killed.

Leon C. Marshall, himself a member of the recovery board, was among those who signed the Brookings report. Others who signed have in the past been closely associated with the recovery set up, including Leverett S. Lyon, economist and former dean of Washington university's school of finance and commerce, and former assistant NRA administrator, Lewis L. Lorwin.

Wages were raised by the codes, the Brookings report conceded, but when these benefits were spread through the country and averaged against increased living costs attributable to the program, the two virtually cancelled.

Power Increased

The Brookings report held that the power of industrial groups has been vastly increased under NRA.

Further, trade practice provisions have been a hindrance to recovery rather than a stimulus, said the Brookings study. New jobs from the recovery unit totalled 1,750,000, said the report, but this has been accomplished by a spreading of work rather than by increasing the total amount of work.

"It is our view," said the report, "that the NRA has had the effect of restricting production below the levels it otherwise would have attained, hence that it has reduced the total amount of employment.

"Not only did the program fail to work out as planned, but the plan itself was, in our judgment, a mistake."

DR. COLEMAN IS Y.M.C.A. SPEAKER

'Window-Shopping For World Peace' Is Geneva Professor's Topic

Speaking on "Window-Shopping for World Peace," Dr. John Coleman, professor of government at Geneva college, told a group of young men at the Y. M. C. A. last night that "peace is costly and I don't know yet whether we're willing to pay the price for it."

Dr. Coleman was addressing members of the Y's Men's club at their weekly meeting, which members of the Phalanx and Uparatasa fraternities of the Y attended as special guests. Sid Lockley introduced him.

The college professor spoke at length on the various costs of peace and then asserted that too many people today are thinking "that God in some curious way will bring peace." He made it plain that sacrifices must be made and he told his audience that if we're not ready to make those necessary sacrifices we should "quit yammering about peace".

Dr. Coleman brought to the audience a picture of world conditions and he illuminated his message with thought-provoking declarations.

He warmly denounced William Randolph Hearst, the publisher, time and time again.

"You pay for war and you pay for peace," the Beaver Falls man continued. "This peace problem is one that must be worked out."

Dr. Coleman listed the three chief problems which must be solved before peace is attainable as these:

TWINS FOLLOW IN LIFE AND DEATH

(International News Service)

GLENDALE, Cal., April 19.—Born just 24 hours after his twin brother, 83 years ago, Edwin C. Barnett died at his home here just 24 hours after his twin, Edward Barnett succumbed in Chase's Mills, New York, it was revealed today.

Edwin did not know his twin preceded him out of the world by the same time he preceded him into the world, for word of Edward's death arrived at the Barnett home just as Edwin died.

Horse Runs Away, Driver Injured

Something Unusual These Days For Runaways, Common In Old Days

(International News Service)

UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 19.—Some of these newfangled motor vehicles on the road are still poison to Stanley Bartosh's favorite horse—the one he drives hitched to his best buggy.

Bartosh, 23-year-old Vestaburg resident, was recovering today from injuries received when the horse, frightened by a passing automobile, dashed into a field and overturned the buggy, pinning the driver beneath it.

The horse, proud to have been the first of his kind in a long time to make a runaway news, was not hurt.

Believe Missing Stenographer Is In Scranton, Pa.

Missing New York Girl Believed Seen In Scranton, Pa., Bus Terminal

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, April 19.—A man who said he was Albert York, Scranton, Pa., today declared he believed he had seen Miss Belladine Curtis, missing young stenographer, in a Scranton bus terminal at 10 o'clock Wednesday night.

The girl has been missing since shortly after her pet dog, a chow, was killed by an automobile here. She was reported grief-stricken over death of the pet.

George Thompson, president of the Elevator Service company, Miss Curtis' employer, notified police this morning that he had received a call from York that the latter accidentally jostled a young woman in the Scranton terminal.

Grieves For Dog

When he apologized, the caller said, the girl explained it was her fault, that she had not watched where she was walking as she was greatly worried over the loss of "a very dear friend—a dog" and that she was enroute to see her brother in Buffalo.

Police said the missing girl has a brother, Edward, living in Buffalo and police of that city have been notified of the Scranton report.

Brooklyn Wins Game From Boston

Take Morning Game Of Double Bill Staged On Patriot's Day Program

(International News Service)

BOSTON, April 19.—Pitching brilliantly in front of support that contributed five double plays, Lefty Clark, Brooklyn Dodger pitcher, held the Boston Braves to nine scattered hits today to win the morning game of the annual Patriots day double header, 4 to 2.

Babe Ruth starred for the Braves, getting two singles, a walk and a strikeout in four trips to the plate. His first hit drove in the first Brave run. Huck Betts, Brave starting pitcher, gave seven hits and four runs in three innings, then retired in favor of Bob Smih who held the Dodgers scoreless in the final six innings.

Two Automobile Accidents Reported

George S. Bauman, 306 Winter avenue reported to police last night that about 10:45 p. m. his car and that driven by F. J. Bray, 19 North Mill street, were in an accident at Court and Washington streets.

Fred Thomas, 821 East Washington street, said he parked a truck he was driving in East Wallace avenue and while he was doing some work in a house an auto struck and damaged a door on his truck. The autoist did not stop.

Relief Probe To Start Saturday

Assemblyman Eroe Says First Session To Open Saturday Morning

Assemblyman William J. Eroe, Jr., arrived home from Harrisburg late Friday night and announced today that investigation of the Lawrence County Emergency Relief Board would start on Saturday morning, April 20, in the Lawrence county court house.

Mr. Eroe is the chairman of the legisiative committee, and with him will sit Assemblymen James B. Kelso of the second district, and Assemblyman Smith of Mercer county and Klinger of Butler county. Assemblyman Dilley of Mercer county will not be present on Saturday.

In the past week executives of the relief offices have been gathering statistics and information which has been requested of them and they will likely be called among the first at the query.

Attorney Gilbert E. Long will act as counsel for the probe and stenographic help will probably be requisitioned from the relief offices.

Report Dogs Are Being Allowed To Roam At Night

Although he has not yet received instructions it is probable that Jack Young, named months ago as the city's official dog-catcher, may go on midnight duty.

While it is true he has been capturing dogs which run loose, many persons confine their dogs during daytime and release them at night, it is reported.

A report reached the police station last night which said there was a large number of dogs running loose in Division street.

For a time the dog-catcher did go on night duty but he did not continue his work.

Easter Business Here Is Showing Increase

From indications today, the pre-Easter business of the New Castle merchants is showing a healthy increase over the business of the same week a year ago. Clothing merchants, confectionery stores, florists, are all doing business and if it continues to improve through today and Saturday the sales totals will show a satisfying record.

Stores selling Easter eggs, baskets, candy rabbits and animals are doing a rushing business. Apparently the Easter bunny is going to have a load of baskets to deliver, and with the baskets are going a lot of candy to fill them.

The crowds thronging stores is a good omen for Spring business, merchants believe. The rush started earlier this week than it usually does, and by Saturday at noon the sales people are going to be experiencing a rush that usually is seen on Christmas eve.

Alexander Names Park System Aides

Hamilton, Chilton, Cunningham, Samuels And Wadlinger Selected

During council session at the City building today Director of Parks Joseph D. Alexander recommended the appointment of five commissioners for the local park system. Council agreed unanimously to his recommendation.

Their names and date their office will expire are as follows:

R. W. Hamilton, January 1, 1936; A. W. Chilton, January 1, 1937; D. B. Cunningham, January 1, 1938; Alex Samuels, January 1, 1939 and Guy W. Wadlinger, January 1, 1940.

The commissioners will not be paid for their services.

ASK EROE TO SUPPORT BILL

Council convened in the City building today and decided to send a request to Representative William J. Eroe asking that he support House bill 24 which provides that the state take over the maintenance of all bridges and viaducts on state maintained roads within the limits of third class cities. The city council here was asked for their support by Mayor Thompson of Butler.

More Changes In Highway Route Numbers Seen

Many Roads Will Have Numerals Changed By State Next Month

NEW MAPS WILL SHOW CHANGES

HARRISBURG, April 19—Important changes to be made in highway route numbers in May were announced today by Secretary of Highways, Warren Van Dyke.

Several highways with United States Route designations, indicating present or future connections with arterial highways in other states, are involved in the major shifts. The realignment of routes is intended to provide channels for the heaviest volume of traffic over highways forming the most direct connection between larger centers of population. Highways are also chosen for type, width and ability to carry the traffic load.

Changes in United States Routes (marked on shields) are determined by the American Association of State Highway Officials with the purpose of forming continuous traffic lanes through several states. State route numbers are placed at the discretion of the Highway Department, Mr. Van Dyke explained.

Actual remarking will be completed within a twenty-four-hour period about May 27. Some confusion to motorists has resulted from the distribution of non-official maps showing the new numbers. The new markers will appear along the highways at the same time the Department's new official tourist map is published.

Changes in Western Pennsylvania, are as follows:

United States Route No. 62 will be shortened between Oil City and Tionesta, replacing the present State marking of No. 157. No. 157 will be shifted to designate the Fryburg road. No. 66 will extend from Fryburg through Lickingville and Nebraska to Tionesta.

In Bradford county No. 409 will connect Camptown with United States Route No. 6 at Limehill.

No. 872 will be continuous from Sinnemahoning, Cameron county, northward through Wharton, Costello, Austin, Inez, joining United States No. 6 at a point east of Coudersport. This eliminates No. 959 and part of No. 607.

No. 255 Changes

No. 255 becomes continuous from DuBois through Penfield, Weedville, and Gillen to St. Marys, replacing a portion of No. 555.

No. 879 will designate the unmarked road from Clearfield through Shawville, Surveyor and Frenchville to Karthaus. No. 453 will be extended to connect Curwensville and Madera through Boardman and Olanta. No. 164 will connect Duncansville directly with Altoona, No. 764 will mark a short stretch on the northeast Altoona City Line, replacing No. 264. No. 580 will connect Spruce and Cherry Tree, Indiana county.

No. 837 will mark a road following the Monongahela river from Monongahela through Donora to a connection with No. 88.

No. 68 will be extended from Kane, McKean county, through Morrison to Kinzua. No. 185 will extend from Butler eastward. No. 88 will be extended from Ambridge to Rochester. No. 331 will make a connection in Washington county between Route 31 and the West Virginia line.

Thirty-three years ago, while playing with her two children on a swing close to an old apple tree outside her Denbigh home, Mrs. Evans, now of Old Colwyn, England, lost her wedding ring. The other day the tree was blown down, and while it was being removed, the ring dropped from a small hole at the base.

STAMP NEWS FROM EVERYWHERE

BY JOHNRAE EARL, SEC. NEW CASTLE STAMP CLUB.

Progress can be reported in getting the Stamp Illustration Bill before Members of Congress. The committees for the different societies are working in harmony with the different stamp clubs around the country, and they report favorable progress. It has been suggesting to readers to write to their Senators and representatives requesting support to this bill. The results are beginning to appear for more and more Congressmen are asking what it is all about and some are promising support. Now that it really looks a bit hopeful do not let-up with the letters and those who have not sent a letter do so at once.

The Philatelic Agency reports the amount of receipts for the quarter ending March 31, as $842,164.91. Would you say the uncut sheets were not popular when over 75% of the orders were for them? In mentioning the quarterly receipts of the Agency it might be of interest to collectors to know this tremendous load of work has been handled in a most expeditious manner and today the Agency is only fifteen days behind. On orders for straight blocks of the imperforates they are even nearer current.

Last Sunday I visited the Beaver Valley Philatelic Convention and exhibition at Beaver Falls. I saw on display there many very interesting objects which were well worth going to see. Among them was a collection of Confererate Covers valued at approximately $100,000. Another display that especially attracted my attention was a frame which contained small pictures that had been made entirely from scraps of stamps. The card in the frame stated that they had been designed and made by "A Shut In." The pictures were very colorful and lifelike and were deserving of a great deal of praise.

California Exposition Stamp?

A notice appeared in the Pittsburgh Sun Telegraph and the New York Herald Tribune last Sunday stating that Postmaster Farley had made the announcement that Postoffice Department had the design prepared and would issue a stamp for the opening of the California Pacific International Exposition at San Diego, California, May 29.

This announcement was made while Mr. Farley was speaking at a Hobby Show, at Nyack, last week. As there has not yet been any official announcement in stamp news or the Postal Bulletins I am not sure how true this item is, but it is probably true because some time ago Postmaster Farley stated that he would issue a stamp for this exposition, but he did not set any date for its issuance.

Change Meeting Night

The New Castle Stamp Club has decided to change the date of the meeting from the first and third Mondays to the first and third Fridays. The meeting of the club will be held tonight at 8 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce Rooms, on the third floor of the Greer Building, North Mercer Street. If this night is satisfactory it will be retained permanently, if not another will be selected for the meeting.

The main diversion of the evening will be the exchange of stamps among the collectors. The members have planned to bring all of their duplicates, mounted or otherwise, to the meeting in hopes of securing stamps that they need from other collectors.

The New Castle Library has announced the next meeting of the Junior Stamp Club for Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock, April 25. The meeting will be held in the "story hour" room and any person interested is invited to attend this meeting. Miss Joyce, Librarian of the Children's Department will be in charge of the meeting.

Connecticut Tercentenary Stamp

The Bureau of Engraving and Printing is now preparing to print this new stamp. The master die is completed and all that is necessary now is to start the presses. Postmaster General Farley has issued orders for this stamp to be printed on the "rotary presses" instead of on the "flat bed" presses. He has also ordered for the initial printing order, 75 million stamps. They will be placed on sale at Hartford, Connecticut on April 26, and will be on sale at the Agency in Washington on the 27, and also at other Post Offices about the country on that date.

I am not the only person that don't like the new stamps perforated with the aid of the "electric eye", articles have been appearing in nearly all Philatelic Publications stating that they have found these stamps as badly centered as the regular method stamps. The Post Office Department, however, is still experimenting with this new system.

Will Answer Questions

I will be pleased to answer any of your questions regarding stamp collecting. If you have any that you would like answered address your communication to me in care of The News and either mail or drop it into the News office. Please enclose return postage for your answer and if possible I will answer the question and return it on the day received.

WOMAN'S CLUB HAS FINE SESSION

(Special To The News)

WAMPUM, April 19.—A meeting of the Volunteer Fire Department was held last night at the city building.

Officers were named as follows: President, George Herbert; secretary, H. W. Marshall; treasurer, E. J. Algier; fire chief, E. J. Algier; captain, Jos. Ferrante; assistant captain, Jos. White.

A fireman's relief association was organized at this time. The second Tuesday of each month has been set for the regular meetings.

CLUB MEETING

The monthly meeting of the Woman's club was held yesterday afternoon in the Presbyterian church with eighteen members, and two special guests present.

Mrs. A. McKinvin of Youngstown, Ohio, and Mrs. Edward Butler of Ellwood City, special guests.

A very interesting program was enjoyed by the ladies.

Mrs. C. S. Ferguson had a reading on "Historical events of our state." Mrs. Ella Cochran, "Natural and Industrial Resources." Miss Ford, "The Government of Our State." Mrs. Edward Butler rendered two piano selections.

During the business meeting a discussion was had in regard to a proposed trip to Pittsburgh in the near future and will be decided on at the May meeting at which time all members are requested to be present.

CHURCH NOTES

The pre-Easter services being conducted this week in the Presbyterian church by the Christian, Methodist and Presbyterian congregation have been very successful.

The service Sunday in the Christian church will be at 7 a. m. and will also be a union service. A large delegation is expected to go from the churches here.

LEAVE FOR NEW YORK

Mrs. C. L. Repman and Mrs. C. M. Parshall left this week for New York City to spend the Easter vacation with the former's son Eugene who is attending the Columbia University of Music.

Start Intensive Hunt For Slayer

Five-State Hunt For Slayer At Wilmington, Del., Extended To Pennsylvania

(International News Service)

WILMINGTON, Del., April 19.—Spurred by the purported confessions of two Chester, Pa., criminals, authorities today launched an extensive five-state search for Anthony Iacono, 25-year-old Chester fugitive and alleged "trigger-man" in the slaying of two men here last November during a holdup.

Iacono was named as the actual gunman, police said, by David Sabatino, 17, now in Huntingdon Reformatory, Pa., serving a sentence for burglary and by James Di Meglio, 20, in Delaware county jail at Media, Pa., awaiting trial for another slaying.

Both confessed taking part in the attempted holdup which culminated in the murder of Frank Fisciaro and George La Rocco, detectives said. Di Meglio is being held in Chester for the slaying of Hugh Welsh, 42, a junkman, whose body was found in the outskirts of Chester a few days after the Wilmington murders.

DISAGREE OVER $200; END MARRIED LIFE

(International News Service)

BROOKVILLE, Pa., April 19—Disagreement of division of $200 from sale of their Stafford city property—the first serious ripple in 55 years of wedlock—severed the bonds that held together Steve Gresh, 76, and his wife Anna, 72.

Forty-five women are attached to the police force of London, England. After completing a course of ten week's training, the women cops receive from $18 to $20 each per week.

Former Secretary Pushes Plans For "Summer Capital At Lake Erie

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., April 19.—Still hopeful of seeing a "summer capital" erected on the shores of Lake Erie, Richard J. Beamish, former secretary of the commonwealth, today completed an inspection of the Pennsylvania state park site.

Beamish, long an advocate of a "summer capital,' made no comment on the result of his inspection. Neither the legislature nor other state officials have lent support to his plan.

Motorist Held For Killing Of West Virginian

Frank Liskieska, 24, Captured In Pennsylvania Following Crash

(International News Service)

WEIRTON, W. Va., April 19—Arrested after a chase into Pennsylvania, Frank Liskieska, 24, was held today as the suspected driver of a stolen automobile which killed one youth and seriously injured three others near here last night.

Lewis Tabacco, 22, was killed when the automobile barged into a group of five youths walking along the highway, John, Louis and Leonard Salerino, brothers, all of Weirton, were rushed to the Ohio Valley hospital at Steubenville in a critical condition.

Witnesses to the crash told authorities the driver of the stolen machine jumped from the vehicle and ran to another car in which he escaped.

MEETING IS HELD AT COURT HOUSE

Milk producers of Lawrence county held a meeting at the court house last night at which it seemed to be the general concensus of opinion that the state milk control board, should be continued for another two years, from the date of the expiration of the act creating it, which expires April 30.

Charles N. Emery, of the Harlansburg road, president of the local organization, presided at the meeting. A. C. Marburger, a member of the state control board, made the principal address, in which he outlined the activities of the board. One of the chief functions is to fix the price to be paid the producer for his milk and the price which is to be charged the consumer.

It is claimed that since the milk control board took charge of the situation cut-throat competition has been largely eradicated, and the farmers are able to get a better price for their product. The present price is $2.48 per hundred-weight for what is known as 3.5 milk, or milk containing that per centage of cream. The price increases four cents for each point over 3.5. The price set by the control board, it is said, has not been rigidly enforced in Lawrence county, some producers receiving $2.24 per hundred-weight.

In the opinion of the Lawrence county producers, it would be a mistake to eliminate the control board at this time. After considerable discussion a committee, headed by Kinsey McKnight, of the Volant district, was appointed to confer with State Senator Batchelor for the purpose of enlisting his support for the continuation of the milk control board. The committee will visit Senator Batchelor at Beaver on Saturday.

Veteran Warden Of Ohio Prison Resigns Today

Order Reinstates Preston E. Thomas, And Resignation Follows

(International News Service)

COLUMBUS, O., April 19.—The case of Preston E. Thomas, veteran warden of Ohio penitentiary, came to a sensational climax today when Mrs. Margaret Allman, state welfare director, ordered his reinstatement which was followed immediately by an announcement of his resignation, effective as of May 1.

The two successive moves were followed by another announcement that all charges preferred against the former warden in Mrs. Allman's ouster order against him would be withdrawn.

Ogden L. Mills Delivers Talk

Tells Students Of Bowdoin College Economic Liberalism Is Breaking Down

(International News Service)

BRUNSWICK, Me., April 19.—Evidence of the breakdown of economic liberalism and democratic institutions accumulates daily under the "blue print era" of the "new deal", Ogden L. Mills, former Republican secretary of the treasury, today had told students of the Bowdoin college institute of politics.

The so-called economic planning of the past two years, he declared, has failed to solve the problems of excessive crops of certain staple crops, but has resulted in regimenting the farmer, destroying food products to a point where we must import products that could have been grown by our farmers.

Under the breakdown of the democratic institutions, Mills said, arbitrary powers necessarily grows and expends until freedom of speech and press disappear and fascism or communism emerges.

Valuable Pieces Of Wood Found

Bits Of Wood From Original Crucifix Found In California Today

(International News Service)

SAN JUAN, Cal., April 19.—Lost for nearly 100 years, two tiny scraps of wood said to be from the original crucifix were found here today in the archives of the old mission by Father Francis Caffrey.

Legend had recalled for years that in the last century bits of the cross on which Christ was crucified had been sent to the mission from Rome. So securely had they been hidden at the time, they were never found.

Today the relics, still intact after nearly 2,000 years, were discovered between the parchment pages of a record. With them was the letter from Bishop Joannes Maria Odin at Rome dated 1842, entrusting them to Bishop Thaddeus of the Monterey diocese.

FINED BY MAYOR

Clarence Schultz, alias the Battler, came once too often before Mayor Charles B. Mayne in police court today and was fined $5.00, upon conviction of a charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct. He was alleged to have used profane language at the corner of Long avenue and Moravia street.

Ponder Fate Of Universe

Scientists Believe Earth Will Die And Turn Into Another Universe

WHERE AND WHEN NOT DETERMINED

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, April 19.—There is a big "if" and an even bigger "when", but it was nevertheless on record today at the annual meeting of the American Philosophical society that the universe, when it cools and all is dead, may turn into another universe.

That cheerful theory was upheld by Dr. W. F. G. Swann, noted director of the Bartol Research Foundation of the Franklin institute, in his annual lecture on what lies in the eternities ahead.

Undoubtedly it's true, Dr. Swann admitted, the billions of stars revealed by modern telescopes are wasting away. That is because of the matter of which every visible star is composed is turning from matter into light and heat and steaming off through the universe as light-rays and heat-rays, he said.

But, Dr. Swann believes, these light-rays and heat-rays may be turning back into matter. He expressed confidence in his theory by observing that when a light ray hits the nucleus of an atom, it can be turned from a light-ray into a couple of charred particles, that is, from light into matter.

For those concerned about a future so far away that man's mind cannot conceive the time it will take to get here, Dr. Swann advanced the opinion that from this change of light-rays back into matter will be born another universe.

Will Examine Edwards Secretly

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 19.—Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti today said that any mental examination the pardon board may order in the case of Bobby Edwards, sentenced to death for the "American Tragedy" slaying of Freda McKechnie, will be done "without publicity."

He said the board had taken no action on the Edwards case and had set no date for taking any action. Edwards is under sentence to die May 6.

There's one consolation. If everything else fails, we can always go back to the Republican form of government.

The idea of giving generously to families on relief has now been adopted by the stork.

Banking Bill Will Be Fought

Omnibus Bill Revising Federal Reserve Will Draw Fire In Congress

HOUSE WILL PUT LOAD ON SENATE

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 19.—The way was paved today for a bitter battle over the administration's omnibus bill, which drastically revises the federal system and takes a long step toward central banking.

The House Banking committee had agreed to keep the bill intact and report it favorably to the house.

In the senate Senator Carter Glass (D) of Virginia, seeing a threat to the federal reserve system, is fighting to divorce these provisions from the rest of the bill. House leaders have tentatively set next week for passage of the measure which would throw the battle into the senate.

Sponsored by Marriner S. Eccles, governor of the Federal Reserve board and attacked by many orthodox financiers, the proposed legislation centralizes control over operations of the federal reserve.

It is designed to give the reserve board power to order a money and credit system in tune with the administration in power, and divorce credit from private control.

Saul Leff Dies In Pittsburgh

Owner Of Leslie Hotel In New Castle Is Suddenly Stricken

Coming as a shock to his friends here, Saul Leff, owner of the Leslie hotel, died suddenly in his room in the Seventh Avenue hotel, Pittsburgh shortly after nine o'clock today. For the past two days he had been confined to bed with a throat infection but was thought to be improving.

Mr. Leff began life as a newsboy in Pittsburgh and later worked in the business offices of Pittsburgh newspapers. Some years ago he began purchasing hotels in various cities and was the owner of the Seventh Avenue in Pittsburgh, the Leslie here, and hotels in Sharon, Meadville and Canton, O. For some time he resided in New Castle and operated the Leslie.

For the past several years he has resided in Pittsburgh leaving the management of the Leslie to Jacob Rafael, who was in Pittsburgh at the time of Mr. Leff's death.

He is survived by two brothers, Samuel and Louis H. Leff, and three sisters, Mrs. B. Grossman, Sharon, Mrs. Jacob Cooper, Atlantic City, N. J., and Mrs. Harry Hoffenberg, Pittsburgh. Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon.

Woman Wounded As She Goes To Aid Of Another

Philadelphia Woman Wounded, Wielder Of Gun Inflicts Serious Wound On Self

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, April 19. — While attempting to aid a woman friend being pursued by a man, Mrs. Mary Herman, 40, today rushed into the path of a bullet and was wounded in the arm.

As Mrs. Herman fell unconscious on the sidewalk, William S. Fetters, 42, turned the pistol on himself, inflicting a serious wound in the chest.

Police said Mrs. Laura Corlett, 44, was the woman for whom the shot was intended. Fetters and Mrs. Corlett, estranged from her husband, have been lving in the same house for six years, detectives said they learned.

Fierce Dogs To Be Added To Force Guarding Inmates Of American Devil's Island

(International News Service)

EL RENO, Okla.,—Dogdom's part in the war against crime is ably demonstrated at the U. S. Southwestern reformatory here in the person of 100 pounds of canine fury assigned to Roy Lund, a guard.

The animal, of German and Swiss breeding, exemplifies the well-trained and thoroughbred police dog being adopted for guard duty in various parts of the country. It is deep-chested, short-haired, possesses a world of stamina and courage— and is a one-man dog.

Just recently the dog played an important part in the capture of two escaped convicts from the reformatory, Lund said. He indicated that dogs of this type are to be issued to guards on Alcatraz Island, the U. S. "Devil's Isle," according to present plans.

"On my command to search," said Lund, "the dog led our party to a heavy undergrowth where the escaped men were hidden. I said 'charge,' and the dog ran toward the clump. The two men surrendered before the dog reached the undergrowth. I then stopped the animal by shouting 'halt'."

The dog assigned to Lund is one of two kept at the reformatory. It has been in his care since a year ago, when he went to Morristown, N. J., to train with the animal.

The dog is my constant companion," Lund explained, "and obeys only my commands. These dogs are trained that way. They will obey their keeper's orders to the letter, but will not heed a stranger."

If anyone, either man or woman, approaches the prison guard, the dog immediately places himself between his master and the oncoming party. Lund said the dogs are not vicious and will not attack without reason. If the quarry shows fight, then the dogs fight.

"They are trained not to attack a man armed with a club," Lund said. "They circle the man at a safe distance until their master arrives."

The dogs are trained to disarm a man by clamping their jaws on the wrist of the gun hand.

"A clever trick mastered by most of these animals," said Lund, "is their method of combat when the quarry shows fight. My dog throws the full weight of his body against the man's leg closest to him and then grabs the other leg. This usually unbalances if not completely upsets the man."

Lund said the dogs are bred in Switzerland and are used by the signal corps of the Swiss army. Albert Muehler, a Swiss, who trained the dogs of Mussolini's police, is in charge of the training field in New Jersey.

"I never whip my dog," Lund said. "If he disobeys a command, I throw a small chain, which I always carry in my pocket, at him, and he will come and place his nose on my knee his way of saying that he is sorry. Then I command him to retrieve the chain."

BEER PARLOR PURGE IS BEING PLANNED

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., April 19—City and county authorities have joined forces here for a "beer parlor purge" to be carried out in connection with the renewal of beer licenses on June 1.

All questionable establishments which have been the source of complaint likely will be refused renewals when their present licenses expire the first of June, it was said.

Clinton Church Sunday Services

Special Services And Pageant Will Mark Clinton M. E. Easter Sunday Activities

"Let Us Crown Him" will be the theme carried out in the services to be held Easter at Clinton M. E. church, on the Koppel-New Castle road, at 7:30 o'clock in the evening, with the Rev. W. W. Wells, pastor, in charge.

A chorus "Welcome, Easter Light" with a responsive reading following, will open the program. Rev. Wells will lead in prayer, and the assemblage will join in singing "Let Us Crown Him". Announcements and an offering will be followed by a verse of "Far From The Cross."

A pageant entitled "Gifts From His Garden" will be featured. Taking part, will be: Loving Loyalty by Elizabeth Young; Spirit Of The Garden, by Marjorie Sanders; Joy, by Margaret Mills; Peace, by Ethel Davis and Service, by Marian Reeher. Rev. Wells will give remarks. The congregation will sing "That Glad Day," followed by the benediction, the closing number.

FISH ARE DYING IN PYMATUNING DAM

(International News Service)

JAMESTOWN, Pa., April 19—Hundreds of fish are dying from some mysterious cause, in Pymatuning reservoir, state-created river control basis and wild life habitat, according to local sportsmen.

Bodies of the fish have been found in large numbers along the shore line of the artificial lake. One explanation suggested was that sawdust inundated after the timber was cut from the swamp was creating a poison.

On Court House Hill

County commissioners have ordered ten gross of flags to be used in marking soldiers' graves on Memorial Day. The county has on hand about 2500 flags. It requires about 4,000 for the county.

Noble Booher of Shenango township was a visitor at the court house yesterday. Mr. Booher is one of the Lawrence county farmers who has been caught with a surplus of potatoes on hands. He has about 100 bushels which he is feeding to the pigs.

Mrs. Hazel D. Rick of this city has been granted a commission as notary public. The commission and bond were filed at the register and recorder's office yesterday. About two dozen notary commissions have been issued recently.

The case of The Thayer Company against the County of Lawrence in which the architects are seeking to recover $24,280 in fees for preparing plans for a new court house, has been placed first on the common pleas trial list for next week. It will be tried before a visiting judge.

County Treasurer William O. Pitts has a force of extra clerks at work making out the 1935 tax cards. The work is being done in the two court rooms and in jury rooms. A large force is being employed in order that the cards may be ready to send out promptly. The county is sadly in need of revenue.

Will of the late R. D. Amos of Shenango township has been placed on record at the register and recorder's office. After providing compensation for Elmer Amos, for taking care of him, decedent leaves his estate to his children, Elmer Amos, R. R. Amos, E. G. Amos, Cora E. Amos Houk, Dora B. Amos Johnson, and Wilbur Amos and Mildred Amos Linton, the latter two being children of decedent's son, Hiram Amos, deceased. Cora E. Amos Houk is named as executrix.

Settlement of the case of Dorothy D. Bird against the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad company, which was on the trial list for next week, is reported. The case was one involving settlement of an insurance policy on the life of Mrs. Bird's husband, who was an employee of the railroad company.

Dog law enforcement agents are now making a check up of Lawrence county to find out how many dogs are still unlicensed. Some prosecutions have been brought against owners who have refused or neglected to take out licenses. When an information is made by a state enforcement agent the dog owner must pay a fine of $10 and costs, in addition to having to take out a license, provided he wishes to keep his dog. Leading a dog's life isn't as hard as it used to be when farmers employed dogs on treadmills to do the family churning.

A bill has been introduced at Harrisburg providing for taxing cats. When this bill becomes a law the tax collector is going to have a tough time making owners cough up a dollar for the "kittie." It's a wonder some bright legislator has not introduced a bill taxing poultry just so he would have something to cackle about.

For the convenience of persons who have secured Home Owners Loan Corporation mortgages, a district collection office has just been established at Pittsburgh, at the corporation office, corner of Liberty avenue and Ninth street. There are about 15,000 HOLC loans outstanding in this district, which includes Lawrence, Allegheny, Beaver, Butler, Green and Washington counties. Hereafter remittances can be made either to the Pittsburgh office or the regional office at Baltimore, Md.

MORE DRUNKS NOW THURSDAY NIGHTS

(International News Service)

PITTSBURG, April 19—It used to be Saturday night the police blotters downtown in Pittsburgh were cluttered up with the names of "drunks."

Now it's Thursday night.

Officials at the Allegheny hospital where they haul the drunks attribbute the Thursday night 25 per cent increase in "business" to the fact that relief checks are now mailed out in midweek instead of at the end of the week.

SEEK BULLETINS

HARRISBURG—Three thousand copies of bulletins issued by the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, were mailed in response to requests during March.

Roosevelt Plans To Welcome Byrd

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 19.—President Roosevelt has planned to welcome Admiral Byrd back to the United States from two years in the Antarctic region at the Washington Navy yard on May 10.

The president will drive to the yard and receive Byrd and the officers and men of the expedition, afterwards boarding the yacht Sequoia for a reception and probably a cruise down the Potomac.

Byrd and his men will first land at Hampton Roads, Va., touching United States soil there, and will proceed to Washington aboard the expedition vessel, the "Bear."

"Beamball pitching is nothing to face compared with the Blow-out I had"

SAYS FRANK FRISCH, Manager, World's Champion St. Louis Card's

Don't take chances on BLOW-OUTS!

EQUIP YOUR CAR NOW WITH A SET OF GOODRICH Safety SILVERTOWNS AND GET LIFE-SAVER GOLDEN PLY BLOW-OUT PROTECTION!

• If you've never thought much about the danger of blow-outs — if you've never had one yourself, just listen when motorists tell about the ones they've been through. Here, for instance, is what Frankie Frisch says about the one he had:

"It's a nerve-wracking business to face big league pitchers day in and day out. And it's no fun at all to watch a 'high hard one' streaking straight for my head . . . Just a few inches out of the groove and I'd be finished for life. But those vicious pitches are nothing at all compared with the blow-out I had. At least I can watch a pitcher wind up — see him deliver that bullet-like ball. But who ever saw a blow-out coming? I didn't . . . I was just breezing along at 45 miles an hour when — BANG! — she blew — and over I went! . . . I certainly don't want to face another blow-out. That's why I have Goodrich Golden Ply Silvertowns on my car."

At the speeds that are common on the highways these days, blow-outs are more dangerous than ever. As your tires spin around faster and faster, terrific heat is generated inside. The rubber and fabric separate. A tiny blister forms. It grows bigger and bigger until — BANG! — a blow-out — and your car may plunge off the road. But in Safety Silvertowns the Life-Saver Golden Ply resists this internal heat. The rubber and fabric don't separate — blisters don't form, and these high speed blow-outs are prevented before they get started. Why not play safe? . . . This Golden Ply blow-out protection is free, for Silvertowns cost no more than other standard tires.

Come in let us show you this remarkable new tire. Press your hand on the deep-grooved Silvertown tread. Feel the big, husky cleats grip. Then you'll know why Goodrich Safety Silvertowns also give you positive protection against dangerous, "tail spin" skids. Notice the ruggedness of this extra-thick tread—this long-wearing tread that gives months more mileage at no extra cost.

Let us put a set of Safety Silvertowns on your car. Remember, Silvertowns cost no more than other standard tires.

Strawser Changes Story Of Slaying

Convicted Farmhand Says Fiancee And Parents Had Part In Murder Plot

(International News Service)

SELINSGROVE, Pa., April 19.—District Attorney Henry J. Sommer today placed little credence in the new story of Sherman Strawser, doomed Snyder county farmhand, that his fiancee, Zilla Gill, 16, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Gill, were implicated in the slaying of Charles Gable, a farmer, for which he was sentenced to death.

"Right now Strawser is very much interested in living and he wrote a letter to his parents expressing hope he can stay alive," Sommer said.

Will Tell Truth

"If he understands the situation and knows that even if he testifies against the Gills he will still have to die, I think he will tell the truth."

Strawser testified at his trial he killed Gable and robbed him of $80 with which to Marry Zilla but his attorney, former Judge Miles I. Potter, in appealing for clemency before the pardon board, presented a new statement implicating the Gill family. Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti suggested it be investigated and that the Gills be arrested.

Margiotti indicated Strawser will be given a respite delaying his death, scheduled for April 29, in order to testify against the Gill family. Sommer asserted the board gave no indication of a commutation to life imprisonment and expressed belief that if Strawser understands the situation he will repudiate his later statement.

Discharged Man Shoots Employer

Former Tavern Employe Kills Woman And Turns Gun On Self In New York State

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, April 19.—Double shooting in a Peekskill tavern following an employe's discharge from his job today had resulted in the deaths of Nicholas Carpinelli, the former employe, of Poughkeepsie, and Mrs. Antoinette Mancuso, 30, said to be the wife of the proprietor.

According to police, Carpinelli, discharged by Mrs. Mancuso for reasons unknown, pushed his way into the place under the influence of liquor and pumped three bullets into her body and one in his own. Both died a few hours later.

REVIVE SEARCH FOR MISSING WOMAN

(International News Service)

FARMINGTON, Conn., April 19.—Discovery of a woman's footprint on a lonely mountain trial today revived search for pretty Anna Booth Gordon, 25, who vanished from her home here nine days ago.

Search leaders concentrated the 500 national guardsmen, cavalrymen and civilians in the vicinity of the trail.

BOOM! GET A CAT TRAP

The lady was visiting the aquarium.

"Can you tell me whether I could get a live shark here?" she asked an attendant.

"A live shark? What could you do with a live shark?"

"A neighbor's cat has been eating my goldfish, and I want to teach him a lesson."

Naval Seaplanes Will Make Flight

Plans For Massed Flight Of Naval Planes Announced On Coast

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, April 19.—Plans for a massed flight of navy seaplanes from the seaplane patrol wing's base at San Diego, to Alaska, Adak and Midway Islands, Hawaii and return to California was disclosed here today.

The flight, embracing more than 11,000 miles, is said to be the greatest aerial undertaking ever planned and while details were carefully guarded by naval officials, it was revealed the project will get under way with the sailing today of the mine sweepers Gannet and Tern from San Diego for Alaska. These ships will carry fuel, spare parts and other equipment for the planes. The exact date of the start of the flight has not been revealed.

CARPET WORKERS DEMAND INCREASE

(International News Service)

THOMPSONVILLE, Conn., April 19.—Demanding a 25 per cent wage increase, 1900 carpet workers of Bigelow-Sanford mills here today were on record in favor of a general strike to shutdown the mill.

The matter will be referred to State Labor Commissioner Joseph M. Tone for arbitration, however, before the men quit work, Stanley Yesukiewicz, secretary of the Carpet Workers local said today.

Correct this sentence: "Spring is here," said the neighbor, "so I'm returning the tools I borrowed last year."

Sheriff Arrests Self On Charge

(International News Service)

CLAREMONT, N. H., April 19.—Sheriff Emery B. Monta of Sullivan county, swore out a warrant against himself charging driving under the influence of liquor, appeared as prosecutor against himself, pleaded guilty, was fined $100 and $3 costs, and then claimed he was "framed"—by circumstance.

"I wasn't drunk, and I can prove it," declared the sheriff, defending himself, today.

Last Tuesday Sheriff Monta's automobile struck one automobile a glancing blow and hit another parked automobile during a snowstorm. Later, he heard there was more or less feeling around the town that he was intoxicated so he swore out the warrant.

He appeared before Associate Justice Ira E. Colby, recited the details of the accident, declared that he had taken one drink, and that his windshield had been obscured by the clinging snowfall.

"Hex" Practices Under Spotlight

State Superior Court Gets Tangled Up With Magical And Weird Phrases

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 19.—Occult practices of believers in the supernatural were before members of the state superior court today as the judges began consideration of legal problems involved in the appeal of a Johnstown woman for alleged magic and fortune telling.

The woman, Mrs. Jennie Viscount, owner of a palatial residence in the exclusive Westmont section of Johnstown, was convicted on two counts of purported fortune telling by so-called "hexing powers". Denying the accusations, Mrs. Viscount carried an appeal from a Cambria county quarter sessions court to the higher tribunal.

Magical Phrases.

Legal documents in the case were abounding in weird and magical phrases revolving around the reported "hex" practices. Such items as human hearts, incense, magical powders, hearts fashioned from bacon, lemons adorned with pins and ribbons and mystic string were included among the descriptive passages of the attorneys' arguments.

In addition to Mrs. Viscount, principals in the appeal are Helen Senko, Brownstown, and Mrs. Alice Hauber, Johnstown, accusers of the appellant. The former charged she paid Mrs. Viscount to gain the affections of George Kukola, also of Brownstown, while Mrs. Hauber said she paid the woman to remove an "evil spell" that had been cast upon her.

Sharon-Farrell Merger Plan Is Presented Today

Sharon Attorney Presents Petitions To Mercer County Court This Morning

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Pa., April 19.—Attorney C. E. Brockway, of Sharon, presented at open court this morning, before Judge J. A. McLaughrey, petitions asking the merger of the cities, Sharon and Farrell. The petitions were signed by 762 people of those cities and the attorney stated that this number will be swelled to a 1000 when supplemental petitions are filed later.

The court will set a return day on the petitions, and if, on the return day, no objects are offered to the merger proposal, it will set a day for a special election during which the voters will cast their ballots on the question. If there are objections offered the case will go into a hearing.

The plan is to include Sharpsville and Wheatland in the merger, but, as these are boroughs they can vote on the merger without the formality of petitions.

If Sharon, Farrell, Sharpsville and Wheatland voters are in favor of the plan a city of 50,000 people will have been created.

Reunion Plans Will Be Laid By Former Martin Gantz Group

All former students of the old Martin Gantz school on North Jefferson street will assemble for a meeting at Senior high school on Friday evening, April 26 at 8 o'clock, it was announced today following a meeting of the former students' leaders last night.

An election of officers and a discussion of plans for the students' summer reunion will be presented that night.

SHOES ARE TAKEN FROM SLEEPING MAN

Harry Bishop imbibed too freely last night. His legs grew weary and he became sleepy. He laid down in an alley running off Moravia street. Police found Bishop and took him to jail.

During his sleep someone stole his shoes and he appeared in his bare-feet in police court. He was discharged with orders to return to Ellwood City.

Forrest Good Is Killed By Convict

Ohio Deputy Sheriff Is Killed In Making Arrest—Another Officer Wounded

VAN WERT, O., April 19.—A deputy sheriff was shot and killed and an Ohio penitentiary parole officer was injured as they attempted to arrest a former convict late Thursday 18 miles west of here. Forrest Good, about 40, was instantly killed.

C. T. Evans of Vaughansville in Putnam county, the parole officer, is in the Van Wert County Hospital.

Sheriff R. B. Stevens, who also accompanied the men to make the arrest, said that Roy Smith, 34, is being held in connection with the shooting.

New Jersey Woman And Her Entire Slate Are Elected

MRS. W. A. BECKER

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 19.—With the election behind them and Mrs. William A. Becker of Summit, N. J., and her entire conservative slate elected, the D. A. R. conducted its annual memorial service today at Constitution Hall, which was followed by pilgrimages to Arlington Memorial cemetery and to Mount Vernon.

Among the following seven vice presidents general elected was Mrs. William H. Alexander, Monongahela, Pa.

Mayor Acts As Police Officer; Seizes Three

In portraying the role of a policeman at 11:20 p. m. in East Washington street Thursday, Mayor Charles B. Mayne indicated plainly he believes that an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure. In doing so he made three arrests and the trio, two men and a woman, all from out of this district, spent a night in the city jail.

They had been drinking, and when the men and woman entered the automobile which was parked in East Washington and Water streets, Mayor Mayne placed them all under arrest on a charge of drunkenness.

The men gave the names of J. R. Hulmes and Frank Lee. The woman refused to give her name when arrested last night. In police court today she said she was Mrs. Lee.

Hulmes admitted being a doctor and he was given a stern lecture relative to the results from driving a car while drunk. They were discharged.

News Briefs From City Hall

Police found a lost girl at 802 West Grant street and took her to her home at 606 West North street yesterday.

Police were compelled to disperse boys last night in Forest street, at the intersection of Croton avenue and Cascade street and also in East Meyer avenue.

Police sought persons who dumped garbage at 237 West Grant street last night.

PERMITS FOR POLES

Bell Telephone company today requested council at their meeting in city hall to permit the location of eight poles along Graceland road between Norwood avenue and the city line and the removal of eight poles from the old Graceland road between the same points. Council concurred in the recommendation that permission be granted.

The request from the company for the relocation of a pole at 212 Grove street was also granted.

CITY OFFICES CLOSE

By permission of Mayor Mayne, City Hall offices were closed owing to today being Good Friday.

Argument Sends Three To Jail

Taylor Tells Mayor He Took Bread-Knife From Woman Last Night

Bill Taylor and Mrs. Agnes Payne, both colored, and H. R. Holmes, white, a roomer at Mrs. Payne's home, Weaver and South Mill street, were arrested last night on a charge of drunkenness. They were given their freedom by Mayor Mayne in police court today.

According to testimony, Agnes had a butcher knife and Taylor took it from her. Agnes summoned police and they seized Taylor, then arrested Agnes. Shortly afterward they went to the home and took Holmes into custody.

In police court, Taylor said that Agnes wasn't mean, only when she was in her "cups" and in reply to a question told the mayor it would be safe to return to her the knife as it was the only bread knife she had.

FIND NO FIRE

Seventh Ward firemen were called to South Cedar street by an alarm from Box 714 at 8:10 last evening, but were unable to find any fire in the vicinity. This is the third false alarm from this box in the last week.

Steele Honor Man Of His Own Platoon

Maurice Dorwin Steele, of Enon Valley, who recently enlisted in the Navy through the local office was last week named honor man for his platoon. Each platoon consists of approximately one hundred men. The honor man is selected weekly for his personal cleanliness, fidelity, zeal and obedience. Steele is the first man from New Castle to be given this honor. This is made a part of his official record and when the time comes for promotion or special privileges this gives him a better chance than one who does not have the entry in his record.

Japan Plans To Build Airplanes

(International News Service)

TOKYO, April 19.—Apparently spurred by the recent operations of the Pan-American Airways in the Pacific, the Mitsubishi Aircraft company of Japan today announced it would import British commercial planes as models for planes to be manufactured in this country.

The planes will be made on a large scale and will be used by Japanese commercial aviation, according to the announcement, possibly for a South Seas route or an airway to China.

Anti-Lynching Bill Opposed

Group Of Southern Senators Openly Filibuster Against Measure

SEEK TO DELAY FARM BILL VOTE

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 19. — A strong group of southern Democrats were openly filibustering against the Bankhead Farm bill in the senate today in an effort to block a vote on the Wagner-Costigan anti-lynching bill.

While actually favoring enactment of the farm measure, the southerners hoped to keep it before the senate until the senate finance committee reports the administration's new NRA bill. The latter measure probably will be reported Monday. Then, the southerners will try to persuade the senate to take up President Roosevelt's NRA bill instead of the anti-lynching measure.

This procedure will be followed for weeks in an effort to postpone a vote on the lynching bill until the closing days of the session. At that time, by threatening to stage a vicious filibuster against it, the southerners hope the senate will abandon the measure entirely.

The Bankhead bill, used as a screen for the anti-lynching filibuster, would create a $1,050,000,000 corporation to extend loans to farmers and farm tenants for the purchase of farms and outbuildings. Its author, Senator Bankhead (D) of Alabama, said it would relieve distress among 100,000 tenant farmers and share-croppers.

The Wagner-Costigan bill would make local officers liable to heavy punishment in federal courts if any prisoner were lynched through official neglect or carelessness. It also would make a county liable to a civil damage suit of $2,000 to $10,000 to be paid the family of any victim of a lynching.

The Chinese are seating dirt again but this time it is famine instead of Japanese threats.

Discovery Made at "Fountain of Youth" Site

Evidence of the race whose hardiness may have inspired the "Fountain of Youth" legend which drew Ponce de Leon to Florida, has been dug up in burial ground of members of the race who lived at the time Ponce de Leon discovered Florida on Easter Sunday, 1513. Burial ground is located near spring identified with the Spanish explorer (inset) in legend, at St. Augustine, Fla. Photos show replica of Indian ceremonial lodge erected over site, and some of the graves uncovered. These Indian graves are of special interest to archeologists because they give indications of Christian burial customs.

Long Prepares To Be Dictator

Louisiana Legislature Is Passing Bills To Give Him Complete Control

(International News Service)

BATON ROUGE, La., April 19—While the National Administration fumed, Senator Huey P. Long today made ready to supervise final enactment of state legislation giving him full control over federal public works funds and a virtually complete dictatorship in Louisiana.

Enactment of the latest batch of long measures, twenty odd bills in all, was scheduled for tomorrow. The legislation, which will make the Louisiana kingfish virtually an absolute ruler of the state received the senate finance committee's approval yesterday with startling rapidity. The house was scheduled to concur in senate amendments tomorrow.

Under the new legislation Long would, besides having control of PWA fund expenditures have the power to dominate the treasuries of local governing agencies as well as the local election machinery.

State militiamen continued to patrol the corridors of the new capitol building under the martial law proclamation of last January.

Informed that Secretary of the interior Ickes had threatened to cancel federal fund allotments to Louisiana as a result of the Senator's latest move toward virtual dictatorship, Long replied that he would "slam Ickes' ears back" Monday in an answer from the floor of the United States senate.

MORE BOYS

HARRISBURG—Boys continue to outnumber girls in the elementary schools of Pennsylvania, according to the Department of Public Instruction. There are approximately 750,000 boys in the lower grades, compared to 707,000 girls. Only in the public school kindergartens do girls outnumber boys, 19,000 to 18,900.

TEETH ON ICE

(International News Service)

PITTSFIELD, Mass.—It was a cold morning, cold enough to make William Cashman's teeth chatter—if they had been in his mouth. But they weren't. They were solidly enclosed in a cup of ice which had been a cup of water where William had placed them when he went to bed. It took an hour of thawing before the teeth were free to pursue normal pursuits.

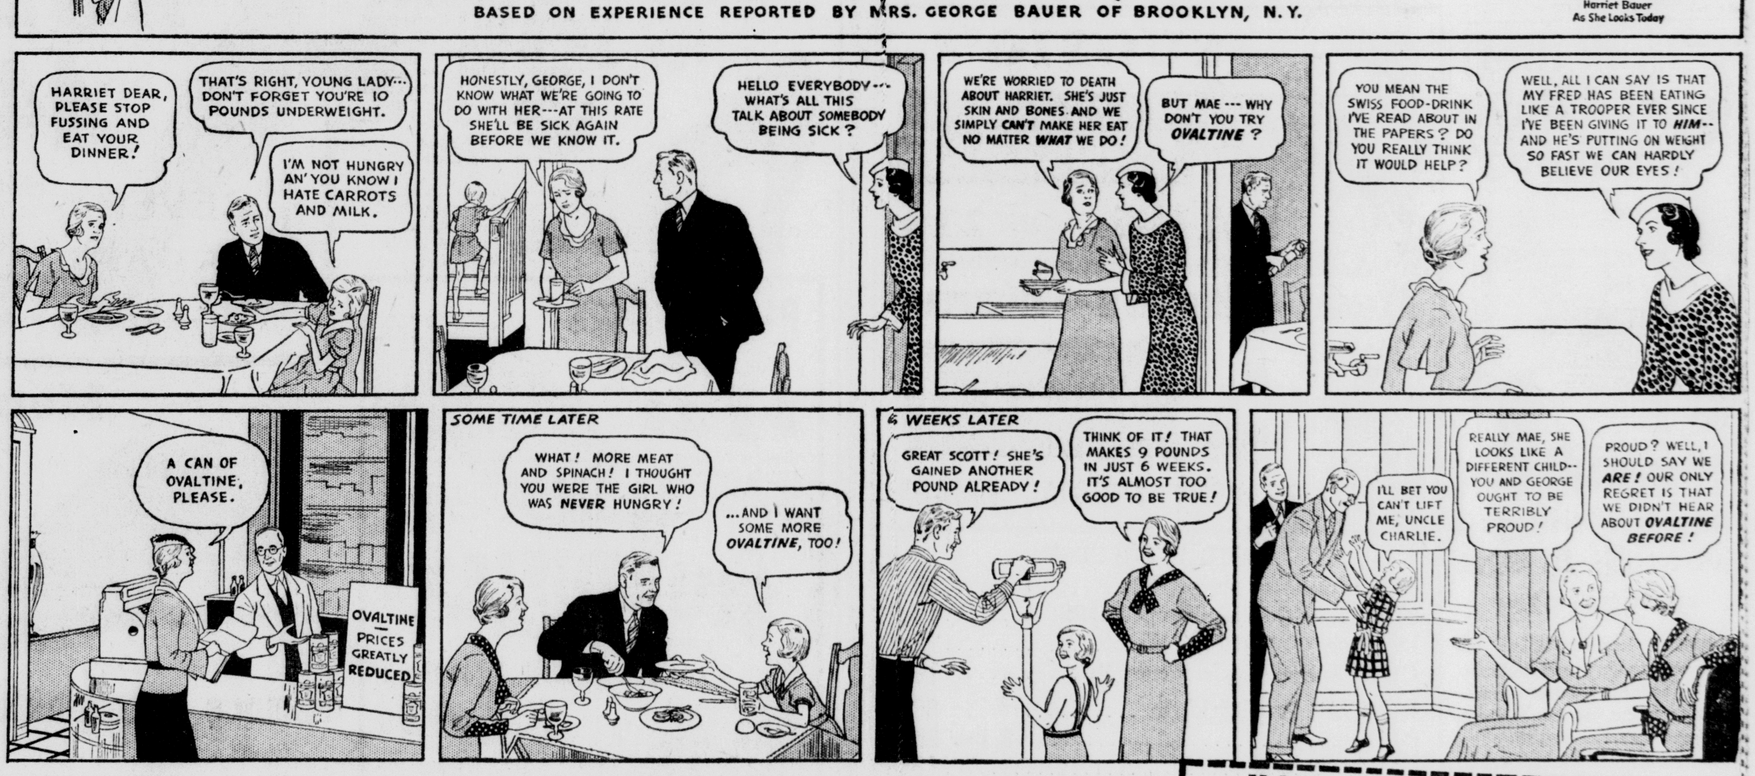
BACKWARD PUPIL

HARRISBURG — Approximately 40,000 public school pupils in Pennsylvania are classified by the Department of Public Instruction as "handicapped pupils in special classes." They receive special attention designed to correct their mental or physical handicaps. Close to 800 such classes are maintained in the schools of the state.

There are upward of 15,000 girls who apply daily for work in motion picture studios in Hollywood, Cal.

NEVER-HUNGRY HARRIET
SHE WAS 10 POUNDS UNDERWEIGHT, UNTIL .....
BASED ON EXPERIENCE REPORTED BY MRS. GEORGE BAUER OF BROOKLYN, N. Y.

Harriet Bauer As She Looks Today



And Now ... Read What Harriet's Mother Wrote:—

"My daughter had been sick and was 10 to 12 pounds underweight. In addition, she was very fussy about her meals—objected to carrots, spinach, milk, etc.

"Then I read about Ovaltine and thought I'd try it. To our great surprise, Harriet commenced eating things she never did before—and gained 9 pounds in 6 weeks. All our friends remarked at the wonderful change in her—thanks to Ovaltine."

This excerpt from a letter written by Mrs. George Bauer (151 Evergreen Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.) covers, of course, only one individual case. Naturally, we do not claim or guarantee that similar results will occur in every case where Ovaltine is used. But this letter is so typical of thousands we have received that we believe a thorough trial of Ovaltine is justified by every intelligent mother in similar cases of poor appetite and underweight.

For example: Here is another letter from another delighted mother, Mrs. L. S. Radesill, 437 W. Antietam St., Hagerstown, Md.: "My little girl would hardly eat a thing until I gave her Ovaltine. But now she is eating much better and has gained 2 pounds!"

Ovaltine is a delicious pure food concentrate first created in Switzerland (now made over here)—and approved by thousands of physicians. Already it has gained world-wide recognition as an important food for child-building—and is particularly noted for the remarkable increases in appetite, weight and nerve poise which so frequently occur when it is added to the daily diet. . . . Ovaltine is also highly recommended as a strengthening food for nursing mothers, convalescents, and the aged—and for sleeplessness, when taken hot at bedtime.

For the sake of your child try Ovaltine. You simply give it mixed with milk—either hot or cold—and children love its delicious taste. Obtainable at all drug, grocery and department stores.

Estimate Repairs For Coming Year

School Board Allots $20,000 To Cover Repairs In All School Buildings

Like homes and other buildings, school buildings need repairs from time to time. Window shades get torn, spouting wears out, cement walks get broken, the plumbing needs attention, and all of it must be done at the expense of the taxpayer. Hence, in preparing the budget for the coming school year, the school board took into account the need for repairs in the coming year and estimated they could get by on $20,000.

This is a sharp reduction from the year when $23,685 was spent in repairs but the board will endeavor to get through on the $20,000 allotted. The repairs include all the buildings of the system and are itemized as follows:

	1935-36

CCC Equipment Is Being Bought

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 19—To meet the expanded CCC program, more than 25,000 trucks, tractors, tractor-trail builders, and other automatic and heavy equipment are being purchased, or have been contracted for at a cost of $20,840,000, Director Robert Fechner announced Thursday.

The equipment will be distributed among the 2,916 CCC camps to be operated when the corps expanded from the present 375,000 men to 600,000.

CITY MANAGER NABBED

(International News Service)

SANDUSKY, O.—Patrolman Curt Krebs, on the force only two weeks, took seriously his chief's order to watch for traffic violators. He saw City Manager Robert L. J. Wagar attempting to turn against a red light. Krebs stopped him. An argument ensued; each claimed he was right. Krebs won out when he produced a copy of the city ordinance.

We hearby offer Huey $100 to stand up in the Senate and explain exactly how he would give everybody $5000.

Houses Of Steel And Glass Planned

First Of New Type Will Be Ready For Inspection Of Public Soon

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 19.—Houses of steel and glass, the "homes of tomorrow", are being looked to today as a saving factor for Pittsburgh's giant steel industry as Carnegie Institute of Technology prepares to exhibit the first of the new type dwellings here.

Steel for the walls, corrosion resisting and of high tensile strength, was rolled at the Vandergrift and McKeesport plants of the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company. The walls and other sections will be welded together, not bolted, and cork insulation between walls will make the home snug and warm in winter as well as cool in summer.

The house, planned by Walter J. Stulen, Tech faculty member, is being demonstrated in an effort to make Pittsburgh the center of the growing "pre-fabricated steel house" industry. Steel house companies at present center in the middle and far west.

PIONEER PASTOR TO GET MEMORIAL

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Pa., April 19—In honor of Dr. Thaddeus Dodd, a pioneer pastor and educator of southwestern Pennsylvania, a memorial is to be erected at the lower ten Mile Presbyterian church, Amity, this year.

Dr. Dodd was associated in the establishment of Washington Academy, which later became Washington College and then was emerged with Jefferson College of Canonsburg to become Washington & Jefferson College. It was in the Amity and Washington districts that Dr. Dodd carried on his ministry of religion and education when that area was little more than wilderness.

The site chosen for the memorial is near the location of the first church built under Dr. Dodd's direction and is situated close to his grave.

CAN ATTEND CONVENTION

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 19.—New Castle postmen who desire to attend the convention of the National Association of Letter Carriers at Cleveland, Ohio, from Sept. 2 to 7 may be given leave of absence.

First Assistant Postmaster General W. W. Howes has notified Postmaster Steen he may grant leave to such carriers wishing to attend the convention. Such leave may be without pay or may be granted as part or all of carriers' annual leave with pay. Postmaster Steen will exercise his discretion in determining how many carriers may be spared without detriment to the service.

GIRL'S UNIQUE JOB

DENVER,—Denver's pioneer nudist organization has disbanded.

When we started out we had no idea we would meet opposition in the form of police and public opinion," J. L. Garrison, chairman of the board of directors of the Mile High Health club, explained. "In deference to his opposition we are quitting."

The announcement came after 27 members of the organization had been arrested while attending a meeting, and 18 of them fined $1 each in police court.

THANKLESS JOB

(International News Service)

CHILLIWACK, B. C.—Administering relief is just a "pain in the neck" to Alderman J. F. Semple, chairman of the relief committee, who started the city council by demanding his immediate release. "I have been struck in the face with broom handles, kicked by irate relief recipients, and bombarded with anonymous letters of a most unpleasant nature," he said in explaining his resignation.

BEAVERS WORK TOO HARD IN BEDFORD

(International News Service)

BEDFORD, Pa., April 19.—Because of the reported destruction of orchards in the northwestern section of Bedford county by beavers, game commission officials have started a drive to limit the number of animals in that area.

The orchards have been inundated by waters from streams whose flow was diverted by beaver dams. Beavers were also said to be "cutting down" fruit trees in their search for timber with which to build dams.

The colony of beavers was released in the streams several years ago and has grown rapidly. They are particularly abundant in the mountain tributary of the Juniata river.

Goodbye—for today

By Frances Heath

McClure Fiction

She pretended to ignore the fact that, of late, he sent for the other girls far oftener than he rang for her.

Illustrated by A. G. SKRENDA

I BEG your pardon. . . I'm very sorry." Carol's voice, always low and softly beautiful, now had a sob-like catch in it.

She had done something which was against all precedent. She had opened a door without knocking; impulsively unclosed the door of Larry Dugan's office without a warning. And now she understood just why she should never have done such a thing. Because there was Larry, her Larry, with Florine held closely in his arms.

Looking over Florine's white-gold curls and ignoring her pussy cat smile, Carol gazed straight into Larry's eyes, from which all their usual twinkle had fled. He had the look of a naughty and very dear little boy caught stealing. Because of that look, she had said, "I beg your pardon."

But when she'd said, "I'm very sorry," she'd meant that for herself, because she realized the girl in his arms might just as well have been Reda or Peggy.

It was especially disconcerting because only this morning Carol had said "good-bye forever" to Larry. She had meant of course, "Well anyway until tonight, or tomorrow, or whenever you say, Larry Dugan." Now she knew it must really be forever, and she was disconsolate.

Mechanically she went back to her desk and finished her work. Then with unflagging footsteps, her pride and her good sense driving her on, she made her way to the president's office.

"Mr. Rand—my mother is desperately ill. In Ohio. I must go to her at once." Her mother was long dead, and Ohio just happened to be the first state that occurred to her.

He started to say something about seeing Mr. Dugan, but something in her look told him that that was just whom she had seen.

"I'm very sorry, Miss Day. You'll come back again to us, won't you?"

"No I won't come back, Mr. Rand. Thank you. Goodbye."

She went back to her desk and cleared it of her personal belongings. There wasn't much. A few old letters, an address book, a handkerchief and a diary. She had almost forgotten about the diary. Dreadful, if she had left that behind.

SHE opened it to the first entry of six months ago.

June 1—I'm so thrilled! I have a new job. With Larry Dugan. He is the handsomest man I have ever seen. His chin has a deep cleft. What's that old adage about a dimple in the chin and a devil within? I don't believe it's true about Mr. Dugan. I'm going to like that man.

June 2—Larry Dugan. I just love the name. And how it suits him! Always laughing and saying nice things. He touched my hand today and said he liked my dress. I wore the new blue print.

June 3—Larry called me "Beautiful." "Hello Beautiful," he said. And I'm not even pretty. I know. I could say it here if I really thought so. And he said my eyes are expressive. "I can always tell exactly what you are thinking," he said. Maybe that isn't so good!

June 5—Larry told me he just loves my nose. "It isn't pug, Carol, it's retroussé. And I don't see any freckles—well, hardly any." Then he kissed me right on the tip of it.

June 10—I can't resist him any more. He kisses me whenever he calls me into take dictation. I say, "Good morning, Mr. Dugan." Very business like. And he kisses me. They land anywhere. On my chin, in my hair, behind my ear.

June 12—Today it landed on my lips—the kiss. I loved it.

June 15—I love Larry Dugan.

June 16—I love Larry Dugan so much it hurts. I say his name over and over in my heart. I live for the moment when he'll press the button to call me into his office. I never say, "Good morning, Mr. Dugan," any more. I fly straight into his arms.

June 18—I bought two new dresses. A midnight blue crepe and a Martini green dance frock. Larry said something about a date sometime. Oh, I hope so!

Carol dropped the book from nerveless fingers. Was it possible that that carefree happy girl had been herself? When she had written "I love him" did that girl of only a few months ago know what love meant? She seemed to think it was all lightness and joy and happiness. But the Carol of today knew of its burning restlessness, its desperate yearning and unhappiness.

"Goodbye, Reda." She hated Reda, tall and pulsating; she called herself Russian.

"Goodbye, Peggy." She liked Peggy who was cute and fresh and had to tell no one she was Irish.

She couldn't bring herself to speak to Florine.

"No wonder he's tired of you, Carol," she told her reflection in the mirror. "You're positively homely, girl. Washed out, colorless. This green dress does things to me. Awful things. Where did I hear green was unlucky? Well, it's the dress I got jilted in. No, I did the jilting. Or did I?"

She took a lipstick out of her bag. Onyx and silver case with salve a lovely pomegranate color. "Go on lips, smile!" She painted on a smile carefully, and then cried a few tears.

She fumbled for the black and silver rouge box, and put a round spot of color on each cheek. "Like a clown. That's how I look." And then she wept a little more.

Her black hat which should have been put on, oh so carefully, she pulled savagely down in the wrong places.

Then she glared at herself through misty eyes. "Come on, fool, you got yourself into this. Pull out of it. Take a last look around, open the door and say, 'Cheerio, it was fun while it lasted!' "

She flung open the door leading into the outer office, and then quickly closed it again. Larry was out there with his hat and coat on. She couldn't face him. He'd be gone soon. She would wait.

She sat down on the old cot, which was never used for lying down, they were all so young and healthy. She picked up the diary.

June 18—Larry asked me! For a date! I'm so happy. We're going to dinner and the theatre.

Carol closed the little book which contained the story of her life since Larry had come into it. Her feet curled up on the couch, and her face hidden in the crook of her elbow, she thought on from there.

He had taken her to a Russian place for dinner; then they had gone to one of the more popular plays afterwards. Later they had danced a little at a night club and talked a lot. Or rather she had talked. All about herself. How she loved music and art and life and love—she had almost said him.

LATER in the vestibule of her boarding house, he had done the talking. How lovely she was, how much he wanted her, how mad he was about her, and in between these few statements, he had kissed her until she had fled from him up to her room.

She had buried her face in a pillow to hide its burning, and all the time she had been thinking that never once had he mentioned that he loved her.

And then—oh blessed of miracles—after a few weeks he had surprised her and, she suspected, himself, by proposing.

She was in heaven then. She had floated in an atmosphere beyond the clouds where the sun always shone. She took on a beauty reserved for women who were beloved. The world seemed a temple of worship; Larry was her god.

Gradually she had returned to earth and the ordinary office routine. And then it was that she noticed the knowing smiles on the faces of the other girls.

And another time—

And again:

Even hard boiled little Irish Peggy simpers and acts up when his lordship walks by. What in heaven is this—a harem?

They had agreed, or rather Larry had persuaded her to keep their engagement a secret, so she couldn't really blame those other girls. She had just lifted her firm chin and pretended to ignore the fact that, of late, he sent for them far oftener than he rang for her.

If finally a summons did come, she forgave him everything when he folded her in his arms and breathed, "God, I want you, Carol." Her eyes would answer, "I want you, too." But her lips said, "We'll be together soon, darling." Though somehow, no mention was ever made of a date to be set for the wedding.

Then he had introduced her to his 'gang' as he called them. They were a crowd of young people, carefree and young and happy.

She had written about them:

They probably wonder what Larry sees in me. The girls accept me because I make no play for their men. The men ignore me because I'm labeled Larry's. He forgets me entirely.

I sit in a corner while he sings blues songs to a siren on the piano. I'd look silly perched on a piano. Or I sit against the wall with an oh-what-a-lovely-time-I'm having expression, while I inwardly curse the girl in his arms who just makes dancing her excuse for being there—in his arms, I mean.

And then when I can't stand it another minute, I go out to the kitchen to help the hostess with the sandwiches.

Dear God, how can I go on loving him as I do? I have no more pride, no more Me. I'm just Larry's woman—and I get treated badly.

over. Greg offered to take me home. To get rid of me, of course. I said I could perfectly well go alone."

Larry had interrupted with a laughing, "Did he kiss you good night, Angel?"

"No, I kissed him. I thought I owed him something for dragging him out at that hour of morning."

"You're just a two-timing little—" He was smiling at her and opening up his arms so she could creep into them and have all the hurt kissed away.

But Carol didn't go into his arms. She had looked at him wide-eyed. He didn't really believe that she had kissed Greg! He was so sure of her he didn't really care if she had. She thought, "A girl must have some pride."

"You're calling me—" Her voice, strained and harsh, had held all the accusations with which she had never before assailed. "I'm afraid, Larry, that I'll have to break our engagement." There it was—out—and she hadn't meant it. Her heart had cried, "No, no darling! I didn't mean it!"

But her lips had hurried on, "It's horrible sitting round, hearing you sing love songs to the other girls, watching you dance with them. I can dance, too. You act as if I belonged to you. As if you were so sure of me that you could forget me entirely, knowing that I'd be there waiting when you cared to remember."

His eyes had blazed in answer to hers. "I didn't realize that being engaged meant that I was not to look at another girl. Perhaps you are right. Such an engagement had better be broken. I though that when two people loved each other, it wasn't necessary to be tied—"

Larry had glared at her. It would have been just the moment to go very dramatic and thrust his ring at him and say, "Take back your ring. I don't want it. Or your philandering love, either." Only he had never given her the one, and she wasn't a bit sure of the other. And then the buzzer had rung for him to go into Mr. Rand's office and she was left, feeling rather ridiculous, not knowing whether she was the jilter or the jilted.

Gathering up the letters he should have dictated answers to, she had gone back to her desk to compose them. It had taken her until four to finish the work.

It was then, knowing her work well done and in her heart yearning for a reconciliation, that she had burst in on him with Florine in his arms.

SHE cried again. Long, low sobs that wracked her body. A pounding at the door brought her to her feet.

A voice, Larry's, was calling, "I've been waiting for you an hour, young woman. Everyone has gone home. If you don't come out now, I'll come in and get you."

"Oh no you won't! The door is locked. Go away. I don't ever want to see you again." She was angry now. At herself, at him, at the whole world.

She could hear a chair dragged to the other side of the door. "I'll be seeing you," he called back cheerfully.

A half hour dragged wearily by. An hour. He called in remarks intermittently to let her know he was still waiting.

This was ridiculous. "Go home, Larry Dugan, I just said goodbye to you forever and I loathe anticlimaxes. I won't see you again. So go away."

"You're afraid. You don't dare come out here and say goodbye."

Larry laughed outright. "Why you crazy little nut, you've been crying. About me. Darling, I'm not worth it."

"I know you're not. You're not worth a single, solitary tear. You're not worth a damn. Even as a business man you're hopeless. I've done practically all your work ever since I've been here. You don't run your office. You get your work done by flattering the men and loving the girls into doing it for you."

He applauded quietly with his hands. "That's exactly what Mr. Rand said when he fired me. You two must have been discussing me."

"Larry. He didn't fire you!"

"Yes he did. He said he had lost too many good stenographers whose mothers became desperately ill in Ohio. He said good secretaries are hard to get, but he can find another office manager easily. That's what he thinks." Larry was bitter under his lightness.

"Do you mean other girls have left on account of loving you?"

"Only one, Carol. She was plain and old and I felt sorry for her. I kissed her once. I think she was a little in love with me."

"Is there any woman you know who isn't a little in love with you? I feel sorry with all my heart for the girl who ever marries you."

"Pity yourself, then, darling. You're going to do just that tomorrow morning."

"I am not! Some day I'll meet another man. He'll be all that you aren't. Homely and sweet and kind. He'll never look at another girl and he'll never forget me at parties."

"And he'll bore you terribly, Carol. He'll never make you laugh, and he won't know how to kiss you like this." Swiftly he took her in his arms and kissed her. Larry's kisses were always different. Some were like dew drops on the petals of a rose. This one was like a fiery sun sinking in a sea of flame.

SHE pushed him away frantically and ran toward the door. "And he'll talk things over sensibly. Not just gloss them over with love and kisses."

He caught her arm. "I'll talk things over with you, Carol. What is it you want me to say? That I'm sorry as hell about all those other fool women? That I know I treated you badly but I didn't mean to? . . . It was so wonderful to feel that you'd always be there waiting for me. I didn't realize how you felt. I suppose I must seem rather ridiculous to you. Always swiping kisses from pretty girls. And then to lose my job on account of it!"

There was a hurt in his voice. The soul-stirring, hidden sob of a man revealing his innermost self, and not liking much what he found. He was on his knees now. He had his arm around her waist, his head buried in her breast. And in that moment their two souls melted into an inseparable whole. She knew there would be other Florines and other Redas in his life, but there would never be another Carol, and she laughed at the phantoms of the girls that were to be.

She exacted no promises but her voice held a subtle threat which he tucked away in the back of his mind.

"No."

"Sensible you." He went through his pockets ruefully. "I have enough to take us to dinner. Let's go to that Russian place and start our romance all over again. Perhaps this time it will have a happier ending." He spoke wistfully.

"Wait until I make myself beautiful."

But it wasn't necessary to paint happiness on now. It shone through the carefully applied make-up. She adjusted her hat and patted the green dress. Yes, they did things to her. Lovely things.

She smiled at her reflection approvingly. "You're all his, Carol. But don't let him know it this time. Make him wonder."

* * * * *

"I'm ready." She was there before him.

"You're gorgeous."

She smiled quizzically and for once did not contradict him.

"I warn you, Carol, when I set my heart on anyone, I'm practically irresistible."

She laughed over her shoulder at him as they went through the office door. "Don't I know?" her heart answered. "Don't I know!"

Flood Of New Bills Presented

Clerks Of House Are Deluged With Bills On Thursday

LAST DAY FOR NEW MEASURES

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 19.—While hundreds of new bills deluged the clerks Thursday, the last day for introducing all new legislation except taxation, labor and social security measures, the house moved slowly through a record calendar of 133 separate bills.

Among the new measures introduced was one by Rep. Herbert Eberharter, Allegheny, licensing all gasoline pumps in the state at a fee of $1 each. Rep. Clinton A. Sowers, Philadelphia, introduced another Sunday movie bill and Rep. Anna Brancato, Philadelphia, put in a bill to consolidate Philadelphia city and county.

Rep. Edward J. Coleman, Lackawanna, sponsored a measure prohibiting constables from wearing uniforms resembling those of police. Rep. John J. Downey, Schuylkill, introduced a bill prohibiting attachment of wages and commissions for payment of delinquent taxes.

In rapid fire order the house passed through 64 bills on first reading and 42 on second reading and proceeded to consideration of the final passage calendar.

The bill of Rep. Darlington Hoopes, Berks Socialist, repealing the sedition act of 1919, was given second reading and placed on position for final passage.

Rep. E. Kent Kane, McKean, introduced a bill providing for the utilization of adult unemployed men now receiving relief in the construction of airports and hangars in boroughs, cities and counties in which they reside.

Indians Had Code Too, Discovery

(International News Service)

GLASTONBURY, Conn.—Codes are not new in Connecticut. In fact they are nearly 3000 years old and were observed by Indians, Louis W. Ripley of this town has discovered.

Ripley read from De Forest's history of Indians in Connecticut as follows:

"A Pequot who had borne arms the preceding summer against the Pocompocks, and thus violated the seventh article of the Pequot code, was ordered confined by the general court of Connecticut."

The episode, Ripley said, occurred in 1657 or 1658.

The Future Life (Easter Lesson)

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

John 11:25—"I am the resurrection and the life: he that believeth on me, though he die, yet shall he live."

(The international Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Easter Sunday is Matt. 25:31-46; Mark 12:26, 27; Luke 24:1-12; John 14:1-6; I Cor. 15:3-20, 50-58; I Thess. 4:13-18; Rev. 22:1-5, especially Luke 24:1-12 and John 14:1-6, the Golden Text being John 11:25, "I am the resurrection and the life; he that believeth on me, though he die, yet shall live.")

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

GOD HAS created man with an innate instinct for immortality. The deepest longing of his soul is expressed in the cry, "If a man die, shall he live again?" and in the answering hope, "I know that my redeemer liveth...and after my skin hath been thus destroyed, yet from my flesh shall I see God, whom I shall see for myself, and mine eyes shall behold, and not another."

The God of the Living

Abraham, Isaac and Jacob had been in their graves over eighteen centuries when Jesus spoke of God as still their God and said, "He is not the God of the dead, but of the living." These great men of faith were therefore living still, though long since dead, and they were living in the presence of God. "Whether we live, therefore, or die, we are the Lord's. For to this end Christ died and lived again, that he might be Lord of both the dead and the living".

The Living Christ

The Christian religion teaches much more than the immortality of the soul. It teaches "the redemption of our body." Herein it makes a tremendous advance on paganism. And it bases its hope of our bodily resurrection upon the glorious bodily resurrection of Christ as "the first-fruits of them that are asleep". His resurrection is one of history's best attested facts, being supported by the cumulative testimony of many competent and credible eye-witnesses. The New Testament records ten separate appearances of the risen Lord to his disciples during the forty-day period between his resurrection and his ascension: (1) to Mary Magdalene, John 20:14; (2) to the other women, Matt. 28:9; (3) to Peter, I Cor. 15:5; (4) to two disciples on the way to Emmanaus, Luke 24:15; (5) to the ten apostles Easter evening, Luke 24:36; (6) to the eleven a week later, John 20:26; (7) to seven apostles by the Sea of Galilee, John 21:4; (8) to over five hundred brethren, I Cor. 15:6; (9) to James, I Cor. 1:7; and to the eleven apostles at his ascension, Luke 24:50, 51. To these Paul adds appearance of Christ to him at his conversion, I Cor. 15:8. Upon such evidence the fact of Christ's resurrection becomes indisputable and an adequate foundation for our hope concerning the future life.

Christ the Living Way

Before his death Jesus had told his disciples of the future life and pictured heaven to them saying, "In my Father's house are many mansions, I go to prepare a place for you;...that where I am, there ye may be also." The best thing, therefore, about the future life will be our enjoyment of the presence and fellowship of Christ. To this fellowship of eternal bliss he and he alone is the way: "I am the way, and the truth, and the life: no one cometh unto the Father but by me."

Our Victory Over Death

Christ's resurrection is in no sense an isolated historic event. It has direct and vital bearing upon us in that his resurrection becomes the prophecy of ours and the justification of our faith in him and the certification of our hope in our own bodily resurrection, "When this corruptible shall put on incorruption and this mortal shall put on immortality" and "death is swallowed up in victory", and all the redeemed join in singing, "Thanks be to God which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ."

BACK TO NATURE MOVEMENT HELPS MANY SICK AND AILING PEOPLE OF NEW CASTLE

Science Brings Us A New Mixture Of Natural Plant Juices, Called Indo-Vin, Which Works With Our Food And Drives Out Poisons That Cause Rheumatism, Liver And Kidney Trouble, Stomach And Bowel Affliction.

G. H. MOSBY
Originator Of Indo-Vin: New, Nature's Medicine

Today, a more enlightened public is getting away from the use of nerve-deadening pills and tablets. People are depending more on nature and placing less faith in drugs. That is why Indo-Vin is made principally of natural ingredients. It is a food supplement and medicine combined. Its ingredients act directly on the four important organs of digestion and elimination, and tone up the whole nervous system, bringing restful sleep and increased energy. This new, scientific medicine is now being introduced to crowds daily here in New Castle at Eckerd's drug store. It was first introduced in New Castle a few weeks ago and has become a complete sensation and druggists and public alike state that it is helping people who had NEVER BEEN really helped before by ANY medicine.

How It Works

Indo-Vin is taken shortly after meals and mixes with the food in one's stomach, thus throwing off the poisons that foster stomach troubles and permitting the kidneys and liver to function properly. It acts within 10 minutes to stop acid rising, bloat and belching and will bring out awful gases and impurities (frequently from the first dose) which may have been inside of you for a long time, contaminating your blood and inner-organs.

It will cleanse the BOWELS cleaner than they have been for months, or for years. (Not violently or severly in a way to destroy your appetite.) It will give you the greatest appetite you EVER HAD. It acts as a diuretic to sluggish kidneys, flushing out quantities of impure matter which may have become dammed-up in the system (a common cause of backache, sharp pains, rising at night.) It will wake up that lazy liver, get that old bile flowing, and thus help any bilious person more than physics. Sick headaches will just disappear.

Indo-Vin goes to the cause of your troubles, removing deep-seated impurities from the rough walls of the stomach and lower intestinal tract. Cleansing out these impure substances permits freer flow of the digestive juices, makes the digestive organs sweet and clean and gives complete relief from indigestion, heart palpitation from gas, spitting up of food, shortness of breath, lump in stomach and dyspepsia. Likewise it has a great action upon the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, and thus it cleanses and improves the whole system in general.

START the Indo-Vin treatment today or tomorrow, and before another week has passed you will sense a BIG improvement. Notice the condition of your SKIN as soon as the organs are rid of impurities. From the day that the stomach, liver, kidneys, and bowels are ALL more active you will LOOK, ACT, and FEEL years younger.

This is no mere tablet or pill, not a powder, syrup or capsule, and it does not contain alcohol or a single habit-forming drug, but it is a scientific LIQUID mixture from 22 Medicinal Plants, all blended into one remarkable compound. It is vastly different from any previously known formula, contains perhaps more ingredients than three ordinary medicines put together. While it is being introduced in New Castle every suffering person can try it at the small cost of only a few cents a day. So if stomach affliction, or even some little digestive difficulty, is bringing you misery it would certainly be a mistake not to try it.

Indo-Vin is now being introduced to the public daily here in New Castle, at Eckerd's drug store. Also being sold in all the nearby towns by every good druggist throughout this whole New Castle section.

HERE'S GOOD PLACE TO GET HAY FEVER

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 19.—Allegheny county is no place for the victims of that dreaded summertime malady—hay fever.

A total of 20 plants in that area, it has been revealed, distributed hay fever producing pollens in the air to cause discomfort and irritation to the fever sufferers. Those pollens are in the air from the early days of spring until October.

The study of local plants and their fever-producing characteristics was presented to the Allegheny county medical society by scientists of the Falk clinic. Serum treatment, it was emphasized are the only serviceable remedies thus far discovered to combat the fever.

If your physician orders you to eat yeast and you find it hard to take, take one cake of yeast, add about three tablespoons of peanut butter, one tablespoon butter and a pinch of salt. Mash well with a fork, and use as a spread for crackers or filling for dates.

Bobby Edwards Has New Hope

Action Before Pardon Board Pleases Convicted Slayer Of Freda McKechnie

(International News Service)

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., April 19.—Chief Defense Counsel Frank McGuigan, Sr., today expressed satisfaction with the hearing held by the State Pardon Board in Harrisburg on the appeal of Bobby Edwards asking commutation of his death sentence for the "American Tragedy" slaying of Freda McKechnie, 27.

McGuigan said he was especially pleased with the proposal of the board to examine the sanity of the 22-year-old slayer and re-check the medical testimony in an effort to ascertain the exact cause of Freda's death.

Bobby, meanwhile, after a day of suppressed excitement over the appeal, regained his composure and calm in his death cell in the Luzerne county prison.

MANHOLE COVERS STOLEN

(International News Service)

SANDUSKY, O.,—A thief made away with a 100-pound manhole cover here the other night. The following night another manhole cover and a catchbasin grating weighing considerably more was stolen. The next night city workmen discovered a 300-pound fire hydrant had been disconnected and carried away. Police are still asking themselves: "Why?"

TO RECORD HISTORY OF EARLY INDUSTRY

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 19.—The early history of industry and transportation in Western Pennsylvania is to be recorded for posterity through the research of historians working under the auspices of the University of Pittsburgh and the Buhl Foundation.

To prepare the history, Arthur Pound, magazine editor, and E. Douglas Branch, history professor, have been commissioned for the job. Their research and writings will supplement the program of historical writings being conducted by the Western Pennsylvania Historical survey.

Aliquippa High Football Team Will Play Here

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner Announces First Spring Night Game April 26

Glassport High Here On May 3, And Scott High Of Braddock On May 10

New Castle High School "Red Hurricane" football team will play three spring night games at Taggart Field it was announced by Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner today. Aliquippa High will play here on the night of Friday April 26 under the arc-lights.

Glassport High, Class B champions last year will follow the Aliquippa game on Friday night May 3, and Scott High of North Braddock champions of Class A will be here on Friday night May 10. This is rather a tough spring layout for the local sons.

The Athletic Council at Senior High has sanctioned the Aliquippa game despite the fact that it was only planned to play two spring games. Coach Nate Lippe is having spring practice at Aliquippa for the first time and is anxious to test the mettle of his gridders, and therefore he asked for the spring game here.

Adamo At Guard

From reports in the valley, the "Steel City" boys expect to have a crackerjack team. Last year Aliquippa was defeated in only one game and that by Ambridge High, runnersup for Class A title.

The New Castle team has been hard at work at Taggart Field for the past few weeks, and the team is gradually taking shape with Harry Tuscano and Paul Small the most likely end starters, Charles Probst and Frank Crisci will take care of the tackles, and "Blacky" Adamo has been converted into a guard this year from center, with James Howley getting the passer-back post. The other guard will probably be Harvey Jokinen.

Good Backfield

In the backfield Johnny Cubas will probably be at quarterback, with Leroy Cox and Donegan at the halves, and with Mumford, Mort, and Engs anxious to win berths. The fullbacking is being divided between Stanley Kominic and "Gabby" DeCaprio.

The same admission prices will prevail for the spring games as last year with 50 cents for reserved seats, 35 cents for bleacher seats and 25 cents for students.

THE SPORT PATROL

BASEBALL BRIEFS

Branch Rickey, Jr., son of the vice president and general manager of of the St. Louis Cardinals, catches for the Ohio Wesleyan university nine. The elder Rickey also caught for Wesleyan during his college days. . . . If you are one of the baseball fans who take stock in the ability shown by teams in pre-season or exhibition games, just look what happens in games between the two Chicago teams. The Cubs are generally National league pennant threats while the Whitesox usually manage to finish in or near the American league cellar, yet when these teams oppose each other the Sox win most of the contests. . . . When the Pirates and Reds opened the season at Cincinnati last Tuesday, it was the coldest April 16 in that city since 1875.

There were 104,508 persons at the opening day games, for an average of 17,500 fans per game. Last year's inaugurals attracted crowds which averaged 23,500 per game. Cold weather caused the drop in attendance. In St. Louis only 2,500 fans turned out for the game between Cleveland and the Browns. . . . Zach Walton was the name used by Tom Zachary when he broke into the majors in 1918. He was a Guilford college all-around athlete. . . . When Wesley Ferrell earned that 1-0 decision over the New York Yankees on opening day, it marked the first time the Redsox have ever beaten Lefty Gomez. Previous to that game, the tall Spaniard had whipped Boston 11 times without a setback. . . . Salaries were first paid to ball players in 1868 by the Cincinnati club.

To determine how many games one club is behind another in a league standing add the advantage in games won to the advantage in games lost and divide by two. When a club has won more and lost more than the rival to which it is being compared, subtraction is necessary. Frequently there is actually a difference of a few percentage points when a couple of teams appear even under this reckoning. . . . Dick Bartell surprised everyone when he went through the entire spring training without spiking an opponent. . . . A straight ball thrown through the heart of the plate when the count is two or three balls and no strikes, or three balls and one strike is called a "cripple." . . . Frank Pytlak, Cleveland catcher, is one of the fastest men in the American league.

Fred Frankhouse, pitcher of the Boston Braves, once told a St. Louis player that the Cardinals had kept him in the league—by taking so many beatings from him. And it was the Cardinals who sent Fred to Boston. . . . There hasn't been a Pirate pitcher who has won 20 games per season since 1930 when Remy Kremer turned the trick. . . . Bill Werber of the Boston Redsox pilfered 23 bases during a six-week period when he was in the International league a few seasons ago. . . . Although Eddie Collins made 200 or more hits in only one season, 1920, he batted .300 or better in 18 campaigns. He participated in 100 or more engagements during each of the 18 seasons. . . . Goose Goslin doesn't like slow balls.

Officials Of City Loop Would Like To Have Sixth Club

PLAN THREE GAMES PER WEEK SCHEDULE

City league met last night at the Sport clubs store and it was decided to seek a sixth team for the loop which will open its baseball season May 9. The managers of the five teams paid their forfeit money according to W. G. Andrews, who served in place of President Lou Glitch who was unable to be present owing to illness in his home.

The teams which entered the league are Ryantown, South Side Merchants, National Pants, Slovak A. C., and the Shenango Pottery.

It was decided to play twilight ball three times a week, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday.

It was announced that if there are any fast teams who wish to enter the loop and make it a six club affair they will be welcomed.

"Lefty" Grove Has Confidence

Former Philadelphia Star Hurler Says "I'll Win 18 Games For Sox"

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, April 19.—Can "Lefty" come back? That's the question puzzling millions of baseball fans throughout the country and all the rival club managers in the American league.

The Lefty in question is Robert Moses Grove, veteran of the Boston Red Sox. Let Lefty himself answer:

"My arm never felt better and I think I may be good for at least 18 wins. Maybe more. I may not have as much speed as I used to have but I've still got enough to set a lot of hitters back on their heels. I could be a lot slower and still be faster than some of them that win."

Joe Cronin, manager of the Red Sox, predicts a big year for Lefty. "He's a cinch to win 18," says Joe.

Redlegs Again Defeat Pirates

Cincinnati Ends Series With Pittsburgh By Taking 9 To 4 Victory

NEW HOME RUN MARK EXPECTED

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, April 19.—It's still a little too soon to make any rash predictions in baseball, but events to date indicate an all-time record for home runs.

There were not fewer than ten homers yesterday and seven of them were fashioned in one of those wild and woozy Philly-Dodger affairs in the Philly bandbox where homers are as common as whiskers in Moscow.

Despite the Foxx-fashioned homers, the A's dropped their second straight to the surprising Senators, 6 to 5, largely because a young rookie, Yclept Leon Pettitt, set the A's back on their heels in a relief role.

The Tigers, with Jug-Handle Tommy Bridges on deck, turned back the White Sox, 5 to 4, but had to score two in the ninth to do it.

Yanks Finally Win.

The Yankees finall broke into the win column with a 4 to 0 triumph over the Red Sox and Johnny Broaca, the bespectacled gent who once said he would rather slave for Col. Jake Ruppert's filthy lucre than die for dear old Yale and cashless glory, applied the whitewash.

Over in the National league, the weather man stopped Babe Ruth from annoying the Giants but elsewhere battles raged along frigid fronts.

The Reds punched more holes in that sieve-like pitching staff of the Pirates to ease through 9 to 4 for their second victory in two days.

Paul Dean Wins.

Paul Dean had to travel at top speed to garner the first of 25 victories forecast for him. The younger of the delirious brothers held the Cubs to eight widely-spread hits and had what it takes in the pinches. Larry French held the Cards to five hits but, as is so often the case with Larry, he tossed one good ball too many and Joe Medwick hit it into the bleachers for the only run of that game.

The Dodgers took a five run lead on the Phils and later a four run margin but blew both in the tenth, 10 to 9 .George Watkins' homer—the seventh of the pastime—with two aboard tied it in the ninth and the daffiness boys grew discouraged and blew the works in the tenth.

Fight Tickets Are Expensive

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, April 19.—Judging by the top prices they have put on their tickets, Madison Square Garden and the Twentieth Century Sporting club, which are promoting the first four big outdoor boxing shows, believe prosperity has already turned the corner.

Here are the "prosperity" prices they are counting on getting: Canzoneri-Ambers, $5.50; Ross-McLarnin, $11.00; Braddock-Baer, $27.50; Carnera-Louis, $16.;50.

Louis-Levinsky Bout Planned

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, April 19.—A heavyweight bout between Joe Louis, sensational Detroit fighter, and King Levinsky appeared to be in the making today.

Levinsky's manager, Harold Steinman, made it known that Levinsky will meet Louis for "a reasonable guarantee with a percentage of the net gate receipts."

Catching Trout At New Wilmington

Results from trout fishing are arriving from New Wilmington, according to Frank Williams of the Lawrence County Sportsmen's association. W. H. Thompson and his son, William got 10; Wilbur Patterson 8, Ray Elliott 7, William Byers 3, Archie Minteer 2 and Russell Wilson 3. The fish were caught in the Little Neshannock.

Rosenbloom Beats Massera On Coast

(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, April 19.—Maxie Rosenbloom, former king of the light heavyweights, won an unpopular decision in 10 rounds from Charley Massera, Monongahela, Pa., coal miner, here last night.

Massera stuck with Rosenbloom all the way through the fight trading blows with the former champ.

Boston Marathon Being Run Today

"Al" Snyder Of New Castle Is Entered In 26-Mile Jaunt In New England

(International News Service)

HOPKINTON, Mass., April 19.—This hill town, which claims distinction only as the highest point in Middlesex county, was the plains of marathon today as 210 twentieth century pheidippes of the United States and Canada among them six former champions, line up at noon for the starting gun in the 39th annual Patriot's Day, Boston Athletic Association marathon.

Predictions were that the 2 hours, 31 minutes, 1 3-5 seconds record for the 26-mile, 385 yards classic to the B. A. A. club house in Boston would be broken. Dave Komonen, of Sudbury, Ont., the winner last year, was favored to repeat his performance but in better time than in 1934.

Baer-Schmeling Fight May Be In Chicago, Illinois

German Promoter Rothenberg Doing Nothing But Cabling To Mr. Hoffman

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, April 19.—Ancil Hoffman, manager of Max Baer any time he can locate him, is becoming unimpressed with Walter Rothenberg, the gentleman who wishes to promote a Baer-Schmeling heavyweight championship abroad on German pfennigs, Mr. Hoffman practically conceding the point today. He did so by stating that, while Herr Rothenberg had shown a willingness to give him the sum of $300,000, tax free, for the fight, he, Hoffman, was not entirely easy in his mind. He's funny that way, but he'd rather be shown the $300,000.

"I told him last night to come over here and stop cabling," Mr. Hoffman said, plaintively. "The man cables me every other day but that isn't what I want. What do I want? Don't be silly. I want the $300,000, providing he has it."

Needs $300,000

This, as a matter of fact, is a point that, by day, causes Mr. Hoffman to gaze very pointedly at nothing at all and, by night, derides his dreams. Has Herr Rothenberg the sum of $300,000 and, if so, why doesn't he keep it himself? Mr. Hoffman doesn't exactly know just now but he plans to find out.

The writer, of course, has erroneously held an impression for many years that there aren't enough pfennigs in the world to make up the sum of $300,000 but then it's no great novelty when I'm wrong. In case I'm not, however, the Baer-Schmeling fight will go to Chicago in September, with Hoffman and good, old John Dempsey, the heavyweight inn-keeper, in on the promotion. Hoffman virtually admitted as much today.

"I'll get $300,000 in hand and on the line before we leave America," said he. "Otherwise, it looks like Chicago. The fight will draw better there than it will in New York and it ought to do a half million here, at that."

Tunney Thinks Baer Will Win Over Braddock

(International News Service)

KOBE, Japan, April 19 —Gene Tunney, only an American tourist now, but a former world's heavyweight champion, today predicted Max Baer would be successful in defense of his title against James Braddock in June.

To be more precise, as Tunney likes to be, he "doubts" Braddock will win over Baer.

Willard Says He Can Defeat Baer

(International News Service)

ATLANTIC, Ia., April 19.—Jess Willard, 47, and possessor of a plump girth, says he wants to fight Max Baer for the world's heavyweight championship the veteran relinquished to Jack Dempsey back in 1919.

"If I can't whip a clown like Baer I'll never admit I was a fighter," the former champion declared.

FINDS SELF OUT

(International News Service)

WORCESTER, Mass.—When politicians disagree with each other it's not unusual, but when a politician disagrees with himself—that's news At a meeting of the common council, Councillor Roy G. A. Patterson made a motion. When a vote was ordered on it, Patterson voted against it, explaining he was convinced his own motion was wrong.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

While members of Primo Carnera's retinue continuued to poohpooh the homicidal abilities of Joe Louis, the Detroit bomber, the huge Latin indicated clearly at New York yesterday that he does not share their optimism. Bill Duffy, who for a long time looked after Carnera's U. S. interests and will be with him when Primo enters the ring the big Venetian intends to begin rigorous training for a stiff bout. He declared that he is not affaid of Louis but that he respects the dark threat from Michigan. They are docketed to fight June 25, at New York.

Eddie Zivic will get an opportunity for topnotch bouts when he opposes Tony Canzoneri at Pittsburgh, next Thursday. Canzoneri has been matched with Lou Ambers for a bout in New York and should Zivic happen to get past Tony, which few believe he will, Zivic would be thrust into the limelight and lucrative bouts would come immediately.

Max Baer will show his stuff in Cleveland April 23, it was announced today. His opponent will be Eddie Simms. . . . Wilmer Allison beat Hal Surface 6-4, 6-3 and Gilbert Hall defeated Archie Henderson, 6-0, 6-4, 2-6, 6-2 in the North-South net tourney at Pinehurst yesterday and will meet in the final today. . . . Haig's Dapper, owned by Dr. L. G. Hagmeier, Preston, Ont., won the 15 inch dog class of the Futurity stakes final in the trials of the International Beagle federation at Columbus, O.

IF SOLDIERS LOSE SHIRTS, HERE'S MORE

POTTSVILLE, Pa., April 19.—(International News Service)—Three plants of a large factory in Schuylkill county are rapidly completing the largest peace-time order for army shirts. A total of 1,248,000 soldiers' shirts has been manufactured since the first of the year by the plants which are situated in Pottsville, Minersville and Mahanoy City.

Mahoning Posts Franchise Sum

Compliance With Ultimatum Shows They Will Be In County Loop

TIN MILL TEAM CANNOT GET GROUND

Vice President William G. Andrews of the Lawrence County Baseball league announced today that Mahoning A. A. having complied with an ultimatum issued as a result of a managerial vote recently will hold a franchise in the Lawrence county loop this season. Nick Cangie, manager of Mahoning A. A., posted the remainder of the money required for a franchise Thursday.

According to Cangie, he expects Mahoning to have a strong team and spring training will start soon.

It may turn out that the Tin mills may not be represented in the loop, not because they do not want to be, but because they cannot meet with the financial requirements of the owners of Centennial Field. The rental is considered too stiff.

There is no other baseball diamond that the Tin workers can get it is reported. For a time it was believed that Dean park might prove suitable but it was reported yesterday that while the plat is large enough for mushball games it is not big enough for a regulation baseball field.

The managers of the Lawrence loop will met again Monday when they will hear from Lou Glitch, head of the Umpires association and also give attention to the schedule which will be prepared by Jim Martin, manager of Bessemer.

GETTING THE GOLD

BOSTON—The country may be off the gold standard, but people still insist on gold teeth, fillings and crowns, Dr. Paul H. Karcher told the Massachusetts Dental Hygienists' Association at their meeting.

Legal—News—April 19.

Ribbon is going to be of termendous importance this season. It's being used in the form of bows of cire or grosgrain under the brims of bonnets. And some of the bonnets are finished with streamers tying under chin. However, a few bows are more practical. In some of the newer models of off-face hats which are worn back on the head, ribbon is posed across the hair in front of the upturned brim.

Nobody need starve. New Deal professors can't make the sea fish quit producing so much.

Rotary Hears About Foreign Countries At Weekly Meeting

Several Club Members Tell Interesting Things Of Other Countries

ELLWOOD CITY, April 19—The Rotarians met for their weekly conclave about the tables in the dining room of the First Presbyterian church last evening. President "Jim" Porter looked tall and worried over several absences, but regained his usual happy demeanor upon assurances from Secretary Lowell Monroe that the absentees were already reporting their "makeups."

The Club gave hearty support to the request from the Chamber of Commerce for a joint meeting of the clubs on Tuesday, May 7. All parliamentary procedure being concluded with neat despatch under the firm gavel of the president, the meeting was turned over to "Milt" Bicket impressario with his group of foreign countries.

Several weeks ago Mr. Bicket assigned certain members of the club the task of preparing a short travelogue of different countries. When the time came for presenting the program a number of the assignments could not be discovered. A few, however, not so skillful in dissembling admitted their parts, and presented an interesting program.

Mr. W. H. Goehring gave an interesting talk on Canada, recommending it very highly as a place for a wedding trip. The Rotarians seemed to evince more interest when he told how good the fishing was. Mr. W. L. Branch stepped to the fore as an after dinner speaker with a neat address on France. One of the high points was his showing how France was separated from neighboring nations by natural boundaries such as rivers, mountain ranges and arms of the sea. Though less in extent than Texas, France has a population of some 40,000,000. Mr. J. W. Humphrey had the third talk, on Italy, dwelling especially upon the contributions from Italy in the reals of arts and religion.

MARY POLLOCK CLASS SELECTS OFFICERS

ELLWOOD CITY, April 19.—Mrs. Emil Boots proved to be a pleasing hostess last evening when she opened her home at Wurtemburg to members of the Mary Pollock Bible class of the Wurtemburg M. E. church who assembled for the regular meeting wtih 20 members participating.

The devotional period was conducted by Mrs. John Boots. An election of officers to serve for one year was held with the following results: President, Mrs. Edward Workley; vice president, Mrs. Harry Ketterer; secretary, Mrs. Harper; treasurer, Mrs. Van Kashner; teacher, Mrs. A. M. Doak, and assistant, Mrs. George Koach.

An enjoyable social period followed with games and contests holding the attention of everyone. At an appropriate time a tempting luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Ella Wimer and Mrs. Harper.

The next meeting will take place on Friday, May 17, with the meeting place to be later announced.

MEETING HELD BY O. N. T. CLUB HERE

ELLWOOD CITY, April 19—Mrs. Earl Duncan entertained the members of the O. N. T. Club last Wednesday evening at her home on Spring avenue.

Two tables of 500 were in play during the evening. Prizes at the close went to Mrs. Mattie Sloan, Mrs. Charles Anderson, and Mrs. R. L. White.

The hostess served an appetizing luncheon at a later hour with the assistance of her daughter, Eva Mae. The club will meet on May 2, at the home of Mrs. C. E. Anderson, on Fountain avenue.

CO-ED POSSESSES SOCIAL GRACES

Pauline Butte

Pauline Butte, freshman of Mary Hardin-Baylor college at Belton, Tex., is selected by fellow students as one of 16 girls possessing poise, culture, charm and ability. Her picture will adorn the college year book. Pauline, when at home, acts as hostess for her father, Chief Justice George C. Butte, in the Philippine islands.

I. O. O. F. Meeting Here Last Night

Past Grand Association Of County Meets In Ellwood City Thursday

ELLWOOD CITY, April 19—Past Grand Association of Lawrence County I. O. O. F. met last night in the local hall on Lawrence avenue with an excellent turnout present.

They were entertained with a short musical program by Mr. Baier, Mr. Fisk, Joe Qantz and Jimmie Beatrice. Also with some dance numbers by a team of Nick and Mike Mudrick. John Cunningham rendered a few selections on his guitar.

At the close of the Past Grands meeting a luncheon was served by a committee, after which a game of dart ball was played by a team of Past Grands from Ellwood and a team from New Caste. The local team won 1-0. The local lodge will meet again on next Thursday.

MRS. CARRIE AIKEN HOSTESS TO CLUB

ELLWOOD CITY, April 19.—Mrs. Carrie Aiken delightfully entertained the members of the 1932 Kensington club Thursday afternoon at her home on Fourth street. There were seven members and 13 guests present.

Those present witnessed an interesting demonstration by Mrs. McCleary of New Castle and Mrs. Thomas Lee of this city. The remainder of the day was spent in fancy work, sewing, and social chat.

A dainty luncheon was served by the hostess at a later hour. The club will meet again on the third Thursday in May at the home of Mrs. Dave Evans on Crescent avenue.

MRS. MARBURGER IS CLUB HOSTESS

ELLWOOD CITY, April 19.—Mrs. Dale Marburger proved to be a pleasing hostess last evening when she opened her home on Hazel avenue to members of the N. O. N. club who gathered for the regular April meeting. Mrs. Albert Kellar, Mrs. Glenn Gallaher and Miss Thelma Marburger were special guests.

Two tables of 500 were in play during the evening and the prizes were awarded to Mrs. Edward Butler and Miss Thelma Marburger. The hostess served a tempting luncheon.

The group will be entertained again on Thursday evening, May 9, at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Badger on Hazel avenue.

Boy Gets Broken Leg In Accident

Don Boydell, 7, In Local Hospital With Painful Injury From Auto Accident

ELLWOOD CITY, April 19—Don Boydell, aged 7, is in the Ellwood City hospital with a broken left leg and lacerations to the head as a result of being struck by a car driven by G. M. Pierece of Ellwood City, R. D. 3.

The accident occurred near the North Star school on the Zelienople road according to a report filed at the local police station. Pierce was traveling in the direction of this city, when suddenly a boy in a small wagon came out of a driveway directly into the path of his car. This happened so suddenly that Pierce was unable to avoid the accident. The lad in the wagon was struck with the right front wheel. He was immediately taken to the local hospital by the driver.

GIVES ADDRESS

ELLWOOD CITY, April 19.—Rev. W. E. Minteer, pastor of the local U. P. church, rendered an address at Pleasant Grove Thursday evening.

Territorial Change

Big Bolivia and little Paraguay are likely to reverse positions in size, with Paraguay extending its successful recapture of long disputed Chaco region to conquest of Beni and Santa Cruz departments, or states, of Bolivia. Territory of President Jose Luis Tejada Sorzano (top), Bolivian president, would shrink, and that of Dr. Eusebio Ayala (below), Paraguayan president, expand.

Reel Cinderella

From 5- and 10-cent store salesgirl to Hollywood feature roles is the jump made in a few months by Helen Erickson, 20, of Worcester, Mass. She quit store job to try luck on Broadway. Movie scout saw her in a theatre and signed her for Warner Brothers' contract. (Central Press)

Enforce collective bargaining? Well, the law can force men to trade horses, but how can it force them to agree?

Take a wild radical and give him the responsibility of running things and you have a conservative.

Employment And Payrolls Grow

March Figures Show Best Month Since Low Point Of Depression In 1933

GAINS SHOWN IN LAST THREE MONTHS

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 19.—Industrial employment and payrolls were higher during March than for any month since the depression low point two years ago, according to statistics revealed today by the Department of Labor.

The most favorable indications of improvement were noted in the durable goods industries which showed an improved index of 2.2 in March as compared with February. Payrolls in this group were up 3.6 for the same comparative period. This was the third successive monthly gain in this category.

Employment in all industries during March was 82.4 per cent of the 1923-25 average, while payrolls were 70.8 per cent.

Kid Sister Of Famous "Muggs McGinnis" Comic Strip Hero Proudly Presents Some New Items In Her Wardrobe

OF COURSE, we wouldn't forget pretty little Mary Jo, Muggs McGinnis' sister, in this series of cut-out dolls! Mary Jo has lots of friends who like her antics in The News strip, "Muggs McGinnis"

Here we have two dandy new hats for Mary Jo. Try them on her and see which you like the best. We think they are both cute.
